

Silverton Opera House Purchased By Eastern Men

Silverton, Or., Apr. 19.—A real estate deal was consummated last evening which involves more money than any that has been made in Silverton for a number of years. The Silverton opera house, owned by Mayor L. J. Adams, was sold, according to reports, to T. H. Humes and J. G. Gilbert, who arrived here from Pennsylvania a few days ago. Both men were formerly engaged in the motion picture show business, and it is understood that they will remodel the building and put in a first class motion picture show equipment.

The opera house was built by Ex-senator Adams and E. L. Porter in 1894. A few years later Mr. Adams purchased Porter's interest and has since owned the property. Besides the auditorium room, which has a seating capacity of approximately six hundred, the building contains a hall occupied by the Modern Woodmen of America, a hall occupied by the military company for an armory, and on the lower floor is a pool hall, barber shop, confectionery store, cleaning and pressing establishment, two dry offices and the law office occupied by Mr. Adams. The rent derived from the property aside from the opera house, amounts to over $250 per month. The property sold for $29,000, it is said, and Messrs. Humes & Gilbert have made a good investment. They will take possession tomorrow.

Turner Lays Plans For Chautauqua To Be Held In May

Turner, Or., Apr. 19.—According to plans made by the local chautauqua committee, the Ellison-White chautauqua will be held here May 26 to 30 inclusive. Arrangements have been made to hold the meetings in the tabernacle which is said to have a seating capacity of about 3000 people. It is said that Turner is one of the few small towns in Oregon that can provide a building sufficient to accommodate this great convention. Regardless of what the weather conditions may be, the meeting will be held on those dates and there will be room for all. The local committee made the usual guarantee required by the chautauqua company, but they have no fear about the result, as the coming meeting is already attracting much attention. Superintendent Knott will be here from Portland this afternoon and final arrangements for the campaign to sell tickets will be made. Even before tickets arrived applications have been received for season tickets.

Parent-Teachers Of Silverton To Send Delegates

Silverton, April 19.—Mrs. A. E. Wrightman of this city, president of the Marion county parent-teacher association, has called a meeting to be held in Salem May 8. A meeting of the parent-teacher association of Silverton will be held the day previous in the high school building to make plans for the county meeting. Speakers from Portland will be present. L. C. Eastman left last evening for Marshfield, being called there to take measurements for a large blow pipe job.

Julius Alm left yesterday on a journey to his old home in Norway. He will be absent several months. Work of changing locations of Geo. Custer's store and E. C. Olson's drug store commenced yesterday. They expect to be open for business by tomorrow night.

After having tried most everything imaginable to make a living, J. E. Hosmer is now in the merchandise business, having opened a store on Water street yesterday.

Independence Man Returns To Stay After Going East

Independence, Or., Apr. 19.—W. G. Grant and family, who moved to Tennessee a little more than a year ago, arrived in this city last evening and announced definitely that they have come to stay. Mr. Grant formerly worked for J. G. McIntosh as clerk in his grocery store. He thought he might find conditions better in his former home state and sold his property in Independence before going back to stay. One year was sufficient to convince him that there is no place like the Willamette valley.

The one hundred first anniversary of the Odd Fellows lodge was celebrated here last evening and a most enjoyable time is reported. Visitors from Portland, Salem, McMinnville and Dallas were present. A program was rendered and the big feature, as usual, was the supper.

A good roads meeting will be held here this evening to determine the direction of the proposed paved road. R. A. Booth of Portland will be the speaker.

W. J. Clark issued his last paper today from the Enterprise plant and the property will be turned over to his successor tomorrow.

New Buena Vista Ferry Installed

Buena Vista, Or., Apr. 19.—The steamer Gray Eagle brought a new ferry boat up the river from Independence a few days ago and the same has been put in service between here and the Marion county side of the Willamette. The old ferry was condemned and for a short time this spring there was no traffic over the river at this point. The roads on the east side are in bad condition at present and there is not likely to be much use for the ferry until some improvements have been made.

Stringtown Grows With Hop Industry

Buena Vista, Or., Apr. 19.—The population of Stringtown, a little hamlet on the east side of the Willamette river which derived its name from the stringing manner in which the little huts were constructed along the road for two or three miles, has increased its population of late to quite an extent. This was brought about by a revival of the hop industry. The population is largely composed of laboring people who work in the hop fields during the summer. New Hop yards have been made this year by the new population.
