Ranchers Fear Heavy Damage If Rain Falls

Dallas, Or., Aug. 26.—A great many wheat and oat growers are worried about the weather. If rain should come at this time it would be thousands of dollars in damage. For some days it has been threatening to rain, with the barometer behaving in such a manner as to indicate the certainty of precipitation but up to this writing the threatened downpour has not come. Nearly all of the wheat and oats have been cut, but much of it is still in shocks. If this should be wet and kept that way for some days it would certainly sprout and be ruined. Although there is a large number of threshing outfits in the county it does not seem possible for them to make the entire round in time to avoid the first rains that come following the yearly dry spell during July and August.

Trucks and drays have been in demand for the past week getting in threshed grain. Thousands of bushels sacked and ready to go to the market were in the fields when the threatening weather made its appearance. Every effort was made to get this under cover before it could possibly get a wetting.

How is the Solid Truck Tire Buyer Going to Get What He Wants

ANY man who does his hauling on trucks equipped with solid tires knows what abuse does to them.

Faced as he is with the continual necessity for economy operation, he has to find tires that will stand up under severe duty without severe expense.

We might have picked out another solid truck tire instead of the U. S.—but what we were looking for was a tire built for road and hauling conditions as they actually exist.

With United States Solids, built of grainless rubber—non-splitting—with rubber and base band chemically joined—ending base separation—goes our personal service that reckons the truck owner's time as money and proper advice as something he is entitled to at all times.

In purchasing a new truck consult us about the type of tires to specify.
