Spanish Court Ceremony Revived

Madrid, Spain. — For the first time in several years, the old court ceremonial at which the wives of grandees will be presented to the queen, will occur Saturday evening.

Duchesses, countesses and marchionesses, newly created or who have inherited titles, will go to the palace in court dress each carrying a hassock upon which she will kneel before the queen and place her services at the monarch's disposal. Afterward the noblewomen will take turns in serving as lady in waiting on the queen.

State House Notes.

The application of the Central Oregon irrigation district for an increase in maintenance rates was dismissed by the public service commission in an order issued Wednesday morning. The dismissal is based on an opinion of Attorney General Brown to the effect that the irrigation district is not a public utility and not under the jurisdiction of the commission.

Recommendations for the enlargement of the heating plant at the state normal school and for increases in the salaries of several members of the normal faculty will be presented to the board of regents at their meeting in Monmouth Thursday, according to J. H. Ackerman, president of the normal school, who was here today in conference with the financial committee of the board of regents. It is not expected that financial conditions will permit consideration of a new dormitory building at this time, Ackerman stated, although such a building is badly needed and must be provided ultimately.

Oregon ranks third among the states of the union in per capita purchase of war saving stamps according to information received by J. A. Churchill, state superintendent of public instruction and state thrift director, today. Purchases of stamps for April averaged eight cents per capita and purchases for the year up to May 1 averaged 51 cents per capita Churchill's information shows. Thrift will be given an important part in the course for civics in the elementary schools of the state, hereafter, in an effort to establish right habits of saving in the boys and girls of the public schools, Churchill explains.

New Experiment Station at Turner Advances Flax Industry In Oregon

Turner, Or., June 18.—To further the flax interests of this community, W. J. Cunningham has leased a building from the Oregon Flax Fiber company for an experiment station and has forty acres of flax contracted for the experiment. Associated with him is Mrs. Lord of Portland, who was the instigator of the industry in Oregon.

If the experiment this year proves satisfactory, and Mr. Cunningham is confident that it will, others who are interested in the proposition will finance it to the extent of building a spinning mill in Turner next season. Just now he is installing the equipment necessary to handle the crop he has contracted. Mr. Cunningham has had many years' experience in the production and manufacture of flax in its various features, and he seems confident that he will be able to make a showing in the undertaking this year sufficient to interest capital which will promote the industry as it should be.

The Oregon Flax Fiber company, with Theodore Roth, president; Edward Schunke, secretary, and E. J. Hansett, manager, will continue in the business with unusual development, according to Mr. Hansett. Mr. Hansett has been continually engaged in the game for forty years and knows every feature of the industry from its production to the consumer in the manufactured product. The company has been in operation for a number of years, adding a little each season. It was started with only fifteen acres contracted and this year, said Mr. Hansett, "we will have over two hundred acres." They have purchased a new self binder and will cut all of the two hundred acres this season instead of pulling it, as has been the practice in former years. Mr. Hansett stated that they have the best equipped mill in the United States and have every equipment necessary to prepare the product for the market. What we need, said Mr. Hansett, is a stock company with sufficient capital back of it to build a linen mill. Help is a perplexing problem this year, also. While the industry has developed largely since it was established, there have been hindrances by one thing and another each year and at no time, have they been able to give it a fair trial. It is apparent, however, from the experience of the past, that the industry is a stock company with sufficient capital back of it to build a linen mill. Help is a perplexing problem this year, also. Miss Preparing For Mid-Season Repairs—Cut Big

In a final drive for production prior to the customary close down for mid-season repairs, the lumber industry last week operated up to within two per cent of normal, notwithstanding seasonable trade dullness, car shortage, and the banking policy of restricted credit.

Production at 125 association mills was 88,274,483 feet, which is only 1.88 per cent less than normal production for the operations reporting. Shipments totaled 78,371,708 feet, of which 51.84 per cent were shipments by water or locally by auto truck and not requiring cars.

Rail shipments amounted to 7414 cars or approximately 53,340,000 feet. Coastwise water shipments amounted to 13,246,559 feet; export shipments 7,916,410 feet; and local auto truck deliveries 3,774,739 feet.

New business amounted to 52,299,077 feet made up of 35,750,000 feet in the transcontinental rail trade; 2,988,705 feet in the local trade; 9,221,372 feet in the coastwise domestic trade, and 2,319,000 feet or overseas delivery.

The unshipped balance at the 125 mills participating in the report was 553,459,830 feet.

War Vet Pigeons To Fly 500 Mile Race From Salem

One hundred racing pigeons will be liberated from Salem next Saturday shortly before daylight for a 500 mile race to Oakland, Cal. It was learned today through correspondence received from the Pacific Homing Pigeon club of Oakland. Many of the birds used are parents and offspring of birds expressed by the government during the war.

The race, it is said, will be flown from Salem each year. Last season the handicap was won by J. T. McCray's long distance champion, "Drifted Snow," which arrived early on the morning following the day on which it was released.

If conditions are favorable it is believed that some of the birds will arrive in Oakland on the evening of the day they are released in Salem.

or Edward I. Edwards, a candidate for the presidential nomination on the democratic ticket, did not accompany the New Jersey delegates on their special train today for the democratic convention at San Francisco. Delegates said he would probably attend, however, if his official duties would permit his leaving in time. Plans were made for a number of stops during the trip.

Governor Edwards later announced that he expected to leave for San Francisco about the middle of next week.
