Former Salem Attorney Laid to Rest at Stayton

Stayton, Or., Aug. 25.—The funeral of E. A. Downing, who died at his home about three miles north of Stayton Thursday morning, was held at the Christian church Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and was largely attended. The burial was in the McAlpin cemetery about eight miles north of Stayton, where several members of the Downing family are buried. Mr. Downing had been in poor health for a number of years. He was for a long time a prominent attorney in Salem, but owing to poor health gave up the practice of law and moved onto the farm where his death occurred. He was 65 years of age and leaves a widow but no children.

H. J. Marking, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Arend and Jacob Spaniol and wife made a trip over the Columbia highway Saturday and Sunday.

John Mielke has joined his family for an outing at Breitenbush hot springs.

F. I. Jones and wife and son, Harry, spent Sunday at Cascadia.

F. F. Foster and wife and W. J. Hewitt and wife motored to Independence Sunday.

E. M. Parker and wife of South Portland visited Sunday at the S. Aplet home. Mrs. Parker and Mrs. Aplet are visitors. Mr. and Mrs. Parker were residents of Stayton about 25 years ago.

George H. Bell and family are home from their visit with friends in Goldendale, Wash.

Mrs. L. B. Miller, accompanied by Freddie Heuler, has gone for a week's visit with Salem friends.

Carl Fryer and wife were visitors at the home of Mrs. Fryer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Gardner, Sunday.

Dr. and Mrs. C. H. Brewer are at Newport for a short outing.

Mr. and Mrs. Newberry of Tacoma, Wash., are visiting at the W. F. Blakely home.

Miss Mary Driscoll of Newberg is here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. Driscoll.

Kenneth Thomas and wife are preparing to go to Marshfield to reside.

John A. Lulay has commenced work on the erection of a new residence for Mrs. Barbara Gehlen, on her property east of the cemetery.

The hazel nut crop hereabouts was good this season and quite a number were gathered.

Farm Home Saved.
 Aurora, Or., Aug. 25.—B. J. Green, who was here the fore part of the week from the White district, tells of an exciting time they had at his place a few days ago with fire. Only for the aid of Fryer Brothers' threshing crew, he says, he would have sustained the loss of his home and all of his grain in the field. Citizens from Aurora and Hubbard also rendered assistance.

Lord Jellicoe Criticised by Naval Writers
 London, Aug. 25.—In January, omitting the French and Japanese destroyers, we had 320 torpedo boat destroyers, of which 282 were in the home waters and by June the number in home waters had increased by fifty-eight, but only six of those were American boats and two were old boats, presumably under repair at the moment," writes A. H. Pollen, a well known naval writer, in his criticism of Lord Jellicoe's new book, "The Crisis of the Naval War," in the Sunday Times.

"The other fifty were new British vessels. In June, then, we had 336 destroyers available for all our needs. The American contribution has not increased our stock by even 2 per cent," he continues.

This tirade is launched against the statement, "the assistance from the United States, that it was hoped was now in sight, made the prospect of success following on the adoption of the convoy system far more favorable," on page 117 of Lord Jellicoe's new book.

The statement is made by Lord Jellicoe after computing the month by month loss after Admiral Tirpitz's threat and when the toll passes the million mark he tells how he has to forgo his plans as laid down in "The Crisis of the Naval War" for "the only step," Lord Jellicoe writes, "was to give the convoy system a trial."

Pollen declares that this is a damaging statement and concludes with the statement: "The American help was not, could not be a decisive factor."

America Lives Too Fast Says Ohio Minister
 Columbus, Ohio, Aug. 25.—The speed fever is cursing American life, Ponzl and his dupes are good illustrations.

Thus declared Rev. Arthur E. Cowley, local Baptist clergyman, sermonizing on "The Speed Demon."

"America is gripped by the speed demon. There are Ponzls by the score in America, men who want to get rich quick. They always find those who want to invest. Men must learn that wealth means work."

"Much of our industrial unrest is due to the fact that too many men want to own houses and automobiles in six months. Wealth and destruction may seem to be a quick remedy for ills, but they are not. Only powerful arbitration and agitation can accomplish anything. Let America stop her fast living. Let her restore the lost art of meditation. Let her take time to know God and the higher things of life and we will have fewer nervous blowouts."

Aged Silverton Women Called

Silverton, Or., Aug. 25.—Mrs. Elizabeth Bowen, one of the very earliest settlers of this territory, died at her home west of Silverton Saturday and was buried in Bethany cemetery, near where she has lived for many years, Monday. The funeral was conducted by Rev. J. A. Bennett, pastor of the Christian church. She was among the very oldest pioneers of Silverton and had lived here the greater part of her life. Mrs. Bowen is survived by a large circle of relatives and friends in the vicinity of Silverton.

