

Mill Output Is Fast Returning To Normal Cut

Lumber manufacturers of the Pacific northwest are continuing their operations on a high standard of production.

The output of 115 mills reporting to the West Coast Lumbermen's association last week was $1,711,830 feet which was only 1,243,170 feet or 1.50 percent short of normal. For the last two or three months the mills in western Washington and western Oregon have been producing approximately their full normal capacity of lumber.

So far as volume of production is concerned, the west coast mills are maintaining a much higher standard this year than they did a year ago. Records just compiled by the association show that the cut at 103 mills for the month of April, 1920, aggregated 321,510,702 feet, compared with 246,858,789 feet for the same identical mills in April 1919.

Car conditions are reflected by the report of cut and shipments for April at 126 mills in the two states. While the cut aggregated 359,651,332 feet the shipments were only 274,597,341 feet, which was 85,053,991 feet or 23.83 percent below the cut.

At the same time the mills have a large volume of unfilled car orders on their books. At the 115 mills containing this week's report the balance of unshipped orders was 8513 cars, or 255,390,000 feet. Shipments for the week were 2064 cars or 61,328,000 feet, while new rail business accepted was 1034 cars or 49,020,000 feet.

Export business accepted during the week reached a total of $4,482,600 feet, bringing the balance of unshipped export orders up to 72,106,860 feet.

Total orders of all kinds were 66,191,287 feet.

Auto Is Result Of World Wide Need States Delano

"The automobile is the result of a world wide need for transportation," says F. G. Delano, local dealer in Chevrolet passenger and commercial cars.

"Twenty years ago an unlimited market waited for an improved means of transportation. But it took constant and untiring effort to prove to the public that the automobile was the right vehicle to supply this demand.

"Now everyone knows what the motor car has accomplished. They know how it benefits the individual, and the country.

"They know how it eliminates distance. They have experienced the direct and convenient communication it affords between widely separated points. The demand for this improved transportation is greater than ever.

"The number of people who feel the need for automobiles is increasing every day. In addition to this actual need, almost everyone has a personal desire to own a car.

"Today it is no longer a question of whether an automobile will benefit its owner. It is a matter of how the most satisfactory motor transportation can be secured for the least cost.

"This question is being solved by the great majority by the medium weight car of today—the product of experience.

"Mechanically dependable, completely equipped and as economical to maintain as to buy, it is efficiently serving the need for which it was created."

Chicago Man works Out Plan For Aid Of Boys By "Hotel"

Chicago—The stray boy who for dinner flattens his nose against the livery window and who at night sleeps with grown up tramps in the park or in the back alley shed, will come upon better days if the plan of George W. Brown of Chicago works out.

A hotel for boys, to be operated so far as feasible by boys, and fitted up in a way to attract the youngster who finds himself in vast Chicago temporarily or permanently without a home, is the idea of Mr. Brown, who for a decade, has given most of his time to volunteer work among homeless boys.

The work has brought him in touch with juvenile court officials in many cities and he has enlisted their support in his efforts to obtain a "transient hotel for boys" between the ages of 14 and 17. Joseph Tumulty, the president's secretary, a schoolmate of Mr. Brown, has lent his aid to some of Mr. Brown's boy betterment schemes.

these boys in my own home until jobs and recurrent pay days lifted them off the rocks, and I know what even a few days of decent surroundings can do for them.

"The large and properly conducted hotel for which we are working, and which will not be a 'Boys home,' will be equipped to do for thousands and thousands of kids what my feeble efforts have accomplished for a few hundred."

Business Men Of South America Favors Utilities

London.—Increased table facilities and the establishment of regular, fast passenger and freight services between New York and other points along the American coast down to Buenos Aires are two of the most important matters to which North and South Americans should give their attention, Edwin V. Morgan, United States ambassador to Brazil, told the Associated Press representative here on the eve of his departure for Rio de Janeiro.

"Business men in the United States find they are greatly handicapped in the conduct of their South American interests through the inadequacy of direct cable and steamship facilities," said Mr. Morgan. "There has been much discussion of this matter and happily, some improvement has been effected and others are now under way. But North American business men still regard with trepidation a voyage from New York to Rio. And he has somewhat the same fears over sending goods by the same route. British, Italian, French and Dutch companies have always provided more speedy, convenient and regular ocean transport facilities than those of the North or South American lines. "The need is not for services better than those provided from this side, but for services equally as good. The matter is of sufficient importance to require the finding of a solution of difficulties now in the way."

Ambassador Morgan preaches a gospel of "get together" to Americans and Englishmen who have South American holdings.

ANOTHER NURSE PRAISES TANLAC

Mrs. Alice Minnick, who has been a professional nurse for thirty six years and resides at 1815 Twenty third ave., Seattle, Wash., adds her voice to the hundreds of others in this profession who have already endorsed Tanlac.

"Since I began taking Tanlac I have not only gained twenty pounds in weight, but for the first time in sixteen years I am free of pain and enjoying good health," stated Mrs. Minnick. "I constantly had cramping, gnawing pains in my stomach all these years, my appetite was extremely poor and the little I did eat caused me great distress. After every meal my food began to ferment and sour almost at once. I would bloat up with gas and those terrible pains would get so bad I could hardly stand them. I became badly rundown, lost weight and strength, and felt so tired and worn-out all the time I could hardly get around. I had pains in every part of my body just about all the time, but they were especially bad in the small of my back. I also suffered with severe headaches and dizzy spells, and my nerves were so badly upset I could get but little sleep, often lying awake all night long.

"I had heard so much of the good Tanlac was doing others I decided to try it myself, and it proved to be the very thing I needed. I began to improve right away. It was only a few days before my appetite returned and I can now eat anything I want without having a particle of trouble afterwards. Those terrible gnawing pains that had troubled me so many years have entirely disappeared. I never have a headache or become dizzy, and the pains that were throughout my body have all gone. In fact, my whole system has been built up by Tanlac. I have regained my strength so I can do my work as a nurse, which keeps me on my feet for hours, day and night, without a particle of trouble. Several of my patients have taken Tanlac, and it has proven beneficial in every case. After what Tanlac has done for me I can never say enough for it."

Tanlac is sold in Salem by Tyler's drug store and leading druggists in other towns. (Adv)
