

Socialists and Italians Troops Fight in Street

Triest, Sept. 10.—A socialist revolt in which barricades were erected in the streets and artillery, rifles, machine guns and bombs were freely employed in a struggle between rioters and the military, broke out here this afternoon. Italian troops and naval forces, however, had succeeded by 3 o'clock tonight in completely restoring order. At that hour the troops were patrolling the streets and a destroyer anchored in the harbor commanded the puzze square.

The fighting was sharp while it lasted. The socialists, who were well armed, challenged the troops to advance upon their barricades. Both sides then opened fire and several of the soldiers were wounded, while numerous casualties occurred in the socialistic ranks.

An evening approached the military drew artillery in position and prepared for a counter-attack. However, Civl Governor Mosconi ordered their socialist leaders to withdraw, which they did, and the rioters tore down their emplacements.

Civil Governor Mosconi issued an order for the dispersing movement in the streets after 10 p. m. and also forbidding anyone looking out of windows in the San Giacomo district where sniping has been frequent.

Alleged Deserter and Holpup May Be Hidin' in City

Salem police are searching for J. E. Foster, an alleged deserter, who is wanted by Portland police for robbery. Telephone word, asking for assistance of local officers, was received from Portland Friday night.

Foster is described as follows—Six feet in height, weighing 160 pounds, light complexion, wearing light green suit or brown overalls, likely wearing cap and carrying gun. The first finger of his right hand is missing.

"Alley Liz" Lying Low; No More Men Reported Robbed

"Alley Liz," Salem's Amazon-like robber extraordinary, is apparently lying low. No more men have been yanked into alleys and relieved of their money, police said this morning.

A close watch for a woman of the "Alley Liz" description is being kept by officers, but no suspects have been arrested. Chief of Police Welsh is of the opinion that "Liz" is a man.

Two hold-ups were staged by the unusual character within the last few days. Both were jerked into alleys and separated from their "rolls."

Superintendent Gilbert was notified, and the youth was returned to the school Saturday morning.

Red Cross Plan To Study Conditions

The Willamette chapter of the Red Cross voted at its last meeting to ask the division office for aid in making a study of the health and social conditions in the counties under its supervision. The purpose of the study will be to find the needs of these counties so that the chapter may determine its work for the ensuing year.

Through this investigation it will be endeavored to study the problems of the communities, to discuss the plans of the agencies, so that an intelligent plan may be made for the chapter's work. To determine whether a community is sick or well, what the tuberculosis rate may be, the death rate of babies in the county, percentage of school attendance, relief given in the county by charity societies during the year, the percentage of juvenile delinquency and the sanitary conditions of the community are some of the problems which are to be investigated. Any socially-minded person may assist in this survey.

A special health survey will be held October 6, at which time Miss Jessie U. Cox, representative from the division office, will be here. The following topics will be studied each by a separate committee: Health sanitation, child welfare and recreation. The study will take about three weeks and about time a preliminary report will be made. The actual plan for carrying out the work can not be made until after the arrival of Miss Cox.

Canada to Export Flour to Europe

Winnipeg.—More than 10,000,000 barrels of flour will be sent to foreign countries by Canada this year, according to estimates by agricultural and milling experts.

The total capacity of Canada's 220 flour mills is 142,642 barrels a day. Back in 1876, when the Hudson's Bay company, which is closing out its remaining lands to colonists, erected a mill sixty feet high with a capacity of 1,350 pounds a day, it was the marvel of the West—then agricultural world. Today even the smallest of the mills have a 200-barrel a day capacity.

It is estimated that each person in Canada consumes about a barrel and a half of flour, or six and a half bushels of wheat a year. Therefore to supply Canadian demands the mills must produce at least 9,750,000 barrels of flour. Last year Canada milled 18,225,000 barrels of flour from $2,612,000 bushels of wheat, making it possible to send to foreign countries 3,500,000 barrels of flour. The big grain crop this year, it is said, will result in much greater exportation of flour.

Salem Senators Play Honeyman Crew, Sept. 19

Manager Walter Kracke, of the Senator's baseball aggregation, announces that Salem fans will have an opportunity to witness a double-header Sunday, September 19. The Honeyman nine of Portland winners of the intercity championship, will attempt to win state honors by defeating Salem on that date.

The Honeyman crew will bring "Carl May" Swartz, Quisenberry and Harris as tossing material. The Portland team has lost only one game of 25 played during the present season. Manager Kracke feels that the Senators with their record of 18 victories from 25 games will administer defeat to the Honeyman club.

Members of this team are all lads, none of whom is more than 23 years of age. "They can play ball, however, and will give us a good battle," asserts Manager Kracke.

Salem may have an opportunity of seeing "Kings" Cole again in Salem uniform. Kracke's tentative twirling force is Cole, Bishop and Myers.

The games will be played for a $500 purse, which will be awarded to the team that takes two games of a series of three. In case Salem only takes one game in the double header here, the Senators will play the final game in Portland. In addition to the purse, the winner will receive the total gate receipts.

