"Kidnapper" Divorce Case Has New Factor

In the divorce proceedings of Catherine Hill against Edward L. Hill, a supplemental complaint has been filed by Mrs. Hill, who charges that since filing her divorce suit her husband has in some way succeeded in estranging her daughter, Marvel, 14, from her.

December 31, 1913, Mr. Hill is alleged to have "kidnaped" the girl from her mother and to have placed her in a religious school in this city. Mrs. Hill claims that the little girl has been made a social outcast by being allowed to disown her mother. The plaintiff claims further that Hill has stated that the courts will support him in his procedure and that he will soon have the entire custody of the child.

Mrs. Hill asks that in pendency of the divorce litigation that the little girl be placed in the care of a reputable woman who would teach her to love and respect both her father and mother. The court is also asked to prevent Mr. Hill from disposing of certain property and leaving the state with the child.

Argument Against Rate Rise Rushed

With no prospect for an extension of the time set by the Interstate Commerce commission for a hearing on the application of the railroad companies for an increase in freight rates the Oregon public service commission is bending every energy in preparation of data with which to back their protest against the requested increase as it affects the western territory.

The increase proposed for western territory as compared with that proposed for eastern and southern territory is entirely inequitable, according to Fred A. William, member of the commission, who will leave Friday or Saturday for Washington, D. C., to represent the Oregon commission at the hearing and to enter a protest along with commissioners from other western states.

California Safety Standards Seen

C. H. Gram, state labor commissioner, and William A. Marshall, chairman of the state industrial accident commission, returned Wednesday morning from San Francisco, Cal., where they had gone to make a first hand study of California's safety standards and the administration of the law governing the regulation in that state.

The Oregon code of safety standards, authorized by act of the last legislature, has not yet been drafted but will be within a short time, according to Mr. Marshall whose commission is entrusted with the framing of these regulations whose enforcement is placed in the hands of the state labor commissioner.

Miss Ella Smith was a visitor in Albany Wednesday spending the day with friends in that city.

Mrs. W. B. Washburn of Albany is in Salem as the guest of friends. Mrs. Washburn plans to remain in the capital city for several days.

Ford Purchased At "Bargain" Found As Stolen Vehicle

Thursday morning, Frank Novak of Brooks paid $225 for a Ford car. The purchase was made from an affable stranger whose convincing manner carried the deal. Later in the morning, Mr. Novak became suspicious and phoned the state license department, soon receiving the information that the car was registered under the property list of the Armour company of Portland.

Immediate efforts were made by Mr. Novak to stop payment on the check he had tendered the supposed owner of the machine, but the stranger was about 15 minutes ahead of the warning had cashed the check in this city and had disappeared.

Sheriff W. I. Needham and deputies scoured the city and sent out apprehension messages to officers of all nearby towns, but at a late hour Thursday, the stranger had not been located. The car is one of number of machines stolen recently from the Rose City.

The vendor of the stolen machine is described as follows: dark suit; dark overcoat with belt; black shoes; carried a small suit case of dark tanned leather.

Midnight Raid On Turner Store Nets Haul To Burglars

Two midnight marauders entered the I. R. Robertson store at Turner, Oregon, Wednesday night and secured shoes and various merchandise in sufficient quantities to start a small store.

The robbery was reported Friday morning to Sheriff W. I. Needham. After raiding the Robertson store the thieves attempted to break into the Moore Brother's store but were repelled away when the efforts to force an entrance awoke Frank Moore, who was sleeping in the store. Mr. Moore's dog was also in the building and gave the first alarm. The storeman hurried to the street but only in time to see the two men driving away in a car.

Each man of the pair is described as being heavy set. Among the goods stolen from the Robertson store were 10 pair Nichoff high shoes; 15 pair Nichoff low shoes; one dozen pearl handled knives; one dozen fountain pens; 10 watches; 61 pair of overalls and pants, khaki, dark, blue, and gray; 1000 each Camel and Lucky Strike cigarettes; 15 boxes of cigars.

Planes Pass Over City Going South

Two airplanes from the Oregon, Washington & Idaho Airplane company's field at Portland, passed over Salem Thursday en route to Eugene and Roseburg where they will participate in the air celebration at Eugene and in the Strawberry Carnival at Roseburg later.

