Truck Caravan to Enter and Parade in Salem Tonight

From the slow rickety ox-drawn wagon to the swift sturdy motor truck seems a long way.

Monday morning at 8:30 a. m. through the main streets of Portland some thirty of these modern commercial vehicles paraded, starting on a demonstration journey of transportation education and to bring forcibly to the people of Oregon the business economy of good roads and the wisdom of voting "302—YES."

The army, the navy and the marine corps are interested in the truck caravan, and are represented therein. The army has one of the largest portable searchlights in the world, in the commercial train, it weighs over two tons, mounted on a special six and a half ton truck. The fifteen million candle-power ray will be flashed along the line, announcing in the sky at night the approach of the heavily laden modern country to city short haul train.

The navy will exhibit a perfect model scale of the type 212 foot destroyer, and the marines will entertain in their usual "peptomist" manner.

Mayor Baker of Portland started the truck caravan off, sending a word about trucks, good roads and modern transportation to Mayor Wilson of Salem.

The caravan will pass through Salem in the evening, parading through the main streets of the city. It will depart for Eugene Tuesday morning.

Admission that Mexico is "a troublesome neighbor" and a plea that the world "have a little patience and wait a trifle longer," are contained in a statement to the American people by Salvador Alvarado, provisional minister of finance for the revolution.

Elks Contract For Convention Decorations

Roy A. Flisk was awarded the contract for decorating the streets of Salem for the Elks state convention to be held here July 22, 23, 24, at a special meeting of lodge 318 Friday evening. The sum agreed upon was $300.

The buildings to be decorated are the Elks temple, front and interior; armory, interior and exterior and the interior of the pavilion that is to be used for boxing at the fair grounds.

The streets named in the contract are: Commercial street from Ferry to Chemekeeta, two blocks, using 10 units Liberty street from Ferry to the Elks temple, two and a half blocks, using 12 units. High street, Chemekeeta to interurban station, two and one-half blocks, using 10 units. Ferry street from Liberty to Commercial, one block, six units. State street from Front to High, three blocks, using 15 units. Court street, from High to Commercial, two blocks, using 10 units. This totals 13 blocks, using 63 units. Each unit will consist of two 5x8, two 4x6 and two 3x5 alternating U. S. flags, red white and blue pieces, pennants and elk head banners, with the exception of the two units in front of the interurban station, which, because of the narrow street will consist of only five pieces to the unit.

The street decorations are to be hung on the span wires on the streets that have car lines and on ropes or wires on those that have not. All decorations are to be in place on or before July 22.

It is supposed that the merchants of the city will have their store fronts and windows decorated during the convention as the event is considered one of the biggest and most important ever held in the capital city.

Western Mexico Drained Of Sugar For Frisco Wants

San Francisco—The prevailing high price of sugar in the United States is attracting sugar in large quantities from western Mexico to San Francisco, according to Victor Patron, a former Mazatlan merchant now in business in San Francisco, who reports that several thousand bags have arrived here recently by steamer from the states of Sinaloa and Navariti. This is the first time in several years that there has been sugar exported to California, Patron said. Sinaloa has four refineries, two of them owned by American interests, while the Navariti refinery is controlled by Spanish capital, he said.

Unfavorable weather conditions cut down an expected yield of 1,000,000 boxes of tomato in Sinaloa to quarter that amount, according to Patron, but the tomato crop is still so much larger than that of last year that considerable exportation to the United States is expected this year, he said.

Six Highway Jobs To Be Contracted

Consideration of contracts on highway work will be limited at the meeting of the state highway commission in Portland, June 1, to six small jobs in Clatsop, Gilliam, Jackson, Malheur, Umatilla and Union counties, according to notice sent to contractors Monday.

The Umatilla and Union county jobs are county contracts; the Malheur job is a post road involving federal aid while the work under consideration in the other three counties are small jobs which have been promised for some time.

Under a policy announced by the commission several days ago no further highway contracts of any consequence will be considered until the bond market has recovered from its present depression.

tion for which was received here Monday morning from the interstate commerce commission. The commission was not in a position to state just what their course would be Monday morning except to say that they would have adequate representation at both the Chicago conference previous to the hearing on the rate cases and at the hearing in Washington on May 24. Both Chairman Buchtel and Commissioner Williams deplored the short notice of the rate hearings given by the interstate commission which precludes the possibility of any length defense but stated that they would make the most of the time available in combating the requested increase of approximately 24 per cent over present freight rates in western territory. Commissioners Buchtel and Williams will go to Portland this afternoon to confer with various interest relative to the course to be pursued in protesting the proposed increase.

More State Bonds To Be Sold In June

Another $1,500,000 issue of Beane-Barratt bonds will be offered for sale by the state board of control on June 15, according to R. B. Goodin, secretary of the board. This issue is the balance of the $2,500,000 requested by the late highway commission in resolutions presented to the board several weeks ago, and of which $1,000,000 worth was sold last week at $7.92.

Members of the board are hopeful of a strengthening of the bond market before the date of the forthcoming sale, although in view of the urgency of the situation it is probable that the issue will be sold at the highest bid regardless of the condition of the market at that time.

The bonds in the recent $1,000,000 issue were received here this morning and are now being signed by Governor Oiest and State Treasurer Hoff preparatory to their delivery to the Lumbermen's Trust company at Portland.
