

Coast Ball Teams Get Into Action

Where They Play

San Francisco, April 5.—Following is the Pacific Coast league schedule for April 5-10: Portland at San Francisco, Oakland at Salt Lake City, Vernon at Sacramento, Seattle at Los Angeles.

San Francisco, April 5.—First of the nation's organized baseball leagues to start the 1921 season, the Pacific Coast league gets away this afternoon with Portland playing here, Vernon at Sacramento, Oakland at Salt Lake and Seattle at Los Angeles.

Mayor James Rolph pitches the first ball here with Chief of Police Daniel O'Brien on his receiving end. After the officials leave the battery positions, Sam Lewis, pitcher, and Sam Agnew, catcher, Portland expects to use Herman Pillette, pitcher, and Del Baker, catcher.

Seattle Meets Angels In Los Angeles Openers Los Angeles, Cal., April 5.—The opening of the Pacific Coast baseball league season here today, with a game between the Seattle and Los Angeles teams, was marked by the customary parade and more than the customary enthusiasm by fans.

Batteries, as announced, were to be either Geary or Gardner and Spencer for Seattle, and Crandall or Lyons and Stange for Los Angeles.

From advance sales it was estimated that at least 10,000 persons would witness the game.

Vernon Tigers Clash With Sacramento Nine Sacramento, Cal., April 5.—Bright skies and a cool north wind greeted that portion of Sacramento which was prepared to attend this afternoon the opening game of the Pacific Coast league baseball season. A parade prior to the game was to take the Senators and the Vernon Tigers, champions of the last two years, to Buffalo park where Governor William H. Stephens was to pitch the first ball.

Love or Dell and Hannah were said to be Manager Essex's battery selections while Manager Dan Rodgers of Sacramento expected to open the game with Filley and Elliott.

Race Scored By Councilmen

(Continued from Page One.) about. A minute ago Ed Selank was making positive statements concerning this matter, and now his words are refuted by Mr. Egan. The trouble is that we get on here about ever so often, a jumble of figures is placed before us—

It was about this time that City Recorder Egan got to his feet. "That's not a jumble of figures, they're all correct," he declared, waving his left hand. Dr. Utter cut in, precluding the recorder's statement. Following the doctor's talk, H. H. Vandervoort addressed the chair and offered a few laudatory observations relative to the efficiency of the city recorder and city treasurer. The matter of the relief sewer was again taken up. After many minutes had been consumed, it found its way to the table.

Fire Hazard Considered. Sentiment favoring the council's support of Mayor Halvorsen in lessening the fire hazard in the city, was expressed after a report from the state fire marshal had been read. Certain of the buildings in Chinatown were held to be a menace by the official. Who should take care of the clean-up campaign proved to be a puzzle, but some of the aldermen contended that this work should be done by the sanitary inspector and the police. Mention of Sanitary Inspector J. N. Skalfie's name caused Councilman Baumgartner to move that the inspector be instructed to attend council meetings in the future.

"He's over at church," explained Alderman Marcus. "He told me he couldn't come tonight. For heaven's sake give the man a chance. He's got to attend church once in a while."

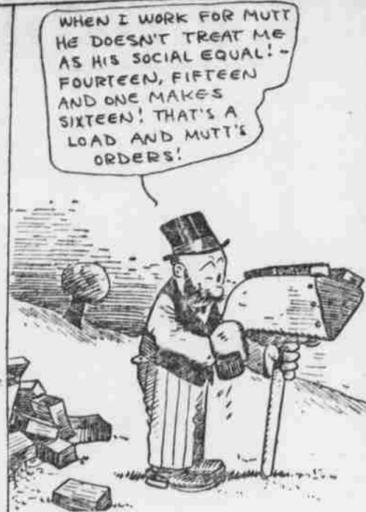

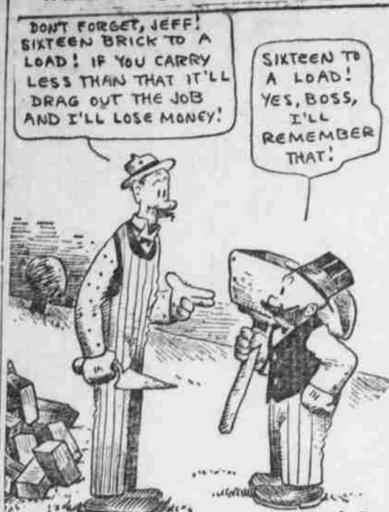

Mr. Baumgartner sat down. "This is more important than church right now," he observed.

