Editor Named County Leader Of Oddfellows

Hubbard, Ore., April 14.—L. C. McShane, editor of the Hubbard Enterprise, was made president of the Marion County Oddfellows association which convened here Saturday in a most interesting session. A large number of Oddfellows from all parts of the county were present throughout the entire session. The afternoon was taken up with the regular business of the convention, County President L. J. Adams of Silverton called the meeting to order and presided during the afternoon session.

The following officers were elected for the next term: President, L. C. McShane, Hubbard; Secretary, R. G. Henderson, Chemawa; Treasurer, J. G. Idings, Salem. The Rebekahs of Hubbard served a dinner at 6 o'clock. The evening session opened at 7:30 at which time a program was given. Rev. F. W. Keagy of Silverton delivered the address of the evening and a number of musical numbers and a reading concluded the program. Turner was chosen as the next convention place which will be held early in October.

Moonshine Fats Varnish Off Desk Of Lane Sheriff

Eugene, April 14.—Moonshine whisky that is powerful enough to eat the varnish from Sheriff Stickle's desk, even with a blotter intervening between the bottle and the desk surface, was the product of the still of Edward T. Brown and Roy Sanders, which the two men have been operating on Mosby creek, above Cottage Grove, according to the sheriff.

Deputy Sheriff George Croner and District Attorney Clyde N. Johnston visited Cottage Grove and returned to this city with Roy Sanders, pal and confederate of Brown, who was beaten with a bottle by Brown last Friday evening, and for which offense the latter is now serving a 50-day term in the county jail. Sanders was also jailed. With them they brought the still, a milk can affair, and a quantity of the illicit whiskey said to have been made by the men. It was a fruit jar full of this brew that possessed the corrosive power. District Attorney Johnston says that he expects to turn Sanders over to the federal authorities for prosecution on a whisky-making charge as soon as possible, in order to save the county the expense of feeding them, and expects to turn Edwards over to the government upon the completion of his 50-day term for assault.

Officers Accused Of Burning Cabin

Marshfield, April 14.—At the time Fred Nieme was arrested on suspicion of owning the mash in a cabin on the Camman highway between Libby and Empire, it is said the cabin was fired after the officers took a sample of the mixture in the two barrels. Nieme said there was a can of oil or gasoline in the cabin, and this, one of the officers threw about the interior of the place and set it afire. This is Nieme's story, and he added that as they were leaving the place the cabin was burning, and he understood, was destroyed. The cabin was made of logs and about 12x14 feet, a suitable place for a bachelor, or to stay in over-night if one should want shelter while passing that way. It is not clear who is the owner of the land upon which the cabin stood, but it is said that, providing the cabin was burned, there will be an investigation and probable prosecution. It was said by parties who discussed the matter, that officers have no right to burn houses, and there might be a severe penalty attached to a conviction for such an offense.

Up to date the amount loaned in Oregon through the Spokane Farm Loan bank totals $11,452,432. The bank will reopen for business in June.

Pigeon Three Minutes Ahead Of Airplane

Eugene, April 14.—Miss U. S. Oregon, the homing pigeon that raced Major H. H. Arnold's airplane to Mather field, California, was three minutes ahead of the plane at the time it passed through Eugene, according to Dee Wright, who watched from Judkins point for the appearance of the participants in the unusual race. Telegraphic information later showed that the plane, with its metallic constitution, was the final victor in the Portland-Mather field aerial derby. Governor Ben W. Olcott was a passenger with Arnold.

The second pigeon in the race came along about the time the airplane did (9:22 o'clock in the morning) but lit and rested for a minute or so on Judkins point before continuing the journey. Few Eugene people were given the chance to witness the race because of the extreme height at which the plane flew.

Search for Body Of Drowned Lad Proves Fruitless

Albany, April 14.—Search for the body of Clarence Alexander, the 13 year old boy who was drowned in the Santiam river Sunday, was continued today, but without result. A number of men were trying to remove another big drift in the river, as it was believed likely that the body was lodged in it.

