The Sugar Situation

Every day people are asking us about the sugar situation and whether cheaper sugar can be expected during the canning season. Our only source of information is the market reports in the daily papers and such items we find in the grocery trade papers. Raw sugar in the New York market is quoted at $23.57 to which must be added $2.50 refining charge plus freight, cartage, wholesaler's and retailers' profit which will bring the price to the consumer to about 30c per pound. We have a limited supply of berry sugar which we are able to sell at $24.05 per sack.

After this lot is exhausted we have another lot which must be sold at $26.25 per sack. Each lot must be sold according to cost plus a small margin of profit.
