Bank Robber Is Identified Today

Dayton, Wash., July 22.—Sheriff Gimmel has a warrant for the arrest of George C. Boyd of Walla Walla, charging him with the robbery of the bank of Starbuck last Saturday. Boyd's picture has been positively identified by Sheriff Gimmel as the man who Saturday morning locked the cashier, bookkeeper and a customer in the vault and then took $3270 from the cash drawer. This picture was furnished by the Walla Walla police, to whom it was sent from the Colorado penitentiary at Canon City, from which institution Boyd is alleged to have escaped in 1918.
 Will E. Sprout, president of the bank, signed the complaint on which the warrant was issued after the picture had been identified. Boyd is well connected and has two uncles living in Walla Walla county.

Wemen End Hunger Strike

Walla Walla, Wash., July 22.—Anna Carlson, serving a term of from five to ten years for killing George Baker at the Home colony near Tacoma, ended a hunger strike at the state penitentiary this morning when she was told she was to be moved. The woman on July 11 attacked the matron of the woman's ward in a padded cell for a week, following her release she wrote the warden, Henry Drummond, that she would end her life and signed the letter "so long Annie." She had refused to eat for a week. She had hoped that she was to be deported. Her removal sends at Medical Lake state hospital for the insane.

Jess Willard Is Candidate For Constable Now

Lawrence, Kansas.—Jess Willard, former heavyweight champion, is a candidate for constable of Wakarusa township, Kansas. Without his knowledge, Willard was put in the field by petition. Willard's big ranch is in Wakarusa county.
 W. C. Simmons, owner of The Daily Journal-World of Lawrence is also listed as a candidate for constable. His candidacy also was entered without his knowledge.

Coolidge Goes To Farm Seeking Rest At Labor

Plymouth, Vt.—Governor Calvin Coolidge of Massachusetts, republican nominee for vice-president, is "on a rest." With Mrs. Coolidge and their two sons, John and Calvin, he is on his father's farm in the hills of Vermont. He finds the best way to rest is to rise early and help his father do the farm work.
 The farm, a hilly one situated at the top of Plymouth notch, consists of over 200 acres, partly wooded and partly cultivated. Long meadows of hay and oats are banked with fruit trees, heavily laden with sweet Vermont apples and juicy plums.
 The farm house, sandwiched between the Plymouth cheese factory and the home of Governor Coolidge's aunt, Mrs. J. J. Wilder, is a cozy New England home, white with swinging green blinds.
 The governor has risen at 6 o'clock every morning since his arrival on his 58th birthday, July 4. He usually wears on his grandfather's togs, consisting of an old flannel shirt, denim trousers and old-fashioned cowhide boots, made at the Plymouth tannery in 1858.
 He recites with interest the history of the boots. They were made for his grandfather when he was elected to the legislature at Montpelier in 1858 and he wore them continually through out the session. Governor Coolidge wears them now when he "finkers"

Amendment of Waterpower Bill Requested

Washington, July 22.—Amendment of the new waterpower act so as to exclude the national parks from its provisions will be demanded of congress at its next session, it is announced by Robert Sterling Yard, executive secretary of the National Parks association. Mr. Yard also says that a fight will be made to have congress reject pending legislation, which he asserts, opens the way for irrigation projects to draw on the parks for water.
 Without amendment, Mr. Yard says, the waterpower act is "the death warrant of our national parks system," because all government owned land and reservations are embraced within its terms, making it possible for private interests to erect dams, power houses, transmission lines and other structures by obtaining leases from the federal waterpower commission.
 It was not until the waterpower bill reached President Wilson for approval, that discovery was made by conservationists that national parks would be affected, and now the fight, Mr. Yard says, will be made for its amendment.
 Besides the effort to change the waterpower act, Mr. Yard says an effort will be made to prevent favorable action on pending legislation, granting permission to private interests to build an irrigation reservoir in an obscure swamp in the southwestern corner of the Yellowstone National park, miles from any road. This measure, he asserts, would be the opening wedge for a number of irrigation plans for other national parks.
 Mr. Yard anticipates that other legislation, including a proposal for damming Yellowstone lake, will be brought before congress, all of which he contends would tend to destroy the beauty of America's playgrounds.
 "The conservation associations and many institutions throughout the country," Mr. A. Yrd says, "are even organizing now for the defense of the parks. Our new national park system has fairly caught the imagination of this idealistic and very practical people, who see in it not only a system of exhibits of the native American wilderness, untouched, for all time, but the beginning of a colossal national economic asset which shall enormously spur domestic travel and business, and bring in creasing thousands of foreign visitors here every summer to see them. Any legislation which will detract from the value of the name national parks is a national disaster."

Reichstag Will Meet On Monday

London, July 22.—The German reichstag has been summoned to meet Monday, according to an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Berlin. Its business will include a discussion of the date for holding the presidential elections. A Koenigsberg message to the Exchange Telegraph company says plans are proceeding for the formation of a red army in East Prussia.
 Athens, July 20.—King Alexander of Greece was aboard the cruiser Averos during bombardment this morning of Rodosto, on the European shore of the Sea of Marmora. Greek troops were landed by the fleet, driving out the Turks.

Coal Situation In France Better

Paris.—Gradual improvement in France's coal production, shown in figures brought out in the Chamber of Deputies, is giving comfort to economists but is not counted upon to relieve the chilliness of homes or markedly affect factories for some time. The mines damaged by the German invasion are slowly being put in shape and it is expected that they will produce 250,000 tons monthly by the end of the year, if all goes well. This would be half of pre-war production. It was admitted the normal rate would not be reached for some years.
 Difficulties in pumping out flooded mines and repairing dynamited shafts have proved the chief obstacles. Orders for machinery are accepted only for delivery in from four months to four years.
 Belgian firms finally have been engaged to aid in the reconstruction work after negotiations with Germans failed.

America One of Three Nations to Enter All Events

Antwerp, July 21.—The United States, Canada and Czechoslovakia are the only nations listed to compete in every event of the Olympic games at the stadium, though doubtless there are some omissions due to delayed mails.
 Sweden is in for all the events except the walks and tug of war. Great Britain is entered for all except the pole vault and javelin, while Italy will take part in all but the hammer throw and shot put.
 The list for virtually all events in the boxing contest includes the United States, South Africa, France, Holland, Norway, Italy and Great Britain, while Switzerland will send only welterweights.

King Sees Attack

Why is an Advertisement?

When the baby laughs, when the sun shines, when the flowers bloom, when dinner sends out its inviting aroma; when anyone of ten thousand things happen which attract your attention and gain your interest, you are being advertised to.

And that is the "why" and the whole purpose of any advertisement; to gain your attention, secure your interest, arouse your desire; to tell you something you don't know, to remind you of something you have forgotten, to convince you of something concerning which you have been hesitating, to help you get the best at the least cost.

Why is an advertisement? You can wrap the whole question up in a few words: To make you happier. Think it over, and see if you don't find that to be the true answer.