One of the planes, a JN4, landed on the Webfoot Aircraft company field north of Salem and took on gas and oil. It bore George F. Emery, special representative of the company. The other plane, an Oriole, passed over the city without stopping.

Hawley Divorce Suit Appeal Is Filed Wednesday

Formal appeal from the decree of the Clackamas county circuit court in the divorce suit brought by Marjorie Hawley against Willard Hawley of Oregon City was filed with the supreme court here Wednesday by attorneys for Mrs. Hawley.

The appeal is accompanied by three volumes of testimony taken during the trial of the suit in the lower court, comprising a total of 1442 typewritten pages, all highly "spicy" and much of it altogether unprintable. A large and miscellaneous collection of exhibits, including love letters and a night shirt, is also filed for record as well as numerous depositions.

The appeal prays for an order and decree of the court requiring Willard Hawley to pay to Majorie Hawley $5000 as temporary alimony, $500 as suit money for the expenses and costs of prosecution; $15,000 as attorneys' fees; 250 shares of stock in the Hawley Pulp & Paper company or $110,000 in lieu thereof; one-third interest in several property and household goods or $12,000 in lieu thereof, and $250 a month for the care and support of their minor child, of which Mrs. Hawley also seeks the custody.

MARTIN SUPPORTED GOOD ROADS

I wish to state to the voters that I voted for every road measure which was introduced during the sessions of which I was a member.

I did not approve of the emergency clause yet voted for each bond issue as it was impossible to eliminate the emergency clause.

I did advocate during the 1913 session that the state should submit the specifications of the type of road approved by the commission and ask for competitive bids on these specifications—otherwise how can we say we have real competitive bidding?

My opponents contended that the state should permit the various contractors to make their own specifications and the commission could choose the best. This is the only item in which I opposed the committee and this was in the manner of procedure.

I submit the question as to whether or not I was consistent to you. My ballot number is 72 X.

Soldiers Having Disability Claims Should Register

All soldiers having any form of disability incurred while in the service, which is not sufficiently marked to entitle them to compensation, should receive a certificate from the government, showing that such disability has been incurred.

After July 1, ex-service men cannot apply for compensation unless such certificate has been granted by the government. Hence, all men are urged to send in to Washington, the information that they were injured in some way, and may later, claim the right to compensation.

FOOLING WITH HEALTH SERIOUS

I have frequently asked druggists "What do you push in a blood medicine?" The answer usually came, "The kind I can make the most money on." My answer has always been: "Not me." I have succeeded pretty well and I have always recommended the one that I had found by experience to be the best, and the one that I would be willing to take myself or give to members of my own family. I have never offered the public a medicine that we do not use at home. This is why I can offer "Number 40 for the Blood" with a clear conscience. We have not only tried it on thousands of others, but on ourselves. We take it in all cases where a blood medicine is needed, no matter in what form it shows itself, and we get splendid results in constipation, kidney, stomach and liver troubles. J. C. Mendenhall, Evansville, Ind., 40 years a druggist. Mr. Richard Dickson, furniture dealer, 137 Forest St. Spartanburg, S. C., was troubled a great deal for several years with a breaking out that resembled erysipelas. Before we got the agency for Number 40 for the Blood, we sold him many kinds of blood remedies and compounds recommended for skin troubles. He got no permanent relief, however, until we got him started on Number 40. He took several bottles and was soon entirely relieved of the very disagreeable skin trouble, but he has not quit Number 40. He says he has found it the best liver medicine on the market, and will keep it on hand all the time and recommends it to his friends for a substitute for calomel. Todd Drug Co. ### Dependents Of Soldiers Get Aid

Funds contained in the $100,000 emergency appropriation voted by the 1913 session of the state legislature may be used for the support of dependents of Oregon ex-service men who may be incapacitated for work and under the jurisdiction of public authorities.

This is the gist of an opinion rendered by Attorney General Brown in reply to a query from F. W. Mulkey of Portland, chairman of the Soldiers' and Sailors' commission. The use of the fund in the case of Oregon ex-service men and their dependents is left entirely to the discretion of the commission. Brown said: Washington, May 20.—Reports for April decreased $135,000,000 while exports fell off $30,000,000, as compared with the trade figures of March. It was announced today by the department of commerce.
