Britain to Defy Labor Ultimatum

Premier Declares that Any Attempt to Dictate Policy of Government Strikes at Constitution

London, Aug. 16.—Premier Lloyd-George, replying to a question in the House of Commons today concerning the ultimatum against war on Russia, declared that any attempt to dictate the policy of the government or parliament by industrial action struck at the root of the democratic constitution of the country and would be resisted by all the forces at the government's disposal.

Wrangel Warned. Lloyd-George stated that the government had made it clear to General Baron Wrangel, anti-bolshevik leader in south Russia that if he further attacked the soviet forces he must do so on his own responsibility.

Washington, Aug. 16.—Premier Lloyd-George's announcement regarding General Wrangel comes almost on the heels of France's recognition and promise of material aid to the anti-bolshevik leader.

Some diplomats here were of the opinion that the situation was not quite as serious as it appeared.

It was said that Great Britain had been aiding General Wrangel and that it was entirely possible that the British government had decided to withdraw that aid, because it did not desire any complications in the soviet-Polish armistice negotiations.
