Socialists Will Reorganize Here

Attacking the presidential nominee of the republican party as a representative of the trusts, who are pledged to back his campaign, R. R. Ryan of Salem, temporary chairman, has issued a call to the socialists of Oregon to meet in this city July 4 to reorganize the old socialist party of the state.

In the call it is also predicted that the democrats will nominate another representative of Wall street at their San Francisco convention.

Everyone believing in public ownership of all public utilities in the interest of the common people, and co-operative management for the good of humanity is invited to attend the meeting, which will be held in Marion Square at 10 o'clock in the morning, says Mr. Ryan.

The old organization of the socialists was disbanded to make room for the communist labor party, and the failure of this latter organization has made necessary the revival of the socialist union, according to Mr. Ryan.

Rumanian Queen Shows Business Ability In Deal

Bucharest.—Queen Mary of Rumania displayed her business ability and her faith in her country by putting through an important deal in locomotives not long ago. The Rumanian railways were in sad need of the new engines. There were American, French and English agents here to sell locomotives but for money only. None of them had enough faith in Rumania to sell them for anything except for cold hard cash.

Then the president of an American concern who had been selling locomotives to Poland came to Rumania. An interview was arranged between him and the queen, who presented such a strong argument on the future of her country and its resources that the hard headed business American agreed to furnish locomotives and rolling stock and to take in payment Rumania's national bonds.

The queen believes in Rumania and she knows how to convince others because she has been over every foot of its ground. During the days that she was princess she travelled by train and by automobile and on horseback until she has come to know all of the resources of her country and a great many of its people.

Here is what she said to the Associated Press correspondent about her country: "The queen of a small country! Those who are accustomed to see rulers of a great land can little understand what it means. It means work and anxiety and hope, and a great tolling for small results. But the field is large and if the heart is willing, great is the work."

Girl Saves Own Life By Waving Sweater

Minneapolis.—Georgia Friedman 16 year old schoolgirl of Deephaven, a summer resort at Lake Minnetonka, recently saved her life by flagging a speeding trolley car with her red sweater after her foot caught in the "frog" of a switch.

The girl was on her way to school when the heel of her shoe jammed in the "frog" as she crossed the tracks. In face of the speeding car, which was coming towards her at a rate of 50 miles an hour, she tore off her red sweater and waved it as a danger signal.

The motorman stopped the car a few inches from the girl. When all was over and her foot freed from the rail, she collapsed.

Soldiers Fire On Petitioners; Massacre Result

New York.—Firing by soldiers commanded by British army officers upon a crowd of unarmed natives of India who were seeking to present to a British deputy commissioner a petition for the release of two of their leaders led a few days later to the massacre of 1,000 Indians trapped in a great square at Amritsar, in the Punjab district of India in the spring of 1919, says a report now made public by native investigators. The report was prepared by the Punjab sub-committee of the Indian National congress. In its preparation more than 1,700 witnesses were examined and depositions taken from survivors and relatives of the dead.

Dissatisfaction among the natives first became apparent, with the passage of the Rowlatt Hills designed to punish sedition.

All over the country resolutions were passed by huge mass meetings protesting against the law and demanding its repeal.

The trouble between natives and officials, the report states, began in earnest on the night of April 8, when two influential natives, Drs. Kitchlew and Satyapal, were arrested and their friends heard they were to be deported.

Word "Booze" Not Poor English Is Claim of Scientist

Cleveland.—"Booze" has had its ancient and honorable ancestry in the English language uncovered here recently by Prof. William H. Hulme of Western Reserve University.

Labeled for generations as an etymological outlaw and branded as such with quotation marks, Prof. Hulme finds "booze" has a pedigree longer than that of most kings. Its earliest spelling, according to Prof. Hulme, was "booke." Later writings show it was "boose" and finally "booze."

"Both as noun and verb the words, 'written bowse,' " Prof. Hulme said, "in middle English literature as far back as 1300, had the meaning 'to drink in excess.' About 1600 the word lost the honorable character it had and became a slang word. The particular 'boousing,' is recorded as early as 1529, and 'bouser' was used in English in 1611."