The searchers in rowboats dragged the river almost to the point where it flows into the Willamette. It was the opinion of most of them that the boy's body was in the big drift about three miles below the Sanderson bridge.

Linn's Share of Auto Tax Money Totals $14,000

Albany, Ore., April 14.—Linn county's share of the automobile license fees for the last six months was received from the state treasurer by County Treasurer Leonore Powell, amounting to $14,410.13. The total net fee received by the state from the county was $57,460.52. Under the law the county receives one-fourth of the fee paid to the state and the remainder three-fourths is credited to the state highway fund. The report is made semi-annually and remitted to every in the state its pro rata of the funds.

McLaren Sells Wilhoit Hotel After 40 Years

After more than 40 years in charge of the Wilhoit springs F. W. McLaren has sold his interest in the property and gave possession to Portland parties Monday. It is understood that estate agents are also interested in the undertaking and improvements will be made, it is said, with a view of making it one of the most attractive summer resorts in the west. The grounds will be beautified, the buildings remodeled, and accommodations at mineral springs will be improved.

The new managers also expect to erect a large sanitarium during the summer and remodel the hotel building. The surrounding cottages on the place will be renovated and more erected, and the auto-camp-grounds will be improved.

Date of Coquille Celebration May Meet With Change

Coquille, Ore., April 14.—It is very probable the tentative date of April 30th, set by the citizens of Coquille for observing completion of the county paved highway will not be changed, for the time between now and then is sufficient for the concrete to be properly set and the few places where there is work to be done on approaches can easily be connected up. The Coquille residents assured everybody from Coon Bay that the entertainment will be a hummer and from the enthusiasm they displayed in talking about the demonstration nobody would have any doubts of their ability to meet the premises they are making. Before the definite day can be named the committees must have a report from Engineer W. E. Chandler. Among other things they intend giving an auto parade, and dancing afternoon and evening. The committee expects to make further arrangements this week and as fast as features are secured they will be announced.

Boy Injures Arm

Hubbard, Ore., April 14.—Paul Reimer, a student of the White school near Hubbard, fell and fractured his left arm a few days ago while playing with other students. He was brought to town in an automobile and the fracture reduced by a local physician. Knives were first made in England in 1563.

Man Charged With Operating Still Is Released From Jail

Roseburg, Ore., April 14.—S. M. Wellock, who was arrested after a still of which he was alleged to be the owner, was confiscated, was released on his own recognizance. His wife and two children have no support and the neighbors were forced to take care of them following the arrest of the alleged moonshiner. The case has been turned over to the federal authorities, and Wellock has little chance of leaving the country even if he should so desire, and so it was deemed best to allow him to go home to provide for his family until such time as the government shall act in the matter. Wellock informed the officers of the location of the remainder of the still, the worm and cap of which was not found yesterday, and Sheriff Starmer and Deputy Percy Webb will bring these parts back to Roseburg to keep with the "pot" which is being held here. Wellock does not deny ownership of the still, but claims that the plant had just been installed.

Marshfield Cigar Factory Destroyed

Marshfield, Ore., April 14.—H. W. Smith, manufacturing of the famous El Cora cigar, met with a heavy loss Saturday night when his home and factory at Bunker Hill was burned down and everything in the place consumed in the flames. Mr. Smith was engaged at playing in the orchestra at the firemen's dance and Mrs. Smith was with him, so there was nobody at the home and factory and before the alarm was turned in and the fire boys could reach the place, it was past anything. Chief of the Fire Department Jack Davis said the building fell in 10 or 15 minutes after the firemen reached the scene. All of Mr. Smith's household goods, his stock of tobacco and tools were lost. He carried between $2500 and $2800 insurance on his goods and factory, but this would not repay him for his losses. The building did not belong to Mr. Smith and is said to have been the property of Robert Maraden, Sr.

