Chicago Paper Man Visits Old Home In Dallas

Dallas, April 19.—Dean Collins and Harry Critchlow were in Dallas Saturday on their way to the Collins ranch near Falls City. Both young men are now well known newspaper workers who began their careers on the Polk County Observer.

Mr. Critchlow has for some months been connected with the Chicago American, one of the Hearst publications, and is spending a few days traveling about while resting from the strenuous labors incident to a reporter's life in a big city. The two former Dallas boys met in Portland and came to Polk county for a few days of rustic life.

Mill Employee Is Hurlled to Ground; Forced to Lay Off

Silverton, April 19.—While employed at the Silver Falls Timber company's mill a few days ago Thomas Skaffe was seriously injured. Mr. Skaffe was standing on a step about six feet from the ground, cleaning waste lumber from the endless chain, when a piece of wood caught in the chain and struck him in the chest. He was hurled to the ground and terribly bruised. Mr. Skaffe was taken to his home, where it was learned upon examination of the physician, that no bones were broken. He will be obliged to rest some time, however.

Eugene Expecting Highway Engineers

Eugene, April 19.—A crew of state highway engineers is expected to arrive in this city about the middle of this week to make the survey for the new Cogswell hill road on the McKenzie river highway between Thurston and Watterville.

The county court and the highway commission have finally decided to build the new road over the hill but on a much better grade than the present road in preference to cutting through the bottom, where it would be necessary to erect two bridges and to pay big damages on account of cutting through fertile fields.

The survey extends along the north slope of the hill and provides for rather an abrupt turn just at the foot but not as sharp as the present turn.

P. M. Morse, county engineer, expects to finish the survey for the new Crow road by the time the state engineers are here and he will be able to assist them.

Fruit Not Injured

Dallas, Or., April 19.—While reports of frost damage are coming in from the middle west, and even from California, it has been proven that the recent slight visit of nappy Jack did little or no damage to the fruit in Polk county. Peach and cherry growers join in saying that a close inspection of buds fails to disclose any material killing. More fruit is left on the trees than can be carried and, in the case of peaches, there must be a decided thinning to get the best fruit.

Your Blouses

May Reflect Your Individuality!

There is no longer the sameness in all blouses that we had to cope with several years ago. It is actually a fact that the woman who buys ready-made blouses can choose one that is just as individual and characteristic of her personality as an especially tailored blouse would be.

We Are Happy in Our Ability to give your spring and summer suit that blouse which was meant to give it the final touch of perfect style.

Let the Mode of Your Suit Govern Your Choice in Blouses—

Georgette Blouses $3.98 to $17.73

These sheer blouses come in more ornate than dress patterns. The colors are both in the darker and the more delicate tints. So great is the variety of design offered that your own eyes needed to do them justice.

Crepe de Chine Blouses $4.98 to $14.75

Among other models in these blouses, we can give you the popular semi-tailored design finished with narrow pleatings at the collar and cuffs. We believe that we are offering the best blouse values in Salem. Many of our patrons have told us so and we would convince you of this fact.
