Sheriff Declares War On Unlicensed Polk County Dogs

Dallas, June 5.—Sheriff John W. Orr has issued a mandate to the people of Polk county that all dogs over the age of 8 months that are found without the state license tag on their collars will be killed at an early date. Mr. Orr says that many are evading the law and unless those who have not procured their license from the county clerk do so at once, he will have between four and five hundred to kill. Mr. Orr has special deputies appointed and will begin his crusade within ten days. The law required every owner of a dog over eight months old to get a license from the county clerk in January of each year. The licenses are $1 for male or spayed females and $2 for unspayed females. County Clerk Moore has only issued about 700 licenses to date. In order to procure a license the owner must give sex of dog, size of neck and name of voting precinct in which the owner lives.