Pavement Is Ordered. On suggestion of Alderman Patton the council voted to notify the Oregon Electric company to repair its pavement on High street where a depression is said to exist. The Southern Pacific company also will be instructed to pave its spur track on Front between Court and State streets.

In response to Fire Chief Hutson's request that some action be taken toward providing for overhauling of the city's pumper truck, the fire and water committee was detailed to investigate, and was vested with power to act.

Approximately one dozen sidewalk resolutions, introduced by Alderman Woodworth were referred to the street committee, while one, presented by Alderman Marcus and Baumgartner, was adopted. On the suggestion of Mr. Baumgartner, a sidewalk reso-

Boy! Malts, Sodees, Pink Lemonade And Freezes Drop Here

O Mars! Thou art indeed surely to be forsaken soon! Salem milk shakes—or rather those milk shakes guzzled in Salem—malted milks, ice cream sodas, lemonades, freezes and other refreshments which have been paying tribute to the war god—

But suspense has no part in a news story. Here are the facts: Salem confectioners have announced a general drop in prices of drinks. Already they are in effect.

Just introduced several weeks ago which has to do with a walk near property owned by Walter Buchner, former councilman, will be resurrected and brought before the council at its next meeting.

State Leases Building For Blind School

Contract for a two year lease on a three story and basement apartment house at Burnside and Grand avenues, Portland, to be used as temporary quarters for the state employment institution for adult blind was closed by the state board of control Monday afternoon.

The building which was recommended to the board by J. F. Meyers, former superintendent of the Portland school for sightless and who is now superintendent of the new state institution, is said to be the most acceptable available for the purpose in Portland. Students in the institution, together with their families in the case of married adults, will be housed in the building during their attendance at the school.

The board also confirmed the appointment of O. H. Simmons of Portland to be assistant to Superintendent Meyers and field man for the institution. Mrs. Meyers will be employed as matron of the institution upon the occupation of the new building May 1.

Dallas Paper Plant Suffers Fire Damage

Dallas, Or., April 5.—About 2:30 yesterday afternoon fire broke out in the Polk County Observer, the office of the largest newspaper published in Polk county which resulted in about $3500 damages. The fire was first discovered in the garret of the building and it is presumed that it originated from a defective flu. The firemen fought the fire heroically for about an hour and succeeded in extinguishing it before it damaged the machinery of the plant, except as to the water damage, which is estimated at about $150. Mr. Koen, the owner and editor of the newspaper, had a large stock of paper on hand which was at-

Transportation Is Held Most Urgent Chinese Problem

By Professor Collier Cobb, Head of the department of Geology of North Carolina. Written especially for the International News Service.

"China has one-third more territory than the United States, and four times the population, and in spite of the dense population in many sections there are vast areas in the north and west of China suited to and used for raising cattle, sheep, hogs, and, in much smaller measure, camels.

"The great problem in China is one of transportation. While millions were starving in four or five provinces in China, wheat at the close of 1920 was selling at 10 cents a bushel in Szechwan, 2,000 miles away, because of lack of transportation facilities. The building of railways and of highways and the rehabilitation of the old canals, will soon remedy all of this. This will probably be the first work encouraged by the Consortium, and it will be a paying investment, for China is even richer than the United States in resources of coal and iron and various economic minerals, and unsurpassed in her agricultural products and possibilities.

"The railways of China are well managed, and the Chinese have recently begun the construction of modern ships at four principal shipbuilding yards which are capable of turning out a modern ocean carrier complete. The younger men of China, many of whom have been educated abroad, are able, alert and effective business men and they are all distinctly friendly to the United States.

 CATARRHAL DEAFNESS MAY BE OVERCOME *****

If you have catarrhal deafness or head and ear noises or are growing hard of hearing go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parmit (double strength) and add to it 1/4 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Any one who has catarrhal deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial. (adv)

ing more than 2500 miles of navigable water, one branch reaching almost to the Trans-Siberian railway at Irkutsk (Khatang) and another within a short distance of Port of Alan on the sea of Okhotsk (Nelkan). "Either railways or canals connecting these points, the one thru a nearly level plain and the other across a low gap in the mountains would go far toward opening up to commerce a region capable of supplying raw material to the world for many years to come.

English is Spoken. "The wide use of English language in Asia is a matter of deep interest. Pigeon English is not only the language of foreign commerce in China, but it is also the language of trade between the provinces. The Chinese language is written with ideographs and is understood in all the provinces, notwithstanding their spoken languages are all different. We have a parallel in the wide use of Ara-
