Of Interest To Women

Missionary Tea Is Fete Wednesday

The women of the Women's Home Missionary society of the First Methodist church gave a tea Wednesday afternoon at Launing hall on the Willamette university campus honoring the members of the Women's Home Missionary society of Jason Lee church and of Leslie Methodist church and the ladies of the first church who are not associated with the organization. Miss Francis Richards was hostess for the affair. About one hundred women attended during the afternoon between the hours from 2:30 to 5:30.

Stationed at the doors to usher the guests were little Evelyn and Adelyn Shields and assisting Miss Richards in the reception room were Mrs. E. E. Upmeyer, Mrs. H. H. Vandervort and Mrs. Mrs. L. L. Devotions for the afternoon were led by Mrs. M. B. Brown. Mrs. F. A. Legge presided throughout the business session which consisted of yearly reports of officers of the society.

A program consisting of a number of selections was given. The numbers were the following: Violin solo, Miss Leisla Ruby; talk about her experiences in settlement work, Miss Mary Finden; solo, Mrs. Louise Benson Robinson; talk on her settlement work, California Miss Vesta Mulligan; Miss Lucile Barton; reading, Miss Minna L. Harding.

Thretablets were arranged for the table in the third parlor decorated in pink roses and a color scheme of pink was carried out in all table appointments. Handies were used in stender tables. Mrs. F. A. Legge, president of the Women's Home Missionary society, and Mrs. E. E. Upmeyer, president of the Women's Foreign Missionary society, presided at the tea and Mrs. Blaine Kirkpatrick, Mrs. E. C. Hickman and Mrs. Marian Von Echen assisted in service.

Decorations in the chaffing dish were done in blue, and wild yarrow and maiden hair fern were used as a centerpiece, arranged in a large crystal basket. Blue papers in crystal sticks adorned the table. Here Mrs. B. L. Sleson, Mrs. Roy Shields and Mrs. Elliott Colony.

The table in the reception hall was centered with a yellow art basket filled with yellow roses and with a bow of tulle. Yellow candles shed a subdued light over the table and wretalicyerange the table. Mrs. George E. Alden and Mrs. E. E. Gilbert poured at this table and were assisted in serving by Mrs. F. H. Thompson, Mrs. O. E. Price and Mrs. Ronald Glover. Mrs. Glover was chairman of the refreshment committee, and Mrs. Walter C. Winslow had charge of the decorations.

Cleo White Will Marry Wednesday

The wedding of Miss Cleo White of McMinnville, to Claude Fitzinger, of Portland, will be an event of June 8 and is of interest to the Salem friends of Miss White. Miss White, who is the cousin of Horace Sykes, has won recognition in the west as an actress. She is a graduate of the Egan Dramatic school, of Los Angeles and for last summer played a ten weeks' summer engagement with Wallace Reid in the coast cities. Previous to this, Miss White was with the Ellison White Chautauqua for two seasons as a reader. She appeared in Salem in the play produced here by the McMinnville Elks, "It Pays to Advertise."

Mrs. M. J. Monte, of Los Angeles, and her little daughter, Pauline arrived in Salem yesterday and will be guests at the wedding. They are at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Sykes and will spend the summer here. Mrs. Montee is an aunt of both Mr. Sykes and Miss White. Jeanette Sykes and Pauline Montee will be flower girls at the wedding and Jeanette will dance at the reception following.

Miss Dorris Sikes Resigns as Society Editor.
Miss Dorris Sikes, who has been society editor of the Salem Statesman since the resignation of Mrs. Mollie Brunk a few weeks ago, and who has been a member of the Statesman staff for the past several months as telegraph editor and reporter, has resigned her position. Miss Sikes will leave this afternoon for Eugene where she has accepted a position on the editorial staff of the Eugene Daily Guard. Miss Sikes whose home is in Springfield, will resume her work at the University of Oregon next year when she will be a senior. Miss Sikes is a member of Theta Sigma Phi, woman's national honorary journalism fraternity.

Miss Sikes' successor is Miss Marguerite Gleeson, of Portland. Miss Gleeson has been employed recently on the Corvallis Gazette-Times and was formerly a member of the staff of the Albany Democrat. She attended the Oregon Agricultural college and was a varsity debater.

