Fish Calls on Business Men For Leadership

Responsibility for the solution of the problem of unrest which is gripping America today rests on the shoulders of the business men of the nation, according to E. B. Fish, newspaperer and chautauqua lecturer, who addressed the Salem Commercial club at its noonday luncheon today.

The great mass of the American public is absolutely sane and can be depended upon in a crisis, Fish declared. But against that great, unorganized and practically leaderless mass is a small, well organized, well financed minority which is capable of working its will against the unwieldy mass of the unorganized majority. The American business man through his commercial clubs, his chamber of commerce, his Rotary clubs and similar organizations must step into the breach with the leadership which the majority now lacks and which is necessary to the defeat of the organized minority—the I. W. W. and radicals of every description—and the ultimate return to normal conditions in this country.

Fish, who has been touring the south and west under the auspices of the Ellison & White chautauqua bureau, told the Salem business men that all that was needed at this time was a display of real red-blooded Americanism on the part of every citizen who believes in the institutions of this government in order to uproot the elements working toward the overthrow of this government. The American Legion, he declared, was doing more to put a crimp into radicalism than any other dozen organizations in the nation.

Failure to meet the radicals on their own ground was declared by Fish to be responsible for the firmness with which the doctrine of unrest had become rooted in this country in its 20 years of uninterrupted cultivation. If the radicals are to be answered it must be from their own forums and in the vernacular of the camps and mills in which their propaganda is being sown and the great mass of workingmen, who, he insists, are conservative and loyal citizens, gladly welcome a message from the friends of real Americanism.

About 7300 delegate attended the convention, which was held at Atlantic City.

Senator Demands Press Get Access To Angel Island

San Francisco, July 19.—A telegram demanding the Angel Island immigration station here be thrown open to representatives of the press in order that they may investigate thoroughly and suggest the betterment of conditions there, was sent to the secretary of labor by Congressman Isaac Siegel of New York, a member of the house committee on immigration and naturalization here today. Congressman Siegel held the conditions at the island to be "deplorable."

The telegram followed the visit to the island of a sub-committee of the committee on immigration and naturalization in the course of an investigation of Japanese immigration to this state.

The telegram today asked the secretary to make provision for more cameras and the fishing apparatus.

Railway Union Heads Gathering For Conference

Chicago, July 19.—The first grand council for more than a year of executive, general chairmen and general committee members of the sixteen recognized railroad brotherhoods opened in Chicago today to pass upon the wage award of the railway labor board. The board's decision, it has been announced, will be made public tomorrow.

Approximately 1000 union officials are expected to be present when the council takes final action on the award. Wage increases of more than $1,000,000,000 have been asked by about 2,900,000 workers.

Sam E. Heberling, president of the Switchmen's Union of North America, declared last night that if it was decided that the award was unsatisfactory "concerted action would be taken by the sixteen brotherhoods."

Harding Attacks Spirit of Accord In Enemy Ranks

Marion, Ohio, July 19.—Pressing his fight against the "splendid accord" established yesterday between President Wilson and Governor Cox, Senator Harding declared in a statement today that triumph of the democratic ticket this year would mean "a continuation of the foreign policy which has so grievously disappointed both Europe and America."

Apparently foreseeing the league as a paramount campaign issue as a result of the White House conference, the republican candidate adopted an aggressive program of striking at the Wilson policy wherever it showed its head. He took for the text of today's attack a statement on the league attributed to Colonel House and published in this country.

"We are beginning to understand," said Senator Harding, "the mistakenly plighted relationship of the United States to Europe, just in time to proceed to a referendum intelligently. The one representative of this country, other than the president, who best knew the whole situation at Paris, was Colonel House. He tells us now, in a cable statement from London that the suggestion of a preliminary peace treaty was made before Christmas, 1918."

"All along this has been the republican conception of what ought to have been done but this is the first official knowledge that Europe wished such a procedure and was deterred by us in expediting peace. The authentic revelation is peculiarly interesting at the moment when it is announced that the continuation of a democratic administration means a continuation of the foreign policy which has so grievously disappointed both Europe and America."

Colonel House's statement, to which Senator Harding referred, was contained in a special cable to the Philadelphia Public Ledger from London. In it the colonel was quoted as saying that a preliminary treaty concerning armaments, navy, reparations and delineation of boundaries "could have been made by Christmas of 1918 and would have been not only the usual but the obvious thing to do."

Salem Veteran Stricken In Tennessee; Was On Way to Rainbow Reunion

Stricken with spinal meningitis while en route to the first annual reunion of the Rainbow Division at Birmingham, Alabama, Ashley Kenneth Aspinwall, son of Mrs. Eileen Aspinwall, of this city, died at Memphis, Tennessee, July 18. Young Aspinwall enlisted in Company M on his 18th birthday, serving on the Mexican border in the summer of 1916. He re-enlisted in April 1917 and while in New York was transferred to the 167th infantry, of Alabama. He saw some of the fiercest conflicts of the late war, serving for 230 days on the battle fronts in Belgium and France, and with the Army of occupation in Germany. He was honorably discharged at Camp Lewis, May 17, 1919.

He was a member of Capital Post, American Legion, and is a graduate from the local high school last June. Besides his mother he is survived by eight brothers and two sisters, all of whom live in this vicinity. The body is expected July 25 and funeral announcements will be made later.

Stephens Letter Was Decoy For Phelan Says Jap

San Francisco, July 19.—Despite a bombardment of questions from the house immigration committee, K. K. Kawakami, Japanese publicist of San Francisco, insisted today that the letter congratulating Governor Stephens on warding off anti-Japanese legislation which he tried to get George Shima, president of the Japanese association of America to sign, was a "decoy" for Senator Phelan.

He admitted, however, that George Shima did not know it was a decoy.

"I did not tell him what it was because I was afraid he would tell some of his Japanese friends, then it would get into the Japanese newspapers and immediately he republish it in American papers," he said.

Having failed in this attempt, he said, he saw to it that his stenographic notes were thrown into the waste basket in his office and carried out by the janitor. Senator Phelan refused to state in his testimony how he came in possession of the letters.

"Do you remember what the janitor looks like, or whether the same janitor is still on duty in that building?" asked Representative Valle.

"No. I did not notice him, replied Kawakami.

"Do you mean to tell me that although attempting to practice a decoy system you paid no attention to the janitor?" persisted Mr. Valle.

Kawakami declared that he was not interested in the janitor.

"That's all for me," shouted Mr. Valle, slamming Kawakami's letter to the committee on the table.

When Chairman Johnson started to take up Kawakami's communication of last week to the committee, in which he said he did not believe the matter of Stephens letter should become public because it would be embarrassing to tell of "a distinguished citizen of California becoming involved in searching wastebaskets, Kawakami ventured the opinion that it ought to be taken up in executive session of the committee.

The proposal roused a chorus of disapproval from congressmen.

Kawakami denied that he was in the employ of the Japanese government and declared that no $100,000 fund existed for propaganda to forestall anti-Japanese legislation in California. Some pamphlets putting forth the Japanese side of the case had been mailed to voters, he said, and merely enough money to pay for this had been collected.

"Are you not the propagandist in the western district of the united States for the Japanese government?" asked Chairman Johnson.

Kawakami replied that he was merely a general publicity man for Japanese interests of various kinds but not for his government. He was not persona grata in Japan, he declared, although he had had correspondence with M. Hanhara of the Japanese foreign office, K. Fujii of the Japanese embassy at Washington and Matsouki, Japanese ambassador at Paris. Matsouki, he said, wanted him to be in Paris during the peace conference on account of his ability to write in English.
