

Haney's Contest Without Expense

Bert E. Haney of Portland was a candidate as delegate to the democratic national convention without the expenditure of a cent, according to his financial statement filed with the secretary of state's office here Wednesday.

Other expense statements filed Wednesday were as follows:

F. D. Shanks, Damascus, republican for representative 14th district, $35.29; Manuel Friedly, Pendleton, democrat, for state representative, 23rd district, $16; Frank T. Wrightman, Salem, republican for delegate to national convention, $20.50; Charles K. Barton, contribution in behalf of Dow V. Walker, candidate for delegate to republican national convention, $131.97; E. J. Adams, Eugene, republican, for delegate to national convention, $26.50; A. E. Reaves, Medford, democrat, for representative 15th district, $15; Gus E. Erickson, Portland, republican, for state senator, 13th district, $30.30; Wilson T. Hume, Portland, republican, for state senator, 13th district, $10; S. P. Pierce, Seas, Or., republican, for representative, 6th district, $15; William H. Stone, Oregon City, republican, for representative, 16th district, $64.50; Burge E. Leonard, Portland, republican, for representative, 18th district, $29.37; T. A. Weinke, Condon, republican, for district attorney, Gilliam county, $20; Bert C. Boylan, Madras, democrat, for district attorney, Jefferson county, $20.10; L. G. Lewelling, Albany, republican, for district attorney, Linn county, nothing; Samuel E. Nelson, Heppner, republican for district attorney, Morrow county, $20.

day for every car spotted on their track.

Schultz & sons handle many carloads of produce during a year and it will be necessary for them to build more track soon. Yesterday they shipped out a carload of flour for Silverton and one for Portland. To show the superiority of their business, they received this week $5000 worth of paint in one shipment.

Sylvester Smith and his mother of St. Paul, visited at the home of P. N. Smith yesterday. Mr. Smith is a banker at St. Paul.

William Schmidt sold his farm two miles south of town yesterday to Jos. Burnt of Spaulding, Neb. Mr. Burnt recently purchased the Joseph Lux farm near here and sold it back to the original owner a few days ago. Lux, in the meantime, purchased the Peter Kumpus farm, and sold this a few days after the deal was closed.

Paul Fuchs was in Salem on business the fore part of the week. Mr. Fuchs is dealing in real estate and making many transfers this season.

From the election returns given Mt. Angel was strong for Johnson, having given him 96 more votes than they had registered. J. J. Keber received the full registered vote in his precinct, but Salem left him off the slate made up by business men and politicians and he failed in the nomination.

Sophomores Win Over Freshmen In Inter-Class Tennis

In the preliminary matches of the interclass tennis tournament at Willamette university, the sophomore team defeated the juniors, 3-6, 6-4, 6-1, and the seniors needed out the freshmen, 9-7, 2-6, 6-4. The two winning teams will play Thursday or Friday afternoon for the championship.

The sophomores, Moodie and Doney, who also happen to be the varsity doubles team, received a bad scare when Davies and McKittick, who represented the university in the doubles two years ago, took the first set 6-2. The match was up to the standard of inter-collegiate tennis and was well attended. The sophomores took a brace in the second and third sets and almost shut out the upperclassmen.

Austin and Doney represented the seniors and showed streaks of speedy tennis just often enough to win out. Alden and Collins were the freshmen team.

Polk County Residents Seek

Fuller the bill would have failed to pass. The measure was then submitted to the voters of the state, under referendum provisions contained in it, and in the vigorous campaign which ensued, your petitioners definitely understood that the approval of the act would place the three towns named on the Pacific highway, and voted with this understanding. The measure received the approval of the electorate, and was proclaimed to be a law. The state highway commission then adopted a route for the highway, running from Bellevue, in Yamhill county, through Ballston, Dallas, Monmouth and Independence, in Polk county, and a map showing this location was given out and published. Later, after changes in the personnel of the commission, this route was abandoned, the commission announcing that the road would be constructed from Amity by way of Holmes Gap, Rickreall and Monmouth to Corvallis, with a stub or spur, to Independence. Dallas would not be on the Pacific highway, but a post road, with the assistance of the federal government and Polk county, should be constructed from Dallas to Salem. Surveys were then made, and contracts let for the proposed Dallas-Salem post road and for disconnected stretches of the proposed Pacific highway.

Route Is Changed. "Recently the commission announced that the highway shall run south from Monmouth, and not by way of Independence, and has ordered the county court to prepare the road for paving. This the county court has refused to do on the ground that under the law Independence should be on the highway, and that the road should run south from Independence; in reprisal for which the commission asserts that it has cancelled the contract for the construction of so much of the Dallas-Salem post road as would lie between Dallas and Rickreall, and that it will use the funds available for that portion of the post road for the preparation of a road bed for the Pacific highway running south from Monmouth.

"If the commission is permitted to carry out this threat, the result will be, of course (1) that Dallas will not be on the highway, stub or otherwise, and (2) that Independence will be left on a spur.

"The officers and people of Polk county have endeavored to co-operate with the commission, and in numerous conferences have courteously insisted that the law be followed out, but have reluctantly been forced to the conclusion that the commission is indifferent to the wishes or welfare of the county and that further appeals to that body are useless. The undersigned resident citizens and voters of Polk county, therefore respectfully present this petition to your excellency and pray that you, as the chief executive of the state, whose duty it is to see that the laws are faithfully executed, take such action as may be necessary to compel the state highway commission to keep faith with the people of this county with respect to the construction of the Pacific highway through Dallas, Monmouth and Independence."

The petition is the result of a meeting of Independence and Dallas citizens held in Dallas last Friday and was prepared by Attorney Oscar Haxter of Dallas. The county court, and citizens of Dallas and Independence will fight this out to the bitter end and there is likely to be considerable interest growing out of the affray before the matter is settled.

The one discouraging feature in the case is that it will likely retard the progress of road construction to such an extent that little will be accomplished.

Graduates From Silvertown High To Present Play

Silvertown, May 27.—That the folks in and around Silvertown believe in a high school education is evidenced by the fact that the 1926 class of the Silvertown high school numbers thirty-two young men and women. This is the largest class known in the history of the school with but one exception. The class is composed of nineteen young men and thirteen young ladies. The class will present its annual play at the Palace theater Thursday evening, June 10, and the commencement exercises will take place in the school building the following evening.

Following is a list of those who will be presented with diplomas: Elam Amutz, Earl Bennett, John Gage, William Davenport, Knut Digerness, Chester Goplerud, Ronald Handley, Ernest Havernick, Brook Hammond, Clarence Harris, Clarence Harwood, Theodore Hobart, Lyle Johnson, Albert Larson, Russell McCullough, Alfred Olson, Clifford Rue, Mari Woods Arthur Towe, Cora Arlick, Jean Adame, Ruth Brokke, Esther Denzel, Gladys Hadley, Lola Jones, Edna Largent, Dagna Larsen, Dagna Lundquist, Dale Matheny, Loen Pooler, Gladys Whitlock and Marie Wilson.

Paving Siding At Mt. Angel Fails Of Consumption

Mt. Angel, Or., May 27.—The side track expected to be built by the South ern Pacific company from N. Schmaltz & Sons' warehouse to the paving plant did not materialize. Mr. Schmaltz agreed to pay $500 of the cost and the county would pay $500, but the company will not consent to build unless the entire cost is met by the persons to be benefited. The extension required would mean the construction of about three hundred feet of track and the company estimates the cost at $2500. On account of the company's failure to build the track they will have to pay Schmaltz & Sons $1 per
