

Ulrich Chosen Recall Candidate for Office Of Polk County Judge

Dallas, Or., Dec. 20.—Another step was made by those Polk county residents who are dissatisfied with the county court's achievements in obtaining good roads, when J. H. Ulrich of Airlee, was unanimously chosen as recall candidate to oppose Judge A. B. Robinson for the office of county judge at a meeting of delegates from 41 county precincts which was held here Saturday afternoon.

Mr. Ulrich said: "I did not seek the nomination, and I accept it reluctantly. But because the county court has come to a deadlock with the highway commission, and in order that the roads in our county may be made passable, and in order that the people may work together harmoniously, it is necessary to have a change. With this in mind I accept with the sole intention of being of service to the people of this county. I trust no mud-slinging will be done during the campaign, and should I be elected I promise a square deal to everybody."

Judge Robinson, who appeared near the close of the meeting, was introduced by G. O. Holman as a "man who has the backbone to do what he thinks is right." Judge Robinson said in part:

"It is rather a surprise to be called upon to speak at this meeting. Concerning roads, I can say that I have given as much money to the improvement of roads as the financial condition of the county would permit, and that I have distributed it equally and according to the needs of the majority of the people." He offered a comparison of the road conditions of Yamhill and Polk counties and declared that if conditions were looked at fairly there could be no chance for criticism. Attorneys Oscar Hayter and Joe Sibley spoke in behalf of Judge Robinson.

"That the sentiment of the people is not against Judge Robinson as a man, was the declaration of G. A. Peterson, of the Suver country. Judge Robinson has character, honor and integrity," Peterson said, "but the taxpayers want road improvements and I believe that they will be benefited by a change."

The meeting, at which about 200 were present, was called by the Polk County Observer, Hugh Black of Dallas was elected secretary.

Duck Found 2500 Miles From Home

Dallas, Ore., Dec. 20.—Peter P. Jensen, of Camrose, Alta., recently shot a pintail duck whose leg was encircled by a metal band on which was engraved: "Released by the American Museum at New York. Will finder please notify us." The distance between New York and Camrose is 2500 miles.

Jensen owns a farm in the newly settled area along the Canadian National railways which is a nesting ground for wild geese and many varieties of ducks. These fowl had already begun their migration southward when the pintail was killed. How far this particular duck had been north is not known. The summer habitat of the pintail extends as far as the Arctic ocean.

But the direction of this duck's flight from New York, is pointed out, is scientifically interesting. In their spring migrations, aquatic fowl, it has been thought, fly straight north. If the pintail had lived up to this tradition it would have gone from New York into the highlands of Ontario or Labrador. The fact that it winged its way westward half across the continent, has upset existing theories and may lead to new discoveries regarding the migratory habits of wild fowl.

With one exception, "The Chu Chin Chow" Co., the "Listen Lester" is the biggest musical comedy company that ever appeared on the Pacific coast. ### Monkey Chooses Own Companion

Squirrel Playmate

San Francisco, Dec. 20.—Mme. Charlotte, the temperamental monkey who delights the children at Golden Gate park with her unending display of pranks, has at last secured a companion.

Charlotte, herself, solved the problem which long had perplexed Supt. David Wooster Taylor. The new companion to Mme. Charlotte is one of the brown squirrels that inhabit the park.

The squirrel, of an inquiring turn of mind, entered Charlotte's cage through a hole in the wire netting. Charlotte prevented exit by twisting the wire into place. The squirrel seems contented, as food is abundant and on cool nights they snuggle together.

Previously Charlotte's loneliness had caused Supt. Taylor no end of worry. He placed a honey bear in the monkey cage, but Charlotte kept the bear awake by pulling his ears and he had to be removed. A puppy placed in the cage proved too interesting a plaything for Charlotte, and he was removed because the worse for wear. A bird suffered a worse fate.

Then Supt. Taylor threw up his hands in dismay. Another long period of loneliness for Charlotte until she solved the problem of a companion herself. Now all is well.

Vanderlip Not To Visit Washington At Present Time

New York, Dec. 18.—Washington D. Vanderlip, mining engineer and promoter who claims to have received concessions of $3,000,000,000 in potential value in Siberia from the Russian soviet government, said today he had abandoned his previously announced plan of going immediately to Washington to present arguments in favor of resuming trade relations with Russia. Instead, he will start for Los Angeles, Cal., where he will confer with financial backers regarding the step to be taken.

He said he had received information that he might be treated with coldness at the capital and his change of plans is no way to be influenced by news of this attitude. He declined to say further his change of program.
