What's New On The Market

While the supply of the right sized fry is increasing, there is still a shortage felt on the poultry market. There are some, however, selling at the top price of 45 cents. In some markets the price is a little lower, but the birds for sale are below the proper size. Hens are plentiful at all times, and any one wanting "just chicken" can obtain it for 40 or 42 cents a pound.

A large shipment of cantaloupe has just been received. There is a prospect that the price may be down to two for 25 cents before tomorrow, though some retailers declare that they would lose money. The present price is 20 cents. The cantaloupe on the market now are picked when they are green and are not as good as they will be later on.

First grade canning strawberries on the retail market are selling from $1.20 to $1.50 per crate. Growers are reported to be selling to housewives, however, for two cents a pound undelivered, and three cents delivered. At the latter price a crate would cost 54 cents which price will never be reached by the retail stores.

Feels Twenty Years Younger, He States

"I'm now sixty five years of age, but since taking Tanlac I actually feel twenty years younger," said John W. Bright, 2111 Castro St., San Francisco, Cal.

"For the medicine has relieved me of troubles I thought nothing could help.

"Years and years ago while working at my trade as carpenter back in Kentucky I got hurt lifting heavy lumber, and as time went on and my back kept hurting me so bad I thought it was the strain. But some years back I began having indigestion and Tanlac fixed my stomach up in first class condition in just a little while, and I quit taking it because I had no idea it would help my back. Then last July while working in the shipyards that pain suddenly struck me in my back and my son had to carry me home. I went right to bed, could hardly move and it seemed that nothing could help me. Finally I got to where I could be up a little, but was so weak I could hardly walk. My back hurt terribly and my kidneys bothered me so I could scarcely sleep. My appetite was poor and I was almost a complete nervous and physical wreck.

"Remembering how Tanlac had built me up before I started taking it again. It soon had my stomach in fine shape, and to my surprise I found that the pain had disappeared from my back also. I have a fine appetite now, always feel strong and full of energy and my back is in fine condition. I can stoop over without a bit of trouble and get about as well as a man half my age." (adv)

The route would be known as the Victory Highway.

George Stansfield is the originator of the idea, and he has proposed that it be laid out by the federal department of public roads over a consolidation of present integral highways.

The California Good Roads association, through its manager, Benjamin Blow, has pledged the California association to bear half the expense of making the new highway from Topeka to the Pacific coast.
