

Gloria Swanson Would Be Mere Old-Fashioned Mother To Babe

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 13.—This city, motion picture capital of the world, would have an uncrowned queen who from present appearances will never wear the diadem of popularity which a host of admirers would have thrust upon her.

The object of these unusual honors, who is as jealously guarded as the famous hundred million dollar MGM baby, is just a wee mite of a girl. Of course, she has nothing to say about coronations, but her mother has—so thereby hangs a tale.

When Mrs. Herbert K. Somborn, known to millions of "movie" fans as Gloria Swanson, became a mother on October 13 a legion of motion picture stars, near stars, actors, supernumeraries, property men, press agents and mere managers who have at some time been associated with her joined in various little celebrations.

They decided that Gloria Swanson Somborn, heiress to the fame of her talented mother, should be appropriately honored. But they met with an unexpected move on the part of the parent when she was told of the shower of publicity that awaited the newcomer.

"My baby belongs to me, not to 'movie' land," said Mrs. Somborn. "And she will not be the honored guest at parties, or pestered for a battery of camera men, or carted around by press agents to satisfy the curiosity of an admiring public. 'I may appear selfish, but I want my baby all to myself and husband. We are so happy these days that I think of nothing but what she means to us. Maybe I am old-fashioned—I hope I am—for a home and a motion picture career are two different things. While I may belong to a world of make believe, my little Gloria belongs only to her parents."

Mrs. Somborn made an enviable reputation with the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation, following a varied experience with other film concerns, considerable of which was in the comedy field.

Previous to her temporary retirement from films several months ago she had been playing leads in Cecil B. De Mille's all-star productions. Her work in "Don't Change Your Husband," "For Better, For Worse," "Male and Female," "Why Change Your Wife?" and "Something to Think About" increased her popularity.

She expects to be back with the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation about January 1, but insists that her baby will claim every spare minute of her leisure time. Under a new long-term contract she is to be featured in a new De Mille series.

Mrs. Somborn's husband is also interested in motion pictures, his line being that of a promoting magnate.

Motorist Takes To Ditch To Avoid Striking Horses

Hubbard, Or., Nov. 13.—Frank Scherbach, a farmer living near here, took a wrong change yesterday afternoon when he went off the highway into a ditch south of town to prevent killing a team of horses which a young man named Reed was driving.

Reed was hauling a load of straw and had stopped the team just before turning in the lane leading to his house, to wait for the car to pass. Another car had stopped behind the load, the driver having observed Scherbach's car approaching. Reed was conversing with a friend and did not notice the horses as they turned across the highway immediately in front of the car which was running at about twenty miles an hour.

Mr. Scherbach turned to the left to prevent colliding with the team and it was then he first saw the car standing behind the loaded wagon. In an effort to dodge the other machine he pitched off into the ditch and the car turned over on its side, but a high bank on the left prevented it from turning over, and this is all that saved the driver from serious injury. After the car was pulled out by the team that caused all the excitement it was found that only minor damage was done.

Woodburn, Nov. 13.—The two burglaries committed here one night last week are supposed to have been the work of boys living in this vicinity. The same night the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Haverly was burglarized but the only thing missing is a small amount of money.
