

Japs Maintain Old Stand In Reply to Note

Tokio, July 31.—Outlines of Japan's answer to the note of the United States relative to Japan's intention to occupy Saghalin, Siberia, are printed today by the newspapers, which report that the reply was drawn up at yesterday's cabinet meeting.

According to the newspaper account the answer, in pointing out Japan's policy, will say that occupation is unavoidable to maintain her national privileges and that the decision to occupy the island will not be changed.

It is reported also that the reply will again emphasize that Japan has no territorial ambitions and that the occupation would be only temporary until a stable government was established in Russia.

Veteran of Civil War Is Injured

J. N. Groshong, 89, a civil war veteran, is in Willamette sanitarium suffering from severe injuries received while working with a threshing crew on the Groshong farm near St. Louis Thursday evening.

Frightened by the noise of the steel separator on the threshing machine, the horses which Mr. Groshong was driving, bolted, dragging him under the machine and partly into the mechanism. His left arm was so terribly crushed that it had to be amputated below the shoulder. The right arm was badly crushed and strained, and he sustained severe head bruises. Reports from Willamette sanitarium, where he was rushed as soon as he was rescued from beneath the thrasher, stated Friday that he was resting as easily as could be expected.

Changed Schedule For Livestock Is Asked of Board

In an application filed with the public service commission, Thursday, the Cattle & Horse Raisers' association of Oregon, the Portland Livestock Exchange and the Western Oregon Livestock Men's league seek to amend the present low value and special value contracts governing intra-state shipments of livestock by increasing the amount of liability to which the carriers can be held for loss to livestock while in transit. The present schedule was adopted in 1917, since which time all kinds of livestock have materially increased in value, it is pointed out.

Four Accidents Fatal

Four of the 469 accidents in Oregon, industries reported to the state industrial accident commission for the week ending July 29, were fatal. Workmen losing their lives during the week were Ole Dragsold, sweepster, Bend; Wm. Grasshober, laborer, Oregon City; Newton W. Lewis, laborer, Salem, and A. C. Duncan, logger, Powers.

Bicycles Believed Stolen Are Found

After reporting to police that their bicycles had been stolen from in front of the armory Thursday night, Earl H. Kent and A. C. Daily later found the wheels leaning against a truck at the rear of the armory.

Another bicycle was taken to the police station at 5:30 Friday morning. It was found by police near the Hartman jewelry store and is believed to have been stolen.

Klamath Court House Scrap Bobs Up In Court Again

A temporary order restraining the county commissioners, county clerk and county treasurer of Klamath county from the expenditure of the special court house fund pending a decision on the appeal in the case of the J. M. Dougan company vs. Klamath county, was issued by the Oregon supreme court here today. Appeal from the decree of Judge Hamilton who found in favor of the Klamath county officials and the Hot Springs court house site was filed in the supreme court Thursday by the J. M. Dougan company which is suing for collection of the final payment on the court house which it has constructed on the old court house square in the heart of Klamath Falls. Arguments on the injunction proceedings will be heard by the supreme court October 1.

Salem Elks Declare No Apology Due

Fidelity, and is a strictly American order teaching and practicing true Americanism, loyalty to our country and its flag and obedience to its constitution, and its laws are a part of the imperative creed of said organization, and

Whereas, Salem Lodge No. 336 has a membership of nearly twelve hundred, composed of the best citizens of Marion and Polk counties whose patriotism and Christian integrity is of the highest type, and

Whereas, Salem Lodge No. 336 does not hesitate to assume the responsibility for any act or deed authorized by or with the approval of said lodge, and

Whereas, certain just criticism has been made in the public press concerning the acts of divers persons who, during the said state convention committed disgraceful and unlawful acts in public places in the city of Salem, and

Whereas, attracted by the large crowd of people brought to Salem by the holding of said state convention there gathered many questionable characters who took advantage of the occasion to carry on their nefarious and unlawful practices, and

Whereas, at no time during said state convention was there within the jurisdiction of said lodge rooms, club or any place under the management of said state convention or Salem Lodge No. 336 any unpatriotic, unlawful or improper act performed to the knowledge of said lodge.

Therefore Be It Resolved:
1st. That Salem Lodge No. 336, B. P. O. E., has no apology to make for any act or deed committed by or authorized to be done by the lodge, its members or the state association.
2nd. We deplore the fact that certain rough and unscrupulous persons took advantage of the occasion to carry out their unlawful schemes to the detriment of the peace and dignity of our fair city.

3d. We cheerfully submit the personnel of the membership of Salem Lodge No. 336 for comparison with any other organization of like character as to its American citizenship, patriotism and law abiding qualities.

Wee Word Spells Disaster During Informal Tests

"And the villain still pursued her!" Just pause a moment and give that misspelled word its proper orthographic treatment.

During recent eighth grade and high school examinations given at the close of 1920 first semester school work in this county, that small word brought disaster upon many of the best "spellers" who were caught at unwarly moments.

And many sets of examination papers received through the office of W. M. Smith, county superintendent of schools, indicate that older examiners were sometimes made the victim of the "villun."

"V-I-L-L-I-N, villainy, villainous—this is Noah Webster's spelling of the tricky little word. Over two-score of Salem's leading business men and attorneys met defeat in answer to the query "How d'ye spell villain?" in an informal survey conducted by an inquisitive Capital Journal reporter, who had also failed to pass the test.

Motorist Arrested For Cutting Corner

Said to have cut the corner of State and Commercial street in his automobile Friday night about 9:30, G. W. Hardesty, 275 Ninety-first street, Portland, was arrested by Officer W. J. White.

Mr. Hardesty put up $5 bond for his appearance before Police Judge Earl Race.

LIBERTY Starting Tomorrow SUNDAY

Some girls are born Vamps; some achieve the art and others have it thrust upon them. Nellie's came all three ways.

She had a smile that would entice a Bolshevik; a pair of eyes that would dazzle a Saint—and the manner of a Sunday-school teacher.

She vamps every man she meets. She just can't help it.
