

Bad Company Cause of Youth's Fall From Grace

Well, this boy may have been raised in the country but he adopted certain city ways mighty sudden," observed County Judge W. M. Bushey, Saturday, during the hearing of Joseph G. Adelhart, 17, charged with passing bad checks totaling $75. The spurious paper was circulated in Salem.

Adelhart, who told Judge Bushey that he had not been in trouble before, was obliged to change his story when confronted by evidence from city police records, admitting that he had been in recent trouble concerning a young girl.

Concerning the check incident, the youth told a story of having passed the bogus paper for a man whose name, he said, was Clifford Wright. The authorities are skeptical in regard to this story, claiming that no trace of Wright can be found and asserting that the handwriting on the check resembles Adelhart's own penmanship.

In talking to young Adelhart and his parents, Judge Bushey reminded his hearers that a boy or young man who has no responsibilities or restraint will sooner or later drift into trouble. "Too much pleasure and too many light-minded and careless companions" summarized Judge Bushey, who intimated that the state industrial school course would keep the youth busy and out of mischief.

Judge Bushey postponed action in the case until consulting with Adelhart's parents, who were present at the hearing Saturday morning.

Thugs Raid Store at Donald Friday

The Mays-Carver store at Donald was entered Friday night by thieves who took knives, shoes and other merchandise valued at about $50. Entrance to the store was secured by removing a pane of glass from a window.

The burglary was not discovered until 7 o'clock Saturday morning at opening time. The office of Sheriff W. L. Needham was notified and Deputy Bert Smith went out to investigate. No clues as to the identity of the burglars are reported.

The entrance of the store at Donald breaks a lull in the general epidemic of small-town burglaries experienced during the past winter and spring.

The expenditure of approximately $250,000 in the development of power and the extension of its municipal water supply system is contemplated by the city of Toledo which, Friday, filed with the state engineer's office here an application for the appropriation of 300 second feet of water from the Siletz river. It is planned to divert the water from the river through a pipeline 13.5 miles long.

R. J. Hendricks of Salem has made application for the storage of water on the Trask river in Tillamook county and for the appropriation of water for the development of power near Tillamook.

An application filed by W. L. Montgomery and A. J. Waters covers the appropriation of water from Althouse creek for placer mining purposes in Josephine county.

'Brick' Leslie, Grid Veteran at Oregon Expects to Return

Indications are that "Brick" Leslie, veteran pivot man of the University of Oregon football team, will be on the job during the next school year.

"I'm not positive, of course," Leslie said Friday evening shortly before he left Salem for Portland, after visiting a short time here, "but it's going to be mighty hard to stay away."

Leslie has won for himself an enviable reputation at center. Against Harvard the fiery-headed Oregon youth opened up holes in the Crimson line which made it possible for the swift Oregon back to tear off large hunks of yardage.

Leslie is working in Portland this summer.

Russians Face Frail Defensive Line of Warsaw

Warsaw, Aug. 14.—Russians are now facing at various places the Warsaw defensive line along which the Polish newspapers for days have been insisting the enemy would be checked.

On this line the Poles are expected to make their final stand.

Paris, Aug. 14.—Russian bolshevik generals are carrying out an extraordinarily daring maneuver on the fronts north and east of Warsaw, according to Professor Vidou, a military writer, who has telegraphed from Warsaw.

The soviet forces are trying to move further westward, probably towards Plock so as to take Warsaw in the rear, but in so doing they are lengthening their whole front from the Vistula to the Prussian frontier.

Professor Vidou declares that this movement exposes the bolshevik line to a counter offensive, might easily pierce it.

Light 'Blow' Dealt Temperature Here; Drops Few Notches

Occasional breezes sweeping over Salem Saturday tugged on the mercury and held the most ambitious thermometer in the city to an altitude of 102 degrees. Hartman's gauge, on the north side of State street, announced that the temperature was a little better than 100 degrees in the shade, while across the street, an anemometer hovered at 96.

The present hot spell is one of the longest and most extreme ever recorded in this vicinity.

Increased Child Labor at Chicago

Chicago.—Four thousand more children are working in Chicago than a year ago, according to Clyde A. Brown, acting director of the city vocational guidance bureau. The increase in child labor is said to be general in the Middle West but exceptions are noted in Missouri, Kansas and North Dakota.

Necessity of the child helping the family meet the high cost of living, the pulling power of higher wages and scarcity of adult labor together with the discovery by employers that women and children often could take the place of men were cited by Mr. Brown among reasons for a similar increase in child labor in other parts of the United States as well.

British Reply to Note Expected

Washington, Aug. 14.—Replies from both Great Britain and Italy to the American note on the Russian-Polish situation, are expected soon by state department officials. Summary of the French rejoinder was received today.

In the opinion of administration officials the answers will spring from a desire to reach a common policy.

It also was suggested officially that the replies would offer an opportunity for England and France to smooth out whatever differences have been developed between them.

The French reply as outlined in the official summary was understood to be highly satisfactory to administration officials. It was said that France in recognizing General wrangle had accepted the principal contention of the United States that Russia must not be dismembered.

Mitchell, S. D., Aug. 14.—Franklin D. Roosevelt, democratic candidate for vice-president in an address here today declared that "progressiveness and the league of nations are so closely akin, that he had yet to find the progressive man or woman who is not in favor of the league."

The league of nations and the policy of the democrats in opposition to the "back to the good old days" attitude of the republicans were speakers themes.

"By not signing the peace treaty we have placed ourselves in the same class with bolshevik Russia, Mexico and unspcakable Turkey," Mr. Roosevelt asserted.

