How Old Age Comes To Those Who Invite It "There's a Reason" THERE are plain rules, well understood, about keeping a piece of machinery in repair and running smoothly. Is the body as important as an automobile engine or a furnace? Is it as reasonable to talk about the best ways of sustaining the body as it is to talk of proper care for the engine or the furnace? Well, then—The body is strengthened, warmed, sustained—kept young—in a very practical and scientific way. Some Simple Facts Food is heat and power and renewal for the body. After all, there's nothing mysterious or magical about what food does in serving human need. Nothing mysterious, but much that is interesting—and important. Some foods are particularly good for the body. GRAPE-NUTS is such a food. Grape-Nuts is made from whole wheat and malted barley flour—product of the two grains which are richest in food elements for human need. Under the outer, or bran coating of the grain, nature has placed phosphates and lime which go to the making of bone, and the red blood corpuscles. This may sound like physiology, but it works like health. Hunger Not Cheated All the richness of the kernel, together with essential mineral elements, are retained in the making of Grape-Nuts. Often, in the manufacture of foods, some of the most vital of nature's provisions are thrown away. The long baking process (Grape-Nuts is the result of 20 hours continuous baking) partially pre-digests the food substances, develops the starches into dextrin and maltose—giving to Grape-Nuts its own natural sweetness—and produces a food which, when served with milk or cream, has been found by chemists to be "almost perfectly balanced in qualities of nutrition. The Enemies Within Now, old age begins in the larger intestine. This is what the scientists have found who know the human body as the mechanical expert knows his automobile engine. None-to-go into the particulars—it's enough to say that certain effects produced by food which is slow in digesting develop fermentation and other conditions which cause the bodily machine to slow down and wear out sooner than necessary. Grape-Nuts digests quickly and wholesomely. Much of this is due to the fact that the long baking has partly pre-digested the nutriment; partly to the fact that there is contained in Grape-Nuts the essential "roughness" to stimulate the action of the intestines. Health's Splendid Champion Grape-Nuts is a delightful food, for it is uniquely rich and sweet in flavor, and always crisp. It is unusually nutritious, for it has all the body-building elements of the most perfect food grains. It is a convenient and economical food, for it is ready to eat from the package, keeps in any climate, and is appetizing to the last bit. It builds strength and vigor without taxing the digestion or leaving, within the body, elements whose familiar harm is really the beginning of "old age." Grape-Nuts has been a favorite food, around the world, for nearly a quarter of a century. And there is a reason!
