Harvest Big Hop
CROP This Year

Receiving the kind of a tip while overseas, the Olson of near Marquam, had seventeen acres of hops last summer, shortly after his return he believes they will go to the acre. The harvest will commence next Monday. Planting in November, he said, is little out of the ordinary, and the harvesters told him that he would find them to be a failure, as no stand could be obtained by fall planting. He set out the plants, nevertheless, and is glad he did, for he has one of the best hop fields of seventeen acres that can be found in this part of the country.

Miss Addie Smith and Miss Wanda Thomas of Scotts Mills are visiting Mrs. E. Moser near here.

Roy Morley commenced picking in his big yard Wednesday, in the early hops, and will begin picking the clusters Monday. He will have a fine crop this year.

Heavy wind one night this week caused some little damage to hops in this locality. In some of the yards, the vines were blown down considerably.

Miss Rugna Quall of Portland has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Harry Warmdahl, near Monitor. Threshing is progressing fast in this vicinity at the present time, and there are few now who have not finished. Crops are reported heavy in all cases.

New Scotts Mills Bank Is Building

Scotts Mills, Sept. 4.—A new building is being erected for the Scotts Mills bank which was established a short time ago and opened in temporary quarters. The business is better than was expected for the beginning of a new enterprise, said Mr. Scott, the president, and the stock holders are very much pleased over the outlook for the future.

Harvest most of the banking business in Scotts Mills was done through the Mt. Angel bank. Some of the business firms have patronized the Silverton banks, but as Mt. Angel is the shipping point it seemed almost necessary to do banking in that town.

The Christian Endeavor of the Scotts Mills Christian church held a very pleasant social a few evenings ago. Twenty one young people from Salem came over in an auto truck and enjoyed the occasion. The Salem people furnished the entertainment. There were visitors from Silverton and Hubbard present also. One of the great features of the party was a watermelon feast at midnight immediately following the program. A short business session was held during the evening when the election of officers was held. O. C. Brougher was elected president. Miss Sylvia Heinz secretary and Lewis Shepard treasurer.

Hugh Magee of Salem has been spending some time in this vicinity on account of the illness of his little daughter, who has been at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Y. Magee.

Miss Helen Kelsey of Portland has been visiting friends in the city for a few days. Miss Kelsey formerly lived in Scotts Mills.

Several families from here left yesterday for the Morley hop farm near Marquam and will spend the harvest season camping and picking hops.

This week will mark the completion of the new community prune dryer, the construction of which has been in progress for some little time. It is a monster building and capable of taking care of all the prunes in this community. There are several other dryers, however, which will be operated also.

Numerous people who have been spending their vacation at Willhoit this season are coming out for the hop picking season, and the local stage man, Geo. W. Myers, is carrying a load every trip.

Some of the growers in this locality imagined that the rain of last week would be damaging to the prune crop here, but it was a benefit rather than a damage, for the yards are now in excellent condition and picking will be easier and cleaner. The fruit is ripening nicely and the harvest will be on in a short time.

Washington, Sept. 6.—Weather predictions for the week beginning Monday are: Pacific states—Generally fair, moderate temperature.

Pot Hunters In For Trouble Is Warden's Claim

That China pheasants are not in such plenty as in previous years in many Marion county sections is reported by Roy Bremner, game warden for this district. The unusually cold weather of last December and unlawful hunting are given as reasons for the scarcity of these royal game birds.

Warden Bremner has received many reports that farmers and others have been killing the pheasants out of season. Recently several suspects have been met by the warden and his deputies, but all of these were "hunting rabbits."

"However, the bag does not always net rabbits and there the hunter loses his equipment and a good sum of money in fines," states the game warden. The Chinese pheasant season for Marion county is October 1 to 31.

Mr. Bremner expressed appreciation of the co-operation shown by the true sportsmen of the district. "They are trying to conserve the game so that all will have an equal chance when the season opens. The man who is little enough to ignore these laws always pays for it either in fines due to discovery or to loss of prestige. No good sportsman has anything but contempt for the law violator," is Bremner's summary of the situation.

The first non-resident hunters' licenses issued in Marion county during the present year were those of Clark Boyer, Saturday, to all residents of Kelso, Washington; G. H. Gray, A. R. Gray, Philip Heaward and C. A. Taylor. Members of this party had expressed a desire to catch a few of Oregon's trout, but removed fish from the bill of fare upon learning that anglers' licenses to non-residents are also listed at $10 for each person.

Many licenses secured Those who have recently secured permits to hunt Oregon game are Walter L. Scheffe, O. E. Price, Paul Nicholson, E. N. Gillingham, T. E. Meeks, E. L. Meeks, F. V. Pickers Swarm To Yards As In Former Years

Independence, Or., Sept. 6.—Hop pickers were in evidence everywhere Saturday, in the vicinity of Independence, and the city took on the activities of former years in providing for the wants of campers. Many pickers who registered early in the season reached here during the fore part of the week and pitched their tents, but the general migration did not begin until Saturday. Every train reaching the city from all directions was crowded with people and their baggage, and the help at the station was almost inadequate to handle the increased traffic. Growers met the trains and furnished transportation to their yards. Saturday, it is said, witnessed the arrival of the largest crowd of pickers that have been seen here for several years.

Picking is general here today, having commenced in nearly every yard in the country this morning. The yards are all in excellent condition, hops are large and at the rate of eighty cents per hundred, which is paid by Independence growers this year, the harvesters generally are making good.

Independence will be a busy center of commerce for the next three or four weeks. It is estimated that more than three thousand people are employed in the several yards here and the payroll will aggregate $25,000 per day.

Tuscaloosa, Ala., Sept. 6.—Up in North Tuscaloosa, between Vance's Station and Kellerman, a little church, sitting back from the public road in a grove of big oak trees, was without a pastor on Sunday. When the congregation assembled the man who leads the flock in spiritual matters was absent. Sheriff Hughes had brought him down to Tuscaloosa and put him behind the bars of the county jail on the allegation that he was about to turn a couple of apples found souring in his orchard into
