Former Resident And Native of County Passes

Portland, Or., July 21.—W. W. Stelwer, born in Marion county, Oregon, 68 years ago, and for many years a resident in Oregon political affairs, died Sunday night at his Portland home 633 Halsey street, from the effects of illness with which he suffered for nearly six years.

Ten years ago Stelwer came to Portland from Fossil, Wheeler county, where he had lived almost 30 years following his removal from Marion county. For two terms he was a member of the state senate from Wheeler county, and, aside from a heavy financial and personal interest in the sheep and cattle industries of eastern Oregon, he established at Fossil, Wheeler county's first bank.

Stelwer was born August 7, 1852, and from his Marion county birthplace went to Wheeler county at the age of 20 years. He retired from his several activities a decade ago and established his home in Portland.

Surviving members of the family are the widow, Mrs. Annie J. Stelwer; two daughters, Mrs. W. L. Rhinehart of Fossil and Mrs. Earle C. Latourette of Portland; and two sons, Leland L. Stelwer of Fossil and William H. Stelwer of Portland.

Jackrabbit Law Constitutional Is Opinion of Brown

The state legislature has directly authorized the people of the state in every county of the state to put into effect the jackrabbit law now in suspension until put into action by the vote of the election of their particular stitutional, the attorney general explains, because of the fact that there was no enabling act providing for the enactment of local laws. Under the present enabling act the people of every county are authorized to amend or repeal local laws for their county by the initiative and referendum process.

the board just submitted to Governor Oleott.

A total of 150 barbers have been examined for certificates in the six month period of which 132 were passed, the report shows.

The barber business throughout the state is generally prosperous and the barbers as a rule are willing to aid the board in having the law enforced, the report states.

Word received Tuesday from Harry G. Allen of Portland, state president of the Elks, announces the appointment of E. A. Kurtz, exalted ruler of Salem Lodge 336, B. P. O. E., as a member of the Elks state hospital board.

Among the many things planned by the board is a home in Oregon for aged Elks. It is understood. The first meeting will be held in Hotel Marion, Thursday morning, at 10 o'clock.

Board of Barber Examiners Has Surplus In Fund

For the first time since the law creating the state board of barber examiners became effective 21 years ago there has been a surplus in the fund over and above the $1000 maintenance fund allowed the board by the law.

This surplus, amounting to $255.43 has been turned over to the general fund of the state, as required by law, according to the semi-annual report of Another splendid endorsement for Tanlac was given recently by Mrs. Charles Wyder, 362 Oregon street, Cincinnati, Ohio, who said of the medicine,

"I can recommend Tanlac with all my heart, for it restored my health and built me up wonderfully, nearly a year ago and I have had no return of my old troubles since."

"For four years I had been in a badly run down condition, suffering with pains all over my body. Gas would form on my stomach and I could eat hardly anything without becoming almost deathly sick afterwards. There was such a pressure of gas through my chest that I felt like I was choking. At night especially I felt like I was smothering to death and often had to get out of bed and just fight for breath. My nerves were so shattered that I would tremble all over from head to foot, many a night I couldn't sleep at all and always felt as bad in the mornings as on going to bed if not worse. I was tired and weak all the time, had no energy and never felt like turning my hands to a thing in the way of work.

"I had no desire to eat and my food seemed to do me more harm than good. I lost weight and kept getting weaker until I began taking Tanlac. It wasn't long after I began taking this medicine before I had a good appetite and I commenced to regain my lost weight and strength right along. After my troubles disappeared I found I had actually gained fifteen pounds in weight, which made me heavier than I had ever been before. My appetite is so keen that I can hardly get enough to eat and I sleep every night like a child. It has been almost a year ago since I took Tanlac but I am still feeling fine, and am glad to make a statement that may cause others to try this grand medicine."

President Ackerman has been recently notified that the normal is to receive a small legacy from the estate of Miss Rachel Phillips, late of Oregon City. Approximately $4000 is the sum of the gift.

The normal most cordially invites the citizens of Monmouth to attend the band concert by the Salem band to be given Sunday p. m. July 25, at three o'clock on the Normal campus.

The public is invited to attend the chapel hour next Tuesday morning July 27, when Governor Oleott will speak. The exercises will begin at nine thirty.

Dr. Barnes of Clark university, visited the normal last Friday and addressed the students at chapel hour and gave several informal class room talks in the afternoon.

The annual entertainment known as "Stunt Evening," given by the summer school students, will occur in the chapel next Wednesday evening at 8:15. Students are divided on the basis of counties into six groups and each group strives to put on the best stunt, the winner to be awarded the silk flag which now hangs in the front of the chapel.

Last year this trophy was won by the eastern Oregon group and while its members are determined to keep it, still other groups are putting forth just as strenuous efforts to win.

Wednesday, July 21, was a red letter day in the normal calendar for Miss Marvin, president of the board
