

Bolshevism Holds Threat Of World War

Spring Likely to See Important Moves By Reds Declares Prince Kropotkin

Tokio, Feb. 28. — That bolshevism has created an extremely dangerous world situation, with strong possibilities of another war on an extensive scale as the late world war, and that spring will likely see decisive developments with the rule of Trotsky and Lunine, are views held by Prince Alexis Kropotkin, a nobleman of the old Russian regime, who arrived in Tokio to solicit funds for the starving people of far eastern Siberia.

Trotsky has a big army, well-organized and he has a big nation behind him held in submission by bayonets and machine guns," said Prince Kropotkin, in reply to a question regarding further war. The bolshevist leaders have no patriotism; they care not a thing for their own country, but have as their sole aim the destruction of other countries' governments. Take the other countries; Turkey, Greece and Italy have no armies to speak of; Austria is disorganized; Germany is defeated; France with a strong anti-bolshevist spirit but tremendously reduced by the war; England her hands full with colonial and national problems. It is much too easy for the bolsheviks. I regard the world situation as extremely dangerous.

The bolshevist agents in the United States have great trouble in accomplishing their work, Prince Kropotkin says.

2 Auto Thieves, Chased by Salem Man, Take to Heels

Two men pursued, or something like that, followed close in their wake. This was demonstrated yesterday when a son of B. C. Kresnal, 39 S. 14th street, saw his father's stolen automobile pass by.

Following in another machine, young Kresnal followed and the Capitol caught up with the stolen vehicle.

When he yelled at the two boy thieves, they stopped the machine, jumped out and disappeared quickly, running east on north Mill street. Kresnal told the police.

The Kresnal car was stolen from where it was parked near the Kresnal home.

London Girls Wear Chignons

London, Feb. 28.—Chignons have again come into public favor. Several examples were worn at a recent ball. They consist of a very large smooth roll of hair set high at the back of the head and kept in place by a comb just below it.

Rumely Dealer Institutes New Repair Service

Instituting a repair service on trucks, tractors and grain separators, William H. Trumm, farm implement dealer located at 326 North Commercial street, announces that he is now specializing in strictly Rumely business, and will handle only such articles of farm equipment as put out by that concern.

The feature of the repair service is that it will be only necessary to inform him of any trouble which Rumely owners might have, and the repair man will be on the job as fast as the repair truck can reach the user, thus doing away with the necessity of bringing the machine into town. The repair man whom Mr. Trumm has placed in charge of the new department is an expert in Oil-Pull machinery, the line put out by the Rumely concern, and is able to correct any trouble that farmers might have with the different machines.

A letter received by Mr. Trumm recently from the Advance-Rumely Tractor company, states that the new Rumely trucks have arrived in Portland. These trucks are equipped with 3x7 rear, and 4x6 front pneumatic tires, and with cab windshield and express grain body, and are now ready for immediate delivery. These trucks can also be obtained with solid tires. Delivery on grain separators, tractors and other farm implements, according to the letter, can also be made at once.

"The Oil-Pull tractor is the pioneer tractor of the northwest," said Mr. Trumm, yesterday, in speaking of the growth of the tractor business. "It is not an uncommon thing to find Oil-Pull tractors in the hands of farmers for over ten years, and still giving good service.

"Power farming has become a necessity for the farmer today, but the tractor, which is often hailed as the farmer's friend, in many cases has been his worst enemy, because many tractors heretofore, have been in experimental stage, and second, because dealers have over-rated their lines.

"To make a tractor a profitable investment it is necessary to know what a tractor will do, and how long it will last. The size and the life of a tractor," said Mr. Trumm, "determines the price.

"There is an Oil-Pull tractor for every size farm. At present the concern is putting out four sizes: 30-60, 20-40, 16-30 and a 12-20. We are also handling grain separators in 22-36, 28-48, 32-52 and 36-60 sizes. To complete the line we are handling the Rumely 1 1/2-ton truck."

Good Funeral Held.

Independence, Or., Feb. 28. — The funeral of D. D. Good, whose death Wednesday afternoon was mentioned in the Capital Journal Thursday evening, was held at the Presbyterian church yesterday afternoon at 2:30, conducted by the Masonic lodge, of this city. Dr. Dunsmore delivered the funeral address, and interment was in the Oddfellows cemetery. Business houses closed during the funeral hour, and the services were largely attended.

Four Arrested for Speeding; One With Old License Fined

Four motorists were arrested on speeding charges over the weekend by Traffic Officer Miller yesterday. They are E. C. Eweur of Portland, Frank Wilbur of Salem, M. Slocum, 1213 N. Church street, and C. Reed, 445 16th street, Portland.

All four men were arrested on Capitol street.

Slocum was riding a motorcycle and the other three motorists were driving automobiles. All will be arraigned before Judge Race today.

Harold Young, charged with operating his car with a lightless tail-light and with a 1920 license plate, pleaded guilty and was fined $5 Saturday.

Ever see a kittenish grin that was perfectly deadly? Hughe, unlovely Frederick Starr in a most villainous makeup used such a grin in "The U. P. Trail." Benjamin B. Hampton's great all-star film of the Zane Grey novel. He discovered the effectiveness of this smile while experimenting with all manner of ferocious scowls. (adv)

Journal's Weekly Book Revied

"Bypaths of Sicily," by Mrs. Elizabeth Putnam Heaton. Mrs. Heaton is a clever New York journalist who for reasons of health was forced to spend seven years in Sicily. Here she devoted her time to study of the Sicilian peasants and by making friends with them gained an unusual knowledge of their ways. Her "Bypaths in Sicily" shows rare human understanding and poses a real value, for she shows the inherent life of her characters.

