Just Folks By Edgar A. Guest

This is the thing I would have you learn—nothing is yours to keep. And never you'll rest from the need of toil till the last, long final sleep; There's never a place or a time in life when nothing you'll have to do. Whatever the post you shall come to here, it shall call for the best in you.

You may dream of riches and all the joy which silver and gold can buy, But the greater the wealth that shall come to you, the greater your care shall be; For the more that this life shall give to you, the more to life you must give. For this is the great unwritten law: No man to himself can live.

His God bestowed on you talents rare by which you may rise to fame? Then upon your soul He has laid the charge with courage to use the same; Nor shall nor power can bring you ease, for this you shall find is true— He who has much to do with here, shall ever have much to do.

For life and talents and wealth and fame are given to men in trust, And each must work with the gifts he has till his flesh returns to dust. For this is the law which governs all and this is the common law— He that shall come to the best life has, must give to the world his best.

Wind Takes Roof Off Photograph Gallery In Storm

Mr. Angel, Dec. 17.—The wind storm that swept over the valley one night last week proved to be a real tornado in Mt. Angel and this town in its path. The photograph gallery was damaged to a great extent. The roof was torn off and the sky light broken. The building was near a complete wreck next morning. An electric sign was blown from the Rex theater and the building otherwise damaged.

Geo. Critch has sold his home market at Scotts Mills and will move to his farm near that town. A section in Mt. Angel have been laid off to reduce expenses. Wm. Frank, the drayman, has purchased a new truck and has abandoned the old team and dray wagon.

Mrs. R. J. Welton and daughter went to Riddle yesterday to spend a few days with Mr. Welton, who is working in the S. P. station there.

Dallas

Dallas, Dec. 17.—Editor E. A. Keen and son, Edward, were in Portland transacting business Friday and Saturday.

Mrs. L. D. Brown accompanied Mrs. Don Shepherd and child to Portland Friday, returning to Baker to visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McKinnis, and expects to make her home at Baker City, O. J. Hold, who has been spending the past few months in eastern Oregon, has returned to Dallas to resume his position with the Willamette Valley Lumber company.

Rev. Frank James and P. J. Voth were in Portland Tuesday to confer with E. C. Lowe, consulting architect of the board of architects of the Methodist Episcopal church of Chicago.

Mrs. Ida Chamberlain of Lebanon, Or., was the week end guest at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Frank James.

D. P. Veitell of McMinnville transacted business in Dallas last of the week.

J. E. Coleman of Salem was in town last of the week visiting with friends.

The friends of Miss I. Geard Shaw will be pleased to hear she is recuperating after a severe attack of influenza.
