Stranded Dutch Ship Breaking To Pieces Today

San Francisco, Aug. 31.—The Dutch steamer Arakan, which went ashore in a fog Sunday night off Point Reyes, north of here, was buckling under the stoke hold and in "a bad way" according to a message sent from the vessel to the marine department of the harbor of commerce.

The vessel signalled for more pumps and the tug Sea Wolf was sent from here with pumps and other wrecking gear. Two powerful tugs tried during the night to clear the Arakan from the sand spit.

Captain Samuel Van Ronkel and his crew of approximately 70 men were standing by the ship, but the United States life saving station crew at Point Reyes had equipment ready for action. Arrangements were being made Monday to lighter the cargo.

The Arakan is owned by the Java-Pacific Steamship company and was bound from Batavia to this port with a cargo of sugar and rubber.

The Arakan is a steel screw steamer of 5106 tons gross register.

Brooklyn Tied Up Thru Strike Of Transit Men

New York, Aug. 31.—More than 1,000,000 residents of Brooklyn who depend upon the Brooklyn Rapid Transit company to take them to business were reduced Monday to improvised and even primitive methods of conveyance by the strike of that company's employes which virtually shut down the entire transit system—subways, elevated roads and trolleys. The strike went into effect early Sunday morning after failure to adjust wage demands.

Notwithstanding the use of automobiles, from limousine to jitney, large trucks and horse drawn wagons, many thousands had to walk to their distant places of work. Steamboats and police boats were pressed into East river service.

Officials of the company announced that strikebreakers will be employed.

Application has been made for protection of trains. Louis M. Fridiger, attorney for the strikers, insisted the only vital question now was that of arbitration. Arbitration was refused by Judge Mayer, legal custodian of the system, who retained the right to reduce any award in accordance with the bankrupt company's ability to pay.

Beach Season Continues Late

Twin Rocks, Or., Aug. 31.—Although in normal years the beach season is expected to close with Labor day and the opening of school, this year it is expected that there will be a large number of vacationists who will spend their outings here during September. The providing of housing facilities at the various Tillamook beaches has not been rapid enough to keep pace with the gain of these resorts in popularity, the result being that many who have come during the past six weeks and have been unable to obtain cottages or have been decided to try again during the autumn. A large number of reservations have already been made at Rockaway, and at Twin Rocks practically every cottage has been engaged for at least the first two weeks of September. The same conditions obtain at all the other five beaches.

These beautiful resorts are winning a well deserved popularity with Salem people and it is expected that a much greater representation of Capital City vacationists will spend their outings here next season.

H. L. Stiff and S. Britenstein arrived last week to occupy just one cottage at Villa Camp, Bar View.

Mrs. Elsie B. Simeral spent the past week established in Lane's Camp, Manzanita beach.

Miss Edith E. Jones with a party of friends is domiciled for a fortnight in one of the Wise cottages, Bar View.

Mr. and Mrs. Welch and Mr. and Mrs. McElaine are among the cottagers at Rockaway.

The Misses Alice Lockard and Gladya Page are spending a pleasant vacation at the Brownie cottage, Bar View.

Frank B. Ward was among the campers on the ridge at Rockaway beach last week.

Mrs. R. Cartwright and daughter, Miss Constance and Miss Florence Cartwright, are spending a week at the Elmore hotel, Elmore.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Maurer and Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Pilkington recently spent a week's outing at Oh How Different cottage, Villa Camp, Bar View.

Mrs. Della Jeffrey was another visitor from the Capital city who registered at Bar View during the past week.

Hold Wheat For Boom In Market

Fargo, N. D.—Many North Dakota farmers are preparing to store their wheat on their farms after threshing to await better prices. They are building granaries of lumber and of woven wire lined with straw and are purchasing iron granaries. This is being done especially by the small farmers who raise livestock and diversified crops and whose individual wheat acreage is comparatively small.

In pursuing this course the farmers are taking the advice of J. A. McGovern, chief deputy state grain inspector and manager of the North Dakota Mill and Elevator company.

"Hold your wheat on the farm" says Mr. McGovern in a statement issued to the farmers. "Don't put it in a public elevator. As soon as you put it in a public elevator it is placed on the market and its sale will not help prices. North Dakota farmers can fix the price of their own wheat as well as the government fixed it for them. You can build or buy small granaries cheaply. But whatever you do, don't let the linnhorn gambler in grain to rob you of what you are justly entitled to."

"When the crop is threshed you will find you have not raised any more than last year, and it looks as if the weight would be lighter. Rust has hurt spring wheat all over the northwest. But if you handle the marketing of your wheat in a sane and wise way, you should receive a better price than last year."

He Has Hard Luck; Man Arrested, Car Struck, Fined $10

Fred R. Burch, route 2, is positive that it seldom rains without pouring, and that hard luck commonly comes in bunches, like bananas.

Saturday night at 8:30 Mr. Burch was arrested by Officer White for passing a streetcar on Liberty street while it was receiving and discharging passengers. He had to part with $10 bond for his appearance Monday.

Two hours later while his machine was standing on Church street near Fifth, an automobile said to have been driven by Thomas Cromley, also of route 2, crashed into Mr. Burch's car, splitting one of his rear tires.

Monday morning Mr. Burch appeared before Judge Race, charged with violating a city traffic ordinance. "You're fined $10," he was told. Mr. Burch signed and paid his assessment.

Two Cars Damaged In Head On Crash On State Street

Radius rods were smashed, fenders were damaged and lights were crushed out near midnight Saturday when a car driven by W. D. Albright, and a machine piloted by Fercy Thomas, met in a head-on collision on State street, between 24th and 25th streets. Nobody was injured.

Albright, according to police records, who was driving east on State, had turned toward the center of the street to avoid a parked car, and Thomas was passing a moving machine when the accident occurred. Both men claim to have been driving slow.

Albright, it was said, blamed Thomas for the accident, while Thomas is said to have declared that the crash was unavoidable.

Shook 'Em Down. Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 31.—Varney Ferris, eighteen years old, discovered that an easy way to make money was to visit houses which were being built and go through the street clothes of carpenters who discarded them while at work. Ferris is visiting here from Los Angeles. He will be sent to the state reformatory at Kearney.

Bureaus for Legal Aid Are Advanced

St. Louis.—There is a demand in all the great cities of the United States for the establishment of municipal legal aid bureaus. Ernest L. Tutin, of Philadelphia, told the American Bar association at its annual convention here. Mr. Tutin is director of public works in Philadelphia. He said the purpose of such a bureau or department would be to enable the poor to obtain justice and the foreigner to be relieved from imposition, to establish a place where the weak, helpless and ignorant would have their wrongs righted.

Local bar associations should take on the burden of cultivating public sentiment so as to prevent the legal aid bureaus from becoming tainted with political partisanship and should appoint a committee to advise and cooperate with the legal aid bureaus. Such a bureau, he said, had been authorized in Philadelphia.

The body of the man who was found in an abandoned mining tunnel near Pleasant Valley, Baker county, has been identified as that of Ira Hartley of Richland, Or. He had been missing several months.

24 of Religious Sect Awaiting Coming of Christ

Bangor, Me., Aug. 31.—Six men and eighteen women, founders of a new religious sect, are in camp on the outskirts of this city awaiting the second coming of Christ. They resemble the famous Millerites, except that they set no exact date for the advent of the millennium.

The party told the police they came to Maine from Pennsylvania. Neighbors have christened them the "Allenbyites," because the new sect believes that General Allenby, when he captured Jerusalem, fulfilled a prophecy in the gospel according to St. Luke and hold that
