lock, both well known to the tourist trade, come to Salem with the new management. Mr. Hunlock is favorably known here, having at one time worked with Mr. Miller at the Marion. Mr. Hunlock recently resigned his position as chief clerk at the Terminal hotel, San Francisco, in order to return to Salem. He will be in charge of the desk during the day shift. Mr. Blair assumes his duties as night clerk, Tuesday. He comes to Salem with Mr. Pierce and was on the Seward staff for several years.

Clyde Gardner will alternate as day clerk, working with Mr. Hunlock. Manager Pierce feels that Clerk Gardner should be given credit for his happy knack of making friends of the many guests who make the Marion their headquarters while in this city. Mr. Gardner has been with the Marion for several years.

Professor and Mrs. C. I. Lewis and children motored to Corvallis Sunday to spend the day with friends.

The matter of teachers salary increases in Salem's public schools will be discussed at a special meeting of the school board called for tonight at eight o'clock in the high school. The salary question was taken up at the last regular meeting of the board a week ago, and it was decided to hold a special session to consider this one phase of school problems alone.

Formerly at Seward

Mr. Pierce is setting into the hotel game in Salem after nine years as commander in chief at the Seward, Portland. He is well known to Salem travelers and many of this city's most prominent residents feel that by securing Mr. Pierce, the Marion hotel directorship is to be congratulated.

"We are here to see that the Marion keeps pace with the inevitable growth of the city," is the general manager's statement. "I am sure that Salem people are with us in making this the big 'home town' hotel. We are to be counted in on any movement that will put Salem to the fore. The best advertisement for a city is its leading hotelery. With the support of the home town, the truly big-hotel can accomplish wonders in entertainment of guests whose first impressions are made or marred by their reception. Without this support, the hotels lower its standard and the town suffers accordingly."

Former Portland Hotel Manager Is New Marion Head

With the assertion that A. N. (Al) Pierce, well known Portland hotel man, who succeeds Charles Miller as manager of the Marion hotel will place Salem on the map as one of the best hotel towns in the Pacific northwest, friends of the former proprietor of the Seward hotel, Portland, are predicting a good future for the Marion.

Mr. Pierce assumed his new charge Saturday morning when Charles Miller, who has successfully guided the destinies of the Marion for several years departed for Carson, Wash., where he has taken charge of the Government Springs hotel at that place.

Drowned Woman Ended Own Life Is Jury's Verdict

Astoria, Or., May 4.—A coroner's jury sitting at Seaside over the body of Mrs. Ruth Anderson, found on the beach near Tillamook Head last Sunday, found a verdict late yesterday that she had drowned herself. An autopsy, held provisionally, indicated drowning as the cause of death. Mrs. Anderson disappeared from her home in Portland last Friday, leaving a note indicating that she intended taking her life.

Few Grumble, Few Give When Army Solicitors Arrive

With solicitors in various parts of the city meeting with generous response, and with one-fifth of Salem quota of $5000 reported raised at two o'clock this afternoon, the Salvation Army campaign in both the city and county assumed an optimistic aspect today. Only a part of the solicitors were able to begin active campaigning Monday when the drive began here and they lent their weight to the movement today, causing a material gain in subscriptions.

Invariably committees are reporting at campaign headquarters in the Commercial club that persons of means in the city are slamming the door in their faces, while those less capable of giving are doing all in their power to assist the organization.

One of the strongest arguments in favor of the campaign, that has yet come to light during the first fortnight is that the American Legion members in Woodburn, Silverton and surrounding towns in the county, appreciative of the work of the Salvation Army "over there," are taking entire responsibility for the campaign.