Heavy Demand for Automobiles in Foreign Lands

The automobile manufacturers of the United States made, in the fiscal year just ended, their highest record in supplying foreign markets. The total value of automobiles and accessories, such as tires, engines, and other separate parts, exported in the fiscal year 1920, aggregates $275,000,000 against $318,000,000 two years ago, and $30,000,000 in the year preceding the war. Thus, the value of automobiles and accessories exported in the fiscal year 1920 are nine times as much as in the year before the war, and more than double that of the closing year of the war.

The whole world, seems to be demanding motor vehicles for passenger and freight purposes, and looking to the United States for its supply. The number of commercial cars exported in the first 11 months of the fiscal year 1920 was, according to the official reports of the government, 21,658 as against 11,154 in the same months of 1919, and the number of passenger cars, 192,148 against 33,412 in the corresponding months of 1919.

Great Britain, which saw the practical qualities of the American commercial automobile during the war, took in the first 11 months of the fiscal year 1920, according to the above authority over $5,500,000 worth of our commercial cars, against $2,500,000 worth in the same months of the preceding year. Cuba, which recognized the convenience and practicability in a tropical climate of the power-driven vehicle, as against that driven by animals, took of our commercial automobiles in the 11 months of the fiscal year 1920, 1,419 machines, valued at over $3,000,000 against $100,000 in the same months of the preceding year. To the distant Dutch East Indies, the number of commercial machines sent was 440 against 309 in the same months of 1919, and only 68 in the corresponding months of 1918, and to our own Philippines 698 commercial machines in the year 1920, against 157 in the same period of 1919, while British Oceania which consists chiefly of Australia and New Zealand took 929 commercial machines in the 11 months of the fiscal year 1920, against 271 in the same months of 1919, and 178 in the corresponding months of 1918.

In passenger machines the growth is equally striking. The total number exported to all parts of the world in the 11 months ending with May having been, according to the official records, 102,146 against 33,412 in the same months of the immediately preceding year, and the stated value for the 11 months of 1920, $111,000,000 against $38,000,000 in the same months of 1919. This increase in the number of passenger machines is especially marked in the movement to the tropics; to British India the number of passenger machines sent in the 11 months of the fiscal year 1920 is stated at 7,002, valued at $7,589,000, against only 349 machines valued at $422,000 in the same months of the preceding year, and 59 machines valued at $40,000 in the corresponding months of 1918. To Argentina the number sent in the 11 months of the fiscal year 1920, is 3,049 against 1,470 in the same months of the preceding year; to Brazil 5,610 against 1,168 in the corresponding months of 1919; to Peru, 820 machines against 48 in the same months of the preceding year; to the Philippines 2,073 against 1,601 in the same months of the preceding year, practically all the countries above named being, with the exception of Argentina distinctly tropical, and illustrating the growing demand of the tropics for the horseless vehicle. Mexico, despite the unsettled conditions, took in the 11 months of 1920, 2,489 machines against 1,951 in the same months of the preceding year; Cuba 4,218 passenger machines against 1,887 in the same period of the year preceding.

Army Arrest Reveals Wierd Story of War

Chicago, Aug. 14.—Theodore Schude, said to be a German army officer who returned to America with passports stolen from an American officer, assumed the American's name and was mustered out to re-enlist in the ranks, will be brought here from San Francisco, where he was arrested several days ago, for trial.

United States Commissioner Mason today issued a warrant for Schude on the technical charge of having obtained $1680 back pay from the government by false pretenses when he was discharged at Fort Sheridan hospital. He will be held on that charge while authorities investigate other phases of his story.

Wierd Story Related.

The arrest has revealed a wierd story involving Schude, Lieutenant Arthur K. Kincaid, whose papers he confessed stealing and a German court according to information gathered here.

The real Lieutenant Kincaid, who also received $1680 back pay when he mustered out, according to army records, claims to be the son of an American opera singer and a German court, according to an interview published in a Chicago newspaper. His mother, he is quoted as saying, was betrayed in Paris by the German officer. When he went to France with the American army he determined to hunt up his father and exact revenge.

Army records show that Kincaid was sent to Berlin after the armistice and left there on a vacation from which he did not return. Later he was found in a hospital in Belgium and was returned to America and finally discharged. He received the Croix de Guerre.

Killed His Father.

Kincaid says that while on his vacation in Germany he located the count, his father, and killed him in a duel, then fled to Belgium, where he was taken sick. About that time his papers and passports were stolen by Schude, he believes.

Army records show that the Lieutenant Kincaid who confessed at San Francisco that he was Schude, rejoined the army at Brest and was returned to America. The real Kincaid says he also was returned to America and mustered out at Camp Taylor, Ky., after receiving his back pay. Army records substantiate his story.

District Attorney Charles F. Clynne, who obtained the warrant for Schude today on orders from the department of justice, said other charges may be placed against the prisoner after investigation of his story that he is a German officer.

Forests of France Being Replanted

Paris.—The greatest destruction ever known to forests was that wrought in France by the war. And yet France is by no means bare of trees.

Not counting Alsace-Lorraine France still has nearly a half more acres in forest than has Germany. The war wiped out 750,000 acres of trees in France, which will be replanted.

But that was only one acre out of every thirty acres of forest in the republic. Artillery fire caused only a part of the destruction. France was forced to cut down millions of trees for fuel and lumber supplies for herself and her allies.

But Germany must pay the piper in kind and will hand over a big lot of its available timber for reconstruction work.

The French government has decided that it will be more profitable to replant trees in her wasted forest lands than to convert the land into farms.