Mrs. Cynthia Hosmer.
 Silverton, Or., Aug. 25.—Mrs. Cynthia Hosmer, an aged lady of this city, died at 5:30 yesterday morning from injuries sustained by a fall several days previous. Mrs. Hosmer lived with her daughter, Mrs. T. E. Preston, over their store on Main street. Having been partially blind for some time she was walking across the floor and fell head first down the stairs. She sustained a broken collar bone and was otherwise injured. She had been helpless since the accident and death followed soon.

Mrs. Hosmer came to Silverton several years ago and for many years previous lived in Durand, Wisconsin. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. George Dedrick of San Francisco and Mrs. T. E. Preston of Silverton, also a son, J. E. Hosmer of Silverton. It is expected that the funeral arrangements will be made this morning upon receipt of a message from Mrs. Dedrick. The funeral will probably be held in the Christian church Friday.

Child Attempts Suicide After Punishment Tobacco Crop Is Hurt by Weather
 Paterson, N. J., Aug. 25.—Thirteen-year-old Helen Firmin ran out of her home screaming, holding a revolver in her hand as she sought the ground unconscious, while neighbors rushed to her assistance. The girl was taken to the general hospital, where it was said she would recover.

The child said that she tried to kill herself because she had been punished by her foster-mother for disobedience.

Boy's Attempt To Scare Folks Costs His Life
 Chicago, Aug. 25.—"Accidental death by suffocation while attempting to frighten his parents" was the verdict of the coroner's jury into the death of William Douglas, aged fourteen, of this city. The boy hanged himself.

Mrs. A. W. Douglas, the boy's mother, testified that she had scolded William several times that morning for various misdeeds. "She had had looked at me with tears in his eyes and said that I'd be sorry."

Cherchez La Femme.
 Muskogee, Okla., Aug. 25.—A pretty ankle displayed on a street here delayed paving twenty-four hours. A driver of a truck filled with asphalt for the paving work saw a pretty ankle as a woman walked down the sidewalk. Not watching where he was driving his truck hit a telephone pole. It took a day to catch up with the delay caused by the destruction of the truck.

Flagpole Saves Apartment House
 New York, Aug. 25.—A giant flagpole on the roof of a six story apartment house saved the residence from injury during a terrible thunder and lightning storm when it acted as a lightning rod and broke the force of a bolt which otherwise would have struck the

Believes Adam and Eve Wrote a Poem or Two

(By H. B. Touriel, Asst. Editor of the Daily News.)
 London, Aug. 25.—Angels with flaming swords were poised to guard the gates of Eden after the expulsion of Adam and Eve. In spite of evidence to the contrary, I have an idea that they—Adam and Eve—must have written some poems. That was probably how the serpent was introduced into the world.

The attitude of the average person to poetry and poets is frankly hostile. A thief, murderer, and a fender against any moral law has the right to trial. A poet, a man or woman who dreams and tries to put the dream into beautiful language, is really considered some one who is not quite a fit associate for decent people.

"Here's a poet! Heave a brick at him!" seems to be a general axiom of the modern world.

Some three-rate artist is allowed to take up valuable space in front of a picture gallery building, to plant all the professional paraphernalia in some beauty spot, and to outrage nature on canvas without any vocal protest. In fact, it is more likely than not that he or she will be welcomed by a chorus of "My How Lovely!"

The musician who invades the silence is never ostracised. He or she is allowed to cheat the hair-dresser at will, to flaunt horrible costumes in the face of a tolerant world, and is probably labelled as an interesting person.

The poor poet until he has stormed the heights of Parnassus victoriously is a pariah, an outcast a thing scarcely worthy of being considered a human being.

Wife Says Hubby Drew Gun, Caused Her To "Desert"

Asserting that her husband had driven herself and daughter from their home, using a shotgun as an argument, Emille A. M. Fandrich filed a reply Tuesday to Daniel Fandrich's assertions that she had deserted him.

After the gun incident Mrs. Fandrich asserts that she and her daughter remained away from their former home. She further states that her husband has failed to provide for their minor daughter as asserted that he had purchased only two ribbons and a pair of stockings for their daughter, since 1915. She asks for a decree of divorce and maintenance amounts for their daughter and that she be given custody of the child.

In relating the gun incident, Mrs. Fandrich claims that with her daughter she had returned to their home after attending church and that her husband met them at the door and brandishing the firearm refused to admit them.

Men Quarrel, Duel, Kiss, and Make Up

Rome, Aug. 25.—The world's longest duel has just been fought here between Signor Giovanni Favino and Signor Domenico Durante, who quarrelled in a fashionable restaurant. The duel began at 1:30 in the morning and raged furiously under a blazing sun until noon, with neither swordsman able to break his foe's defense. At noon they quit because they were hungry and thirsty, kissed each other and then arm in arm adjourned to a neighborhood cafe.

