

Gervais Man More Seriously Injured Than First Thought

Gervais, Or., Jan. 30.—A more thorough investigation of Harrison Jones' injury sustained a few days ago when a tree fell upon him, indicate that his condition is more serious than was at first expected. His knee is badly crushed and one leg is seriously injured. With his pocket knife Mr. Jones removed the dirt from under him and was able to crawl out from under the tree before he was found by his son, but was unable to walk on account of the injury sustained. It is probably due to this fact that he did not suffer seriously from the exposure, as he was able to move around some by crawling upon his hands and one knee. Reports are to the effect that he is resting as comfortably as could be expected under the circumstances.

Foot prints in the dirt at the rear of A. DeJardin's store Thursday morning indicated that a couple of fellows had been trying to gain entrance to the building during the night. Negroes Wanted For Housebreaking Are Captured

Woodburn, Or., Jan. 31.—Two negroes giving the names of Andrew Andrews and James Boney, claiming their residence in Washington, were arrested near here Thursday evening by Officers Long and Hughes of Clackamas county. They are charged with burglarizing a home in the southern part of the county when a suit of clothes and several pieces of jewelry were stolen. When arrested Andrews had on the suit of clothes and Boney had the jewelry in his possession. It was a big, black and dangerous looking pair, but no resistance was made and they accompanied the officers back to Oregon City where they acknowledged their guilt before Judge Noble and were held in the county jail to await action of the grand jury. The negroes were in the vicinity of the McCreedy home by neighbors and being exceptionally large men and very black it was easy to obtain description. With this the officers started up the highway and caught sight of the men as they were walking on the railroad track near here several hours after the burglary was committed. They seemed to be glad the officers arrested them, for they were about half starved and a good meal and a place to sleep seemed to be in sight.

Old Iron Foundry at Woodburn Sold

Woodburn, Or., Jan. 30.—Having purchased the old iron foundry building in this city from John McKinney, M. Starnes & company of Albany have commenced to dismantle the structure and will remove the salvaged material to that city for the construction of a tannery. The iron foundry was erected a long time ago and in years past the managers enjoyed a very successful business. With the advent of the lumber industry at silverton there seemed to be a greater demand here for foundry work than in Woodburn and the managers decided to move the equipment to that city in a building which was erected last summer by Eastman Brothers. It is in the construction of this building at silverton that a damage case now pending in the circuit court between J. C. Healy and L. C. Eastman arose. Mr. Healy, of Albany, moved his equipment to silverton last August but the foundry building in this city has been unoccupied. It was a large structure and the timber used was of the best. The lumber is as sound and bright at the present time as it was when the building was erected.
