Robes of rare beauty and comfort.

LOTS of robes can keep you comfortable, but there are robes that do more than merely keep you warm, robes that carry a touch of real beauty and richness wherever you go. Such are Jacobs' Oregon City Motor Robes—artistic—all-wool robes that have given pleasure and service from coast to coast.

These robes are "woven where the wool is grown." Oregon City Woolen Mills selects the long-fibred fleece of Western sheep and washes it in the pure snow water of mountain streams. No chemicals are used to soften the water—so the natural strength and "life" of the wool are retained. Their robes are dyed in the wool—the colors will last as long as the robes.