Delirium After 56 Hours at Piano

London, Aug. 25.—An attempt to play for one hundred consecutive hours on a piano ended in unconsciousness and delirium for the pianist, C. Witham, of Leeds, after 56 hours non-stop playing.

To ward off sleep the pianist was shomped and provided with a strong preparation in the form of smelling salts. He smoked 500 cigarettes and his food which was administered by his wife, consisted of jellies, milk and eggs. His repertoire included about 4,000 pieces.

The Bartlett pear crop harvest is a full swing at Grants Pass. About one third of the crop is in the warehouse or already shipped.

Shooting Men O.K. Not So with Women

Chicago, Aug. 25.—Police records show that women have invariably gone free for shooting men in Chicago, but in court here recently a woman was convicted for shooting a woman. The woman, Mrs. Florence Leebody, shot and wounded a neighbor as a climax to a heated argument. She pleaded not guilty, but was sentenced to jail for one year.

Person Replaces Mail Carrier's Wrecked Auto

Hubbard, Or., Aug. 25.—State Highway Commissioner Simon Beaulieu of Portland, who met with a auto accident here Tuesday, was in the city Tuesday. Mr. Benson left here after accident he thought that he escaped without injury, but he Tuesday that he is now feeling the effects of his fall. Fred, the other victim, who also was injured, was not injured, but he sustained a fracture of three rib bones.

Mr. Palmer went to Portland today to select a new car. When here Tuesday Mr. Benson asked a mail carrier, whose car was wrecked in the accident, if his car had a starter. When told that it had not, Mr. Benson said, "You and I are getting together to crank a car and you had better get a new Ford with a self-starter. Fred feels very well satisfied with the settlement. The wrecked car will be repaired and the new one will be here as soon as Mr. Palmer has a substitute on the mail line. Mr. Benson's wrecked car was taken to Portland today on a truck.

Hubbard Man On Visit To Idaho Called by Death

Hubbard, Or., Aug. 25.—Chris Bontrage, an aged resident of this vicinity, who went with Mrs. Bontrage early in August to visit their daughter at Boise, Idaho, died shortly after their arrival, according to a letter from their son, D. J. Bontrage, addressed to Hubbard friends.

Before leaving for Boise Mr. Bontrage made the statement that he would be glad to die if he could see his daughter once more. "My anxious father reached his daughter's home in Idaho about the fifteenth of this month, and a few days later was taken suddenly ill and passed away in a few days. Nothing has been learned of the funeral arrangements, but it is presumed that he was buried in Idaho."

Wagon Struck by Auto On Highway

Gervais, Or., Aug. 25.—A car driven by W. C. Crawford of Woodburn collided with a one-horse wagon on at the cross roads east of here Sunday night and the wagon was slightly damaged. In the vehicle were Norman Cook and family of Gervais, who were returning from Woodburn where they had been attending church.

Almost opposite the Sam H. Brown home they found themselves between two cars each going in opposite direction. Mr. Crawford put on his dimmer and the light from the other car made it impossible for him to see the wagon in front of him. He was driving very slow and stopped suddenly as his machine hit the vehicle, thus preventing a serious accident.

Cook was obliged to leave his wagon by the roadside and proceed homeward on foot. He has no claim to present for damage sustained for the reason that he did not comply with the state law requiring vehicles to carry a red light at the rear when traveling at night.

Harvest Home Picnic Planned

Hubbard, Or., Aug. 25.—At a preliminary meeting held in this city today evening arrangements were made for a Harvest Home picnic to be given in Wolfar's park on Saturday, September 6. The program committee has already composed a program and they are certain to give of greatest enjoyment. Games will be provided, a musical program will be rendered and the games will be indulged in. The picnic dinner. The purpose of the picnic is to make Labor day more coming day for Hubbard who have been working so hard.

Fire Threatens Newberg Bridge

Aurora, Or., Aug. 25.—The Newberg bridge was threatened a few days ago by fire which had burned its way through the brush along the bank of the river and under the station county approach of the big structure. Roadmaster Culver and H. Swart of Salem spent the entire night fighting fire and finally succeeded in saving the bridge.

Exeter, Eng.—Henry Noble, 77, who fought with Garibaldi, the Italian patriot, a widower for two years, married a woman over 79 the other day. The honeymoon trip was postponed because the bride's mother, aged 97, was ill.

Tonsillitis Family.
 Chickasha, Okla., Aug. 25.—Now comes a tonsillitis family. It is that of J. W. Robertson, of Grand county, consisting of himself, wife and seven children. None of the family, according to Robertson have ever been bothered with the troublesome organ. The absence of tonsils, Robertson maintains, is due to natural causes not to operations.