The book is a treasury of legends, superstitions and customs of the people. One of the queer superstitions which she describes is that of the elf lock, a thin straggly lock of hair which is never cut or combed. It is supposed to show that the person who wears it lives under a spell and is marked from birth as the protege of a mysterious woman. Other interesting subjects are "The cleft cloak," "The hairy hand," "Jesus as destroyer," "Troina fair," and "Etna in anger."

Board Asked to Approve Plans For Irrigation

The State engineer's office here has been asked to pass upon plans for the construction of the Burnt River reservoir from which it is proposed to irrigate the lands in the Durkee and Bridgeport irrigation districts in eastern Oregon.

The two districts have planned to jointly construct the reservoir for the storage of 5100-acre feet of the waters of Burnt river for a supplemental supply for the irrigation of 5598 acres within the districts. The proposed dam is to

Legislators Take Exception to Prayer

Denver, Feb. 28.—Many members of the Colorado house of representatives are indignant because they intimate, "lobbyist prayers" are being injected into the ratifications of the chaplain in favor of continuing the Sunday blue laws that are now on the statute books. A bill is pending in the lower body repealing the existing laws, and members assert that Rev. J. R. Rader, the chaplain, is making direct reference to this measure when he pronounced the following supplication:

"O Lord, we pray Thee that these men may realize the enormity of the desecration of the Sabbath!"

"We pray for the realization that nations and individuals who deenerate the Sabbath do soon degenerate and decay."

Four Accidents Fatal

Four fatalities resulted from 358 accidents which occurred in the state during the week ending February 24, according to the report announced by the state industrial accident commission. Following are the men who were killed: John M. McCue, a logger, of Cottage Grove; Martin Crause, a donkey engineer, of Portland; Charles R. Phillips, laborer, of Powers; and Tony Grek, an edgerman, of Glenwood.

"Nobody Can Know What I Suffered"

"I am now enjoying splendid health for the first time in many years and I owe it all to Tanlac," said Mrs. Bertha Carlson of 594 Quinby St., Portland.

"Nobody but myself can know what I suffered during all those years. I never had any relish for food, and when I forced myself to eat a hearty meal I always paid the penalty. I had to be always taking medicine for constipation, my kidneys were disordered and my back hurt like it would break in two.

"I was so nervous I couldn't get any restful sleep and many a night I was awake suffering and wondering if there was nothing that could help me. But Tanlac has relieved me of every one of my troubles.

"Why, I just want to be eating all the time and my stomach never bothers me a bit. I have gained so much in weight I can hardly get my clothes on and just feel fine. I have been so delighted with the way Tanlac has restored my health that I got my son to taking it and he has already been helped wonderfully. Tanlac is certainly a grand medicine."

Tanlac is sold in Salem by Tyler's drug store and in all other towns by druggists. (adv)

The Way to Battery Service

Buy a Willard—Willard Threaded Rubber Battery. That's the first step.

Because the plates insulated not merely separated. No chance of puncturing, carbonizing, warping or replacement insulation. It outlasts the plates.

Next—keep your battery charged, and put in every two weeks.

Finally—drive twice a month for a battery test. You'll know the red Willard Sign.

Ask about the Willard Threaded Rubber Battery.

The Tide of Thrift Leads on to Fortune

$1,000,000

8 Per Cent Five-Year Gold Notes

Portland Railway Light and Power Company

Dated March 1, 1921—Due March 1, 1926
Notes Now Ready for Immediate Delivery
TITLE & TRUST COMPANY, PORTLAND, OREGON, Trustee

If you have any interest whatever in laying aside something for the proverbial "Rainy Day" the opportunity this Company is now offering you should be grasped at once.

The habit of thrift inevitably brings money and property to the man who possesses it, who lives within his income, saves constantly, invests prudently. His industry never lags. He always has what the unthinking call "good luck." Fortune comes his way. He is favored. Year after year he sees his store increase. Fear of poverty is banished. He lives in plenty.

The desire to spend, which torments so many who have little to spend, does not bother him, for with the prosperity his thrift brings him he learns true values and comes to know and thoroughly dislike waste, indulgence and every form of extravagance.

We say again to the prudent business man or woman and to the thrifty wage earner that no better opportunity has ever been presented to the investors of this community than the 8% five-year Gold Notes which are now being offered to our employees, customers and to the public.

A very large part of the entire offering of $1,000,000 worth of these notes has already been subscribed. These securities are in steady and strong demand and at the rate they are now being taken up it is only a matter of a very few days before the entire offering will be exhausted.

The investment is safe and sound, both as to principal and interest, as you can readily ascertain by consulting your banker.

These notes are backed by the large number of public utility properties which supply a useful and necessary public service to nearly 40 communities in this district.

Furthermore, it is a home investment in a large and growing industry whose development and progress will inevitably assist the prosperity of the many communities served by it.

We urge you to call at any of the Company's offices and investigate this unusual opportunity at once.

Notes in Denominations of $100, $500 and $1000
In limited amounts the notes may be purchased on installment payments.
