 Complaint is made by local post office officials that new firms establishing themselves in the city fail to leave their addresses at the office. This is an inexcusable oversight and a great inconvenience, as parcels coming c. o. d. have to be returned to the sender because of the fact that the firm into which they are sent is unknown at the office. New automobile accessory firms and electric fixture companies are among the principal offenders in this respect.

 Two new counterfeit bank notes are in circulation and the public is warned to be on the look out for them. One is a ten dollar federal reserve note on the federal reserve bank of Atlanta, Georgia. It has the check letter "B" and a portrait of Jackson. It is signed by John Burke, treasurer of the United States, and W. G. McAdoo, secretary of the treasury. The counterfeit is a very poor straight photographic note, the back being colored with green crayon pencil. The second note is for $5 on the First National bank of New York, has the check letter "L" and the portrait of Harrison. The signatures of J. V. Lyons, register of the treasury, and Ellis H. Roberts, treasurer, are on its face. The note is of the series of 1902. This is a fairly deceptive photo-mechanical counterfeit, printed on one piece of good grade bond paper, with red and blue ink lines to imitate the silk fibre threads of the genuine. The back of the note is very poor.

Mrs. C. D. Babcock and daughter, Miss Vera, are here from their home in Syracuse, New York, for a lengthy visit with Mrs. Babcock's sister, Mrs. T. H. Young, 172 South Cottage street. The visitor is a former resident of the Capital city and is well known here.

There is a parcel of books at the local post office waiting for the owner to claim it. The package is from France and is addressed to Mr. Carl Lundberg, post office box 3, Marion county, Oregon, U.
