Fruit Crop May Come With Rush

Eugene Fruit Growers' Association Receives Only Small Amount of Fruit

Eugene, June 2.—Many inquiries are coming into the office of the Eugene Fruit Growers Association as to the prospects of starting the plant on the earlier crops of fruit. Manager J. U. Holt stated yesterday that the season is not only several weeks late, but that it will depend upon the condition of the weather as to how soon they can operate on any large scale. At the present time only small quantities of gooseberries are coming in and these are being disposed of locally. Should there be a period of several weeks of real summer weather it would bring on the strawberry crop with a rush. He expects that the plant will begin in a short time on a small scale with the packing of pie plant, gooseberries and strawberries and the force will be gradually increased as the receipts increase.

As to the prices, he states that nothing definite can be said at this time, as it is going to depend upon the cost of labor and cannery supplies. At the recent meeting of the Northwest Cannery Association in Portland a committee was named to draw up a schedule of costs and to report at another meeting in Portland next Saturday. On this schedule of costs the cannerymen hope to get together on a tentative schedule of prices for fruit to the growers and the price of the canned goods to the jobbers.

Mr. Holt notes that one thing has already been determined—that there will be very little reduction in the cost of tin cans.

Grandstand Inadequate

Eugene, June 2.—The seating capacity of Hayward field at the University where the gridiron and race track is located, must be approximately doubled before football season next fall, according to Marion F. McClain, former graduate manager of the student body.

More than 13,500 people attended the annual football game between O. A. C. and Oregon last fall at Corvallis, while the seating capacity here, where the game will be held this fall, is approximately 7300.

It has been estimated that $13,000 has been expended in converting the marsh into the athletic field upon which the Pacific coast conference track meet was held Saturday, but the plans for enlargement will require much more.

"The brunt of the expense thus far," said Mr. McClain, "has fallen upon the student body, which seems rather unfair, considering that the improvements are of a permanent nature and not for temporary use alone."

Eugene Business to Open Full Capacity

Eugene, June 2.—The Eugene excelsior factory will resume capacity operations with a full crew of 19 men this week, as soon as the crew can be assembled said C. O. Peterson, manager of the plant last night.

The mill has been operating with a small crew for the past two weeks but as increased orders for excelsior have come recently from California, Mr. Peterson says he is justified in operating with a full crew for a time at least. He says the orders are coming for the product of the plant to be used in shipping melons and when the melon season is over he looks for another quiet period. The melon shipping season is expected to last about two months, he said.

Portland, Oregon, June 1.—More than 2000 acres of truck garden and berry lands of the famous Sun Dial ranch and adjacent properties lie under a great lake of water today as a result of the breaking of the right-angle dike extending north from Fairview to the Columbia river. The water is still rising over this land.

The break in the dike occurred about 8:30 o'clock Sunday evening and a constantly widening volume of water began to pour into the cultivated lands until the break extended for a width of about 400 feet.