Manager Kracke plans to open the game at 2 o'clock on the Sunday the twin battle is staged.

Get Rich Scheme Out-Ponzies Ponzi

Indianapolis.—A proposal that out-Ponzi's Ponzi, in the view of Indiana state officials, has just been made to anybody in the state who wants to get rich quick on coal at a jitney a ton. Here is how opportunity knocks in a letter just received by John W. McCordie, vice chairman of the public service commission:

"Kindly pardon the liberty a stranger is taking in writing to you. NOTICE IN THE PITTSBURGH PAPERS that your state is short of coal. I have a suggestion for what it is worth. Viz: That I have for sale a fine tract of 6,000 acres of bituminous coal in operation for quick shipment to buyers. It is located right close to a rail road for shipment anywhere and the coal is very good. It will be sold account only age of the owner. Mining 2,000 tons per day. can be increased. Price Three and half Million. ONE million down balance in payment to suit, in ten years time, vein 8 feet. According to statements of Experienced coal miners an Eight foot vein would have as much coal per acre to make the price asked only five cents per ton. Should any one in your state care to look into it will be glad to hear from them, it is in West Virginia. Yours truly, J. M. Drill, "Wilkinsburg, Pa."

Buries Wrong Man; Finds Son Alive

New York, Sept. 9.—Mrs. Sarah Levine of 169 Monroe street, grief-stricken after burying a man she had identified as her son, was notified that her son Jacob Jacob, twenty-eight years old, was alive in Bellevue hospital. She hurried there and found her son waiting for her to take him home.

An unidentified man fell unconscious at Broome and Ridge streets and was taken to Gouverneur hospital suffering from morphine poisoning. About the same time Jacob Levine, the son, fell unconscious in front of the municipal building and was taken to Bellevue suffering from intestinal trouble. He recovered consciousness and asked the Bellevue authorities to notify his mother.

A patrolman went to the Levine home, but the family was away. He instructed tenants in the house to inform Mrs. Levine that her son was in Bellevue hospital, but a tenant told her that her son was in Gouverneur hospital.

Mrs. Levine, accompanied by her four daughters and a son, went to Gouverneur hospital, where the man who was taken ill at Ridge and Broome streets was dying. She identified him as Jacob. A few hours after she was notified that the man had died and she engaged an undertaker at 203 East Broadway and paid $100 for a plot in the Montefiore cemetery, L. E. After a brief service in the Bellevue morgue, next door to where the son lay ill, the body was interred and the Levine family returned home. That is, the family held a memorial service in their home.

Rowe, Marr Quit After 5 Years On Local Force

After being associated with the Salem police force for five years, during which time he served under four police chiefs, Officer Harry Rowe Saturday tendered his resignation to Chief Welsh. Mr. Rowe will succeed John Marr as merchants' patrolman, who has served in that capacity for the past five years. Mr. Marr has taken a position as foreman of the Salem fruit union.

Mr. Rowe first served in Salem in 1915 during Chief Welsh's first term of office in this city. Since then he was subject to orders of Chief Cooper, Chief Foland and Chief Varney.

"I'm losing one of the best officers I ever had," Chief Welsh said today.

W. H. Porter, who was formerly employed as a guard at the state penitentiary, was today sworn in as a successor to Officer Rowe. Porter also was formerly a member of the Portland police force.

Doctors Puzzled by Woman's Case

Warsaw, Poland.—The door of the Red Cross barracks at Pinsk, in eastern Poland, burst open on a dark, rainy night and a peasant woman, muffled in a rain-soaked shawl, tumbled in and sank down upon a packing box.

She was moaning and chattering alternately, clasping her stomach with her hands as if racked with pain.

In vain the doctors and nurses tried to find out her ailment, but their few words of Russian failed to stem the torrent of her moaning complaint.

"It looks as though we might have to administer an anaesthetic before we can make an examination," one of the doctors concluded.

The expedient might have been carried out but for the arrival of a chauffeur who had been out with one of the doctors on a particularly urgent case. He spoke to the woman and her moans and contortions redoubled. After she had talked for a few minutes, the American doctor interrupted.

"She's evidently a pretty sick woman. What does she say in her matter? It looks like it might be a case of poisoning."

"No," said the interpreter, after listening to another volley of words.

"She says it is her sister who is sick. She is just trying to show a memorial service in their home, what is the matter with her?"

Pickers Win Suit for 3 Cents Pound Against Anderson

Three cents a pound for all loganberries and costs were granted six plaintiffs in a justice court civil suit in which Mr. and Mrs. Knute Anderson were defendants, in an opinion handed down today by Judge G. E. Unruh. Mr. and Mrs. Anderson had declared that the plaintiffs were to get three cents only if they stayed through the season. This, the defendants claimed, the plaintiffs did not do.

"Evidence showing that the plaintiffs were entitled to three cents was to my mind, overwhelming," Judge Unruh stated today.

On the stand Mr. Anderson was apparently uncertain as to what he had promised the plaintiffs. The trial was held on August 27.