Leave Tonight On Extended Trip.

Members of the Writers section of the Salem Arts league met last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Nelson as a farewell compliment to Mrs. F. D. Eason, who is leaving Salem next week with her husband to make her home at Sandy. The section presented Mrs. Eason with an original painting of a local scene, done by Monroe Gilbert.

Final Meeting of Arts League is Tuesday.
The final meeting of the Salem Arts league for the season will be held on Tuesday evening in the library. The annual election of officers will be held. All members are urged to be present and others who are not members but are interested are also invited to attend. Miss Carol Dibble will read from Dickens. Miss Dibble has just returned from her second year spent at the Cornish school of the spoken word at Seattle and is specializing in Dickens.

P. E. O. Officers Visits Friends Here.
Mrs. R. L. Kirk, past state president of P. E. O., has spent the past week in Salem visiting at the home of Mrs. R. R. Jones. Mrs. Kirk, whose home is at The Dalles, attended the state convention of the P. E. O. sisterhood in Woodburn last week. Last week end, Mrs. Kirk, Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Millard formed a house party at the Jones cottage at Newkown.

3 Recitals Are Given In Series

Mrs. Walter A. Denton presented her pupils in a series of piano recitals at her studio on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evening of last week. The recitals were of unusual interest and merit.

The recital on Tuesday evening was given by pupils from the intermediate and advanced grades assisted by Miss Pauline Knowland, reader. The pupils rendered their selections with poise and clear technique and the boys who appeared in the program were especially enjoyed and appreciated. They were Donald Allison, Ronald Craven, Elbert Lachele, Donald Worden, and John Minto. Miss Knowland received much praise for her ability as a reader. She is a pupil of Mrs. Sara Brown Savage. In addition to those mentioned, the following appeared in the recital: Unina Kirk, Helene Story, Ruth Kocks, Greta Risdon, Helen Breitenstein, Laura Crabb, Pauline Marbach, Yegga Loganbill, Margaret Breitenstein, Isabella Newton, Ruth Buckner, Pauline Knowland, Mildred Rich, Olive Barnard, Winifred Gamble, Helen Cammack, Mary McKinnon and Priscilla Fry.

Miss Mildred Brunk and Miss Eugenia Savage, two of Mrs. Denton's advanced students, were presented in recital Wednesday evening, assisted by Leonard Chadwick violin, and Miss Mabel Marcus, vocal. Both performers displayed remarkable musical ability and played with fine tone and interpretation, resulting from good technique and musical knowledge. Miss Mildred Brunk was perhaps most effective in her "Kammennol Ostrow." Miss Eugenia Savage displayed delicacy of tone in her lighter numbers and musical feeling in "Recollections of Home."

Leonard Chadwick played with deep feeling the beautiful "Thais" (Massenet) and Miss Marcus impressed the audience with her beautiful voice.

The younger pupils of Mrs. Denton were presented on Thursday evening, assisted by Leonard Chadwick, violinist, and Miss Pauline Knowland, reader. This event is always looked forward to by the friends of the children. The program was unusually interesting and enjoyable and progress was noted in the work of the students. Each pupil was a star performer and they played their numbers with ease and expression, showing a knowledge of phrasing and pedal effects. Among the older ones of the class who showed marked progress were Helen Ashleman, Benetta Edwards, Virginia Berger, Margaret Steiner, Nancy Thielsen, Dorothy Marsters, Frances Martin, Mildred Gilbert and Kathryn Elgin.

Maxine Glover deserves special mention for her splendid memory work and artistic interpretation. The assisting artists were greatly appreciated and responded graciously to encores.

Those heard in the program were Margaret Cory Dorothy Stafford, Benetta Edwards, Mildred Gilbert, Virginia Holt, Dalburt Burton, Arthur Fisher, Grace Elizabeth Holman, Lora Leadbetter, Gretchen Thielsen, Frances Martin, Anne Leadbetter, Virginia Sleson, Dorothy Marsters, Florence Power, Eloise White, Helen Willingham, Kathryn Elgin, Virginia Berger, Helen Ashleman, Margaret Steiner, Nancy Thielsen, Maxine Glover, Leonard Chadwick and Miss Pauline Knowland.