Independence Pastor Finishes 13 Years' Service

Independence, Ore., April 13.—This week Dr. Chas. H. Dunsmore consummates his 13th year as pastor of the Independence Presbyterian church. For continuous service in one charge Dr. Dunsmore ranks second in Oregon, being exceeded by Major Gilchrist of the Astoria Presbyterian church, who has served for 15 years. Dr. Dunsmore, in addition to his work as pastor of the Presbyterian church, is book-keeper at the Independence National Bank.

Work on Normal Dorm Is Started

Monmouth, Ore., April 14.—A force of men are now at work breaking ground for the new wing of the dormitory, the contract for which was let some time ago. Some particularly desirable features of this addition in the fact that there will be four or five attractive apartments which may be occupied by members of the faculty, and the very agreeable fact that 200 girls in all may then be cared for in the dormitory.

Hens Set Record

Monmouth, Ore., April 14.—J. M. McDonald is recognized among the successful poultry raisers of this vicinity. He has 469 white Leachorn and Red hens and pullets which, during the month of March, laid 11,925 eggs which sold for $515.50. Most of the eggs were sold for hatching. One pen of 147 Leachorns made an average of 140 eggs a day. Mr. McDonald intends to increase his poultry business during the summer.

Silverton Woman Recovers

Silverton, Ore., April 14.—Mrs. J. A. Bennett is recovering from an attack of sickness while absent from home on business connected with the state mission society, and while at Amity, Ore., her condition was such that she phoned for her husband, Rev. J. A. Bennett, to meet her in Salem and started on her journey homeward. Rev. Bennett and Mrs. J. Wolfard met the sick woman in Salem. Indications pointed to an attack of pneumonia, but her condition is said to be greatly improved at this time.

Rock Trown by Youth Injures an Oregon City Woman

Oregon City, Ore., April 14.—Mrs. W. H. Wetlauffer, of the Clarkes neighborhood, was injured about the head from a flying rock thrown by a Portland lad a short time ago, while she and her husband were motoring home from church. Mr. Wetlauffer had occasion to rebuke some boys in church for disturbing the speakers, and after the services, he and his wife started to drive home. They encountered a number of lads in the road, who made way for the Wetlauffer car, and after the machine had passed by a short distance, it was bombarded with rocks by the lads. Mr. Wetlauffer had several of the boys appear before Judge Cross, and it was brought out at the hearing that a lad by the name of Robert Zwahlen of Portland was responsible for the rock throwing. He skipped out of the neighborhood after the incident, and could not be located.

Salmon Run in Willamette Is On

Oregon City, April 14.—According to authentic information, the big salmon run for 1934 in the Willamette hit Oak Grove Monday morning. Fish wardens, who are operating near Oak Grove, report that practically every boat had from one to the limit, and that King Chinook was "a little hard." Several fine catches were made on the river at this point Monday afternoon, although Sunday was a very poor day for the anglers. By the middle of this week, it is expected that there will be plenty of salmon in the river.

Council Sworn In

Brownsville, Ore., April 14.—A new council was sworn in Monday night, and it was agreed that the new administration will consider the matter of advertising for bids in the street paving work. Mayor E. E. White, Recorder J. W. Craig and Councilmen A. S. Hamill and James Ferrill keep their seats. Outgoing councilmen are Rice Blackburn, Wingo Eggleston and William Uber, and they are succeeded by Burney Howe and Robert Matlock.

Fishing Without Licenses Cost Portlanders $50

Oregon City, Ore., April 14.—Clyde Hill and H. T. Johnson, both of Portland, were arrested by Wardens Meaden, Christensen and Clarke Sunday for fishing at this point for salmon without a license. Both men were fined $25 and costs by Judge Noble. A third man in the party was also taken in for having a 1920 license in his pocket, but explained that he left home in such a hurry that he took the wrong one with him. After verification of the statement, the judge let the angler off.
