

Woman Admits Husband Was Murdered By "Spirits" She Employed To "Beat Him Up"

Hudson, N. Y., June 10.—Mrs. Eva Kaber, charged with first degree murder in connection with the slaying of her husband in Lakewood, Ohio, nearly two years ago, today confessed "getting two men to beat up her husband in order Chief of Police Christensen of Lakewood. She denied that she had intended that he be killed.

Chief Christensen made this statement today to a representative of the Associated Press on the train that was carrying him. Mrs. Kaber and her daughter, Miss Marian McArdle, back to Cleveland.

Chief Christensen, however, denied a report that the two men had been ordered to pose as ghosts. He also stated that Mrs. Kaber had not implicated her daughter.

Cleveland, Ohio, June 10.—Mrs. Eva Catherine Kaber has confessed that her husband, Dan Kaber, was murdered with her knowledge in their Lakewood home two years ago and Marian McArdle, Mrs. Kaber's daughter, has confirmed much of her mother's story, the Cleveland News announces this morning on information telephoned from New York by Police C. C. Christensen of Lakewood to County Prosecutor Stanton here today.

The "man with the cap" now in custody here is the man who drove the knife twenty four times into Kaber's body, according to the statement attributed to Mrs. Kaber.

Slayers Under Arrest
A woman whom Mrs. Kaber says planned the murder was arrested in her home here today by Prosecutor Stanton and Chief of Police Frank W. Smith. The woman refused to make any statement.

According to Prosecutor Stanton's information from Chief Christensen Mrs. Kaber said "two foreigners did the murder" and declared that a woman arrested by Cleveland officers in Sandusky, Ohio, Wednesday morning and now held in jail here, procured the actual slayers.

The "man with the cap" was arrested Wednesday and his companion, a cousin, who, according to the statement, sat at Kaber's head to stifle his cries, is being sought by police.

Stabbed to Death
Mrs. Kaber's alleged confession declares, according to Prosecutor Stanton's information, that the two foreigners went to the Kaber home to "beat up" Kaber. Instead they stabbed him to death. Mrs. Kaber and her daughter broke down and confessed according to Stanton's advices from New York, after being questioned ceaselessly for several hours by detectives sent to their cells during the night.

Mrs. Kaber, it was said, implicated her daughter, her aged mother, Mrs. Mary Brickel, now in jail here, all of whom are charged with murder, and the woman who was taken in custody early today.

Men Hired as "Spirits"
New York, June 10.—Dan F. Kaber, wealthy Lakewood, Ohio, publisher, met death after attacking two foreigners engaged by Mrs. Kaber to pose as spirits to frighten him into a better attitude toward her, according to a statement which the New York Evening World today says Chief of Police Christensen obtained from Mrs. Kaber here.

The newspaper quotes Chief Christensen as saying that Mrs. Kaber had consulted a woman medium for advice as to how to change her husband's attitude toward her. The publisher's surly manner after an illness was said to have occasioned the visit.

By advice of this medium, Mrs. Kaber was said to have employed two foreigners to appear at her husband's bedside in the night as ghosts, and, as she expressed it, to try and shake a little civility into him.

Refused to Pay Killers Aroused from his slumber, Mr. Kaber was alleged to have attacked the two men and to have been stabbed to death by them in the struggle.

According to the newspaper, Chief Christensen said Mrs. Kaber had declared that she had refused to pay the two foreigners when they reappeared after the funeral, asserting they had not fulfilled the role of ghosts as she had intended and that she would not involve herself by paying for murder.

Mrs. Kaber was then said to have fled to New York to escape the foreigners without advising the Cleveland police for fear of involving herself.

Poles Driven Out Silesian City By British Tommies

Oppeln, June 10.—Five thousand Polish insurgents have been driven out of the city of Rosenberg, northeast of here, by British forces, and the Poles were reported to be retreating in a southeasterly direction. The Poles made a show of resistance, but the British did not fire a shot in taking possession of Rosenberg.

When the British entered the city, the Poles dropped a few poorly aimed shells behind them, and there was a scattering of rifle shots from the Polish positions. The Poles then picked up their machine guns, which had been set up in a road, and fled.

When the British marched in they found a Polish commander, with 300 men. The commander was directed to leave the city within an hour and to evacuate the district before Wednesday night. The Pole said this was impossible and he was warned that any insurgent found in Rosenberg at the expiration of an hour would be held for examination. A search of the city later in the evening showed that all insurgents had departed on time.

The people of Rosenberg gave the British an ovation, girls trying to kiss the soldiers and old women weeping as the British marched through the streets.

Astoria Plans Fight Against Caterpillars

Astoria, June 10.—The Astoria park commission, in meeting launched the first gun of its campaign for the eventual extermination of the caterpillar pest which has been spreading thru out the district surrounding Astoria for a number of years and which this year has reached a severity not previously experienced.

The commission appropriated $100, not a sum capable of combating the hordes of the crawling insects, but as a starter in the effort it is espousing against the insects. The boy scouts of the city will lead in the fight, employing the appropriation of the park commission in an attack upon the nests of the caterpillars in and around the city park.

Don't Be a Roman!
Known Values

AN EDITORIAL ON BUYING

The men who signed the Declaration of Independence had faith in it. It success meant fame—its failure, death. But they had faith—they identified themselves with it—they signed.

So with the manufacturer who trade-marks and advertises his goods. His trade-mark is his signature to the pledge—"I back this article, its quality, its value, and its service to the public. I am responsible for it; the praise or blame belongs to me."

He has faith.
"Caveat Emptor!" said the Romans—"Let the buyer beware!"

"Buy by the trade-mark name!" we say today—"Let the buyer be wise!"

Today if a man makes a product that is good enough to be proud of, he trade marks and advertises it, that all the world may know him as the author. This mark is his pledge of quality—of his responsibility—of his word of honor to you that he backs his product to the limit. And if a manufacturer does these things, let the buyer be wise—let him look for the trade-mark name and buy with his money a pledged commodity.

But if a manufacturer avoids or neglects these things—if he makes and sells a product without mark, name or sponsor—"Caveat Emptor!"

The Government specifies that silverware must contain 925-1000 of the virgin metal before it can bear the mark "Sterling." This is for your protection.

But what of such products as tooth-brushes, hats, kitchen utensils and collars? There is no Government specifications of quality there! What protection have you in buying these and the thousand other things you use in daily life? You have the trade-mark name of established reputation.

Remember that a manufacturer's advertised trade-mark name is to an article of merchandise what a signature is to a letter. It is a symbol with which he says—"I made this article and I'm proud of it."

An un-trade-marked article is like an anonymous letter—it may be trustworthy, but who knows? If the manufacturer knows, his trade-mark isn't there to prove it. It is a pig in a poke—a doubtful quantity.

It is for all of us to spend our money as we see fit. It is for the wisest of us to get the utmost of quality and value for our money—and in this category come the consistent purchasers of standard trade-marked goods.

An advertised, trade-marked article has the 100% backing of the man who made it. If it is an established product, it is only such because it has passed the acid test of public use. If it is new, the trade-mark is the manufacturer's pledge to stand behind the article and see it make good—or make good for it. But it is his—he wants you to know it, and he tells you with his trade-mark name.

An established trade-mark name protects you. For safety and economy today buy trade-marked goods of known value.
