That his ranch house was raided without a search warrant after he had been covered by a revolver, handcuffed, jostled, chided and cursed by anti-saloon league representatives, and that, following a failure to find intoxicating liquor on his place, he was marched to a neighbor's home where he was subjected to further indignities, were allegations made to newspaper men yesterday afternoon by Fred Schindler, well known Gervais farmer.

The raid on the Schindler home was made late Wednesday night, co-incidentally with the search of Frank Hock's property, where a large still and 110 gallons of mash were said to have been found. Mr. Hock and Joseph Showers, Hock's brother-in-law, are at present under arrest, charged with having a still in their possession. The raid was staged under the direction of F. W. Snyder, special agent, who is in charge of the anti-saloon work.

Called to Door. Mr. Schindler stated that he was first called to his door Wednesday evening by a man who gave his name as Bailey, and who claimed to have been sent for "booze" by Andrew Wachter, a neighbor of Schindler's.

Bingham Upholds Dog Law

Circuit Judge Dismisses Suit Brought by Colonel Hofer To Test Statute

On the issuance of an order signed by Judge Bingham sustaining the demurrer and dismissing the complaint in the case of Col. E. Hofer against county officials to test the validity of the state law enacted by the legislature, 1919, for the licensing of dogs to create a dog fund, Allan Bynon, attorney for the plaintiff, announced this morning that the case would be carried to the supreme court.

The plaintiff objects to the enforcement of the law on the grounds that it is unconstitutional for the reason that it is discriminatory because it provides a fund to recompense sheep owners for any loss they may experience through dogs, and that it is a double taxation because, under the statutes of the state, dogs are recognized as personal property and as such are assessed. Also that the state is interfering with the rights of a municipality to regulate its own business.

When discussing the case in court, Judge Bingham is reported to have announced that it was against the policy of the circuit court to declare a law unconstitutional unless it was so on the face of it.

In the law no one but sheep owners can gain any recompense from the fund created by the licensing no matter how large the damage is.
