Help One Another Club Has Work Out in This Cause

One hundred people, each willing to contribute $1.00 to a worthy cause, are needed.

Last December, W. R. Moses, a laborer, came to this city securing employment with the Spaulding Logging company. With his family he established a temporary home here and made efforts to free himself from financial difficulties in which much sickness in the family had placed him. There are three children, a girl of six years and two boys, Robert and Leonard, aged 10 and 8 years. The oldest boy was placed in a state institution for treatment, being a sufferer from the effects of a childhood accident.

Last week, after a brief illness, the husband and father died and the mother is only now beginning to recover from the resulting physical strain and mental shock. There was only $2.15 in cash, little food and limited clothing. The husband's relations reside in North Carolina and the wife's people reside in New York. They themselves are not wealthy people and any relief they can send will not be immediate.

A number of people have helped. The Spaulding company paid the expenses of a nurse; employees of the Spaulding mill and of the Oregon Pulp & Paper mill have raised a fund for Mrs. Moses; the trained nurse, herself turned a large portion of her pay to aid the stricken family; the county aided in burial and other means; flowers and clothing have been received; Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Eaton of the Leonard hotel have aided in many ways.

But it will be several days before Mrs. Moses is physically able to take up the burden of caring for herself and the two children.

Help is needed right now. One dollar from a hundred thoughtful people will tide this family over. Those interested can get in personal touch with the cause by inquiring at the Leonard hotel.

Long Residence In Idaho Is Not Proof Against Salem Lure

After waiting three months for an opening in the office listings in Salem, L. A. Hayford and his son, L. G. Hayford, both recently from Boise, Idaho, have taken a four year lease on the location formerly occupied by the Morris Optical company at 305 State street.

Under the name of Hayford & Hayford, the two men will conduct a reality and sales office after having had nearly 15 years experience in this line at Boise and Twin Falls, Idaho.

After 20 years' residence in Idaho, L. A. Hayford has decided that Salem is the ideal "home town" and has purchased the Judge Slater place at 449 Chemeketa street moving here with his family. Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Hayford plan to secure a home here until that time maintaining a residence at 477 Center street.

Camp Grounds Prove Worth To Travelers

The Salem camping grounds are being put into good shape by a crew of workmen. Friday, the plumbers were on the job and preparing to tap the city mains for the park's water supply.

Superintendent Albert reports that auto tourists who are gladly taking advantage of the stopping place, are more than grateful for the thoughtfulness shown by the Salem Commercial club and those behind the move.

G. C. Van Emberg of Aberdeen, Wash., stopped at the park, Thursday night, on a trip to southern California.

Another guest was G. E. Merrick of Los Angeles, Cal., who is making a loop trip of the United States. Mr. Merrick's car attracted a great deal of comment as it is virtually a vault in dwelling place. Among the car's handy features are a kitchenette, sleeping compartment and a handy receptacle for a folding table. Mr. Merrick

John Joins George And Hal; Beauty's Disease Incurable

With "White Beauty" safely, and apparently permanently, stowed away in the "hospital" at Eugene suffering an incurable malady, Hal and George acquiring another member to their party—John—have started on after the Ad Men's caravan, and will soon reach them, according to a letter received Friday from Hal. George is heartbroken, Hal writes, (but this is being soother for George by his meet-pretty Red Cross nurse.)

"We fully expected to fall in when the caravan left Eugene this morning but after a visit with the various mechanics at the different garages, they all pronounced the trouble with the White Beauty insurable. So we unpacked, prepared to return to our homes. In calling on my friend Prof. B. Coe, he asked me to go with him to call at his home. In telling of our troubles to good wife she suggested to her good husband it would "n-ace" if he would take Hal and George to join the caravan. In less than one hour we were on our way and now the team is George, Hal and John. We've been going some today, only 5 hours behind the crowd. We'll "ketch 'em" tomorrow night at Shasta Springs without lunch. The caravan is meeked with wonderful receptions and free meals, which we are missing, but of another day will bring us up with them. George was so heartbroken when the mechanics informed him the trip was off. He has made some wonderful acquaintances, especially the latest dispatch from the rear lines are good and the caravan is on schedule time. All well but dirty and hungry.

Seattle, Wash., May 21.—Thirty minutes after he had held up Max J. Willers, a general storekeeper at Georgetown, a suburb, in broad daylight today and robbed him of $1264, Matthew Riley, 37, was cornered and captured on the brink of a steep bluff by his victim, a posse of citizens and Patrolman A. F. Brewer. The money was all recovered. Riley is said to have confessed he was a laborer, "broke" and unemployed.

Willers was held up in his own garage as he was about to take his car to the bank to make a deposit. He notified the police and Brewer made prompt response, trailing the robber through the brush to the bluff and exchanging shots with him.

Hill Predicts $5 Wheat Soon

Seattle, Wash., May 21.—Five dollar wheat may be expected before the crop of 1921 is harvested, Louis W. Hill, chairman of the board of directors of the Great Northern railroad, said today on his arrival in Seattle from San Francisco.

"It isn't at all unreasonable to anticipate $5 wheat next winter or at any event at some time before the end of the coming crop year," said Mr. Hill. "Wheat is now quoted at $3.50 a bushel and it is well known that a crop shortage is in sight. It has been impossible for the farmers to get enough men to plant their crops and they will be hampered again because of lack of labor when the harvest begins. In some sections of the country weather conditions have been unfavorable."
