Coroner Rigdon was called to Donald a few days ago to hold an inquest over the body of an infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Crawford who was burned to death Monday afternoon while the parents were absent from mine home. It was purely a case of accidental death and no inquest was held. It is supposed that a 2-year old child obtained matches from some source and set fire to the bed where the infant was sleeping. The house was full of smoke when the mother returned and the child's body was burned black and the other child was gasping for breath.
 An automobile owned by T. J. Kimberling of Independence, was looted of virtually everything it contained yesterday, according to Mrs. Kimberling's report to the police. Two large cans of coffee, five pounds of raisins, three sacks of hominy and three plugs of chewing tobacco were among the articles stolen. Mr. Kimberling said. The machine was parked at 152 North Commercial, it was stated.
 Advising all members to settle their alleged difficulties in a manner that would make it unnecessary for the long arm of the law to interfere. Officer Hayden, yesterday precluded what was reported to be a "general family row" in the vicinity of 759 Columbia street. Members of the household agreed according to Officer Hayden's report.
 Robert N. Mann of this city, who Tuesday evening underwent an operation for appendicitis, is doing as well as could be expected, nurses at the Willamette sanitarium stated this morning. Immediately before and after his operation he was reported to be in a very critical condition.

 For rent, outside rooms U. S. National bank bldg.

The Santiam river is on another rampage and yesterday the water was over the road at the Sanderson bridge where trouble has been feared all winter. It is said that the rain is taking the snow out of its at the highest point now that it has been during the winter. It is believed, however, that this will be the last high water this season and during the summer the Sanderson bridge road will be permanently repaired.
 Mrs. A. C. Wright of Silverton was in town yesterday. Mrs. Wright is getting ready to build a home on property she owns in that city and was here to get the title of the land cleared before commencing building operations. Mrs. Wright says there will be an unusual amount of building done in Silverton during the spring and summer. Her neighbor, G. E. Anderson, is also making preparations to build a dwelling house early in the spring.
 Paul Schwabauer, who sold his pool hall in Silverton a few weeks ago, is in Salem visiting old time friends. Mr. Schwabauer has just returned from California where he went with a view to finding a location, but has decided not to move there until after he has accumulated a surplus of $2000. He is now negotiating for a pool hall at Independence. Mr. Schwabauer formerly lived in Salem.

Traveling men are bitter in their complaints regarding the carelessness of road supervisors in failing to notify the public when roads are closed. During the past two days the Silverton bridge has been impassable as under water, and despite the fact that gravel is being dumped, and road workers are busy, the traveler is permitted to go on to the bridge and then go back several miles to an alternate route, when a sign or a word of warning would have saved time and money.
 John Green of Prospect, veteran road builder of southern Oregon, who built the Crater Lake highway, was a Salem visitor Friday seeking a sawmill plant to supply lumber for the new power unit of the California Oregon Power company's Prospect plant. The addition will double the capacity of the plant which after its completion will generate 15,000 horse power from the waters of the North Fork of Rogue river.
 The library children will have only one story hour this Saturday and that will be at 10:30. A new story teller will entertain them, Miss Vivian Hargrove. The stories she will tell are "How the rhinoceros got his wrinkly skin" and "The chimney," the story of the winged horse. All of the children who like to sit still for half an hour to listen to stories are invited to enjoy them.
 Robin D. Day, administrator of the estate of Teresa Fruit of Gervais, has filed complaint in the circuit court against Ivan I. Fruit and Myrtle Fruit in which he demands a judgment and decree setting aside a deed to 61 acres of land included in the estate and asks that the defendants be enjoined from conveying the land to the administrator of the estate.
 This evening at eight o'clock a meeting will be held in the Richmond school for the purpose of making plans to establish junior high grades in the Richmond school for next year. A musical program will be a pleasant feature of the evening. All patrons and taxpayers of the school are invited to be present.

LOCAL CONCERN TAKES IMPORTANT STEP
 This is a vivid, interesting story worthy of your consideration. Before we decided to sell Hood tires we considered two very important points.
 First, we wanted a tire upon which we could stake without risk our money and our reputation.
 Second, we would put this tire to many tests, so that we could absolutely determine its value.
 Realizing that our success depended upon mutual dependency we carefully investigated the Hood organization, and their tire, under countless tests this tire proved its quality. It is a hand made tire, built up to a quality product and not down to a competitive price. It has two more plies of fabric than most tires. In fact it won us completely as it will win you. We believe that for full Dollar for Dollar value it offers you more for the money than any other tire not considering the freedom from tire trouble. This is why we back them with our name and money.
