

Auto Damaged Women Injured Head-on Smash

Independence, Or., Aug. 18.—While a local physician was treating two painfully bruised women and the driver of a Buick from Skinnerville was assembling the pieces from two wrecked cars yesterday forenoon on the Lockhart road eight miles southwest of this city, Justice of the Peace Baker was acting as arbitrator in a warm controversy between two angry drivers, each of whom claimed the other was at fault.

From a statement obtained from S. Dyson, one of the motorists, it is learned that J. L. Wilbur and wife and Mr. and Mrs. Dyson of Seattle were riding in a Buick driven by Wilbur, which collided with a big machine owned and driven by a commercial traveler, whose name Mr. Dyson failed to secure. The Wilbur-Dyson party had been touring Oregon and California and were enroute home when they met with the accident. Mr. Dyson said that both cars were traveling at a high rate of speed, but the other car was going faster than the one in which he was riding. At the point where the road the other car, he said, held to the left side of the road and the Buick hit it head-on right in the side. Both cars were badly crippled and unable to proceed on their journey.

The commercial man insisted that Wilbur was wholly at fault and Wilbur was equally as positive that the other fellow was to blame for the accident. Warm words ensued and it appeared as if there was going to be a free for all fight, when a third and disinterested party appeared on the scene and recommended arbitration by a justice of the peace, and a physician to care for the two women who were bruised and bleeding. Dyson returned to Independence with the physician and told the story of the affair. Both parties will be held up here for several days pending repairs, and in the meantime the difficulty will probably be adjusted out of court drivers.

In the opinion of Dyson, both drivers are to blame, in a measure, but, he stated, if the other car had kept its side of the road it would have avoided the accident. "We had traveled from Seattle to California," he said, "and returned this far without an accident. Mr. Wilbur is a careful driver and he was not going more than fifteen or twenty miles an hour when we reached that point in the road."

Independence News Notes.
The three men whom the county sheriff is said to have suspected as being implicated in the moonshine episode here a few days ago, are in the city and claim they are prepared to furnish a perfect alibi if necessary. The houses raided by the sheriff is occupied by a family named Evans, and two South boys, according to reports current, are supposed to have been associated with Evans. But the men have not been arrested, and if it were those who escaped from the building at the time of the raid, there is apparently not sufficient evidence to warrant their arrest.

On account of the heavy growth of hops several yards in this vicinity are said to be falling down. Anchor posts are drawn from the ground by the heavy weight of the vines. In the Hugh Hanna yard considerable damage is said to have been done, and McLaughlin, it is reported, has one hundred sixty acres down. This will not be a total loss, of course, but it will mean a handicap to pickers and some loss to the grower.

Allen Jordan of this city and Miss Emma Oldman of Monmouth were married at the home of the latter's parents Sunday afternoon. They will be at home in Independence after a short honeymoon tour at the coast.

A baby boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. A. Becker Sunday at their home in this city.

T. W. Kilmer and W. C. Payne of Seattle were in the city yesterday, each driving a big 20-passenger Velle car. They had traveled from Seattle to British Columbia and through the states to Texas with the Wilbur Boys Chorus, comprising 44 members. They left here for Salem last evening and from there will proceed to Seattle, having finished the tour.

Dr. and Mrs. Butler motored to Salem yesterday, the former on business and the latter to visit among friends Sunday evening the Seventh. Day Adventists will begin a tent meeting in the city on C and Railroad streets.

Reports coming from the coast where J. G. McIntosh and wife are camping, are to the effect that McIntosh is every day, but so far had not been successful. But he is having a good time and will be ready to start for home Sunday.

Mailman Gives Right-of-Way to Run-Away Binder

Independence, Or., Aug. 18.—For at least once in his career as United States mail carrier, covering a period of more than fifteen years in the vicinity of Perry, Dickenson voluntarily gave up the right of way and he isn't sorry that he did. Driving north on the Buena Vista road yesterday forenoon he saw a team of horses approaching at a high rate of speed. Behind the team was a binder averaging first to one side of the road and then the other. The team belonged to a farmer who had left them standing in the road without being tied and becoming frightened at something, ran away. Dickenson lost no time in getting out of the road and in his hurry the car went into a ditch. The machine was slightly damaged, but he managed to drive it home after a few minor repairs. The horses were captured before they had done much harm. As the horses passed his car Mr. Dickenson observed that he did not give any too much of the right of way, and it was a close call to a serious accident.

Open Parcel Post To Movie Film

London, Aug. 18.—Negotiations are being conducted by the American chamber of commerce in London with the postmaster general in Washington with a view to the removal of the present prohibition on the exportation of parcel post of cinematograph films other than those made of cellulose acetate.

This prohibition was instituted as a war measure, but is still in force, and is causing considerable hardship to importers of American films. Importers are required to pay on valuation, including forwarders' charges to the amount of 2 per cent of the invoice value, and in some cases this rate is figured on the negative films, thus including the cost of the British film rights.

In its communication to the American postmaster general the chamber of commerce points out that all other countries in the postal union, with the exception of the United States, handles films by parcel post and that films can be sent from Great Britain to the states by parcel post without restriction.

Uncomfortable Eyes Made Comfortable

Our Message

The average, normal human being has a horror of wearing glasses—a horror that was quite justified half a century ago, when atrocious disfiguring spectacles were in use. But today the modern eyeglass, will in practically every case really improve the appearance, if intelligently designed and made.

Of course appearances are only secondary to relief from eyestrain; but if you have to wear glasses why not have them add to rather than detract from your appearance. We know how to prescribe lenses and make them look their best.
