

Odd Fellows Have Big Time Picnic Tomorrow

Two hundred Oddfellows and their families are expected to attend the annual picnic of the local order to be held tomorrow at the Weeks' farm on the north river road, 15 minutes drive from Salem.

The committee in charge is composed of L. J. Simeral, J. E. Madison and James Chenoweth, and has arranged a schedule of sporting events which everyone present is invited to enter, providing they have the qualifications.

A swimming race between the aquatic experts of both men and women is expected to be the headline event. There will also be a fat man's race and one between the fat women, followed by a "free for all." An African dodger is expected to attract a great deal of attention also.

J. E. Madison and Ray White have been selected as captains of selected ball teams from members of the organization and the game will be played sometime during the day.

Every Oddfellow, whether he is a member of the Salem lodge or not is invited to attend. Arrangement will be made to take everybody in automobiles belonging to the members, the machines leaving from the hall at the corner of High and Court streets at 10 o'clock.

Citizens March Into Mingo County in Labor War

Charleston, W. Va., Aug. 20.—A body of men said to number between 300 and 400 assembled today at Marmet, east of here, for the purpose of marching into Mingo county where an industrial controversy has prevailed for more than a year and which is now under martial law, according to reports reaching Charleston this afternoon.

Russian Agent Held In Big Defalcation

JACQUES CIBRARIO

A fund of $1,000,000 deposited in the National City Bank, New York, by the Russian Soviet government has virtually vanished. Jacques Roberto Cibrario, sent to the United States to make purchases by the Soviet government, was arrested in New York recently, charged with misappropriating a large part of the money. Scarcely $100,000 of the original fund remains in the bank. Cibrario came to New York in 1919 to buy motion picture projectors and films for the Soviet Committee of Public Education in Moscow. Prior to entering the employ of the Russian government he was a $45-a-week clerk. It is alleged that since coming to New York he has been living at the rate of $75,000 a year and maintained a magnificent bachelor apartment in an exclusive section of the city.

The Douglas County Taxpayers' league is making an effort to abolish the county educational board as well as to eliminate the three school supervisors. It is claimed it will save annually $3000 to the taxpayers.

Cause of Row Between Lou And Geraldine Is Mystery

(By International News Service.)

New York, Aug. 20.—After reams of publicity, following Mrs. Geraldine Farrar-Tellegen's ejection of her husband's clothes from their abode and denial of home privileges to Lou Tellegen, actor, a cloud of silence has settled over the family troubles of the famous and temperamental operatic star, and no one professes to know what is at the bottom of the squabble.

There are indications that neither Tellegen nor Geraldine is overmuch pleased with the way things are going, as regards publicity. In that respect they are not alone, for James A. Stillman, multi-millionaire ex-banker, who is reported to have had some disagreement with his wife, also found newspaper notoriety rather displeasing, if not to say, distasteful.

Anyhow, Geraldine has found it is one thing to lock one's husband out of the house, even when he has been paying his portion of the bills and quite another to have it all written up by the papers.

Both Are Mum
Neither Lou nor Geraldine will gratify the ardent longing of some millions of readers to tell just what their fracas is all about.

The Stillmans were not so reticent. Geraldine is now up in the Adirondacks.

Not a word is being said by either the operatic singer or her actor-Spanish-French-Dutch-American husband about divorce.

Basil Lawrence, business manager for the play, "Don Juan," in which Tellegen is to star, denied that jealousy on the part of Geraldine, because Lou was returning to the live-act role and embracing stage-sweethearts again, was the cause of the family squabble.

"Mr. Tellegen has been busy all summer rehearsing his part in 'Don Juan,' which is a heavy one," said Lawrence. "His part in the play is a very heavy one, you know—he makes ardent love to twelve women."

Makes Love to Dozen
"Mr. Tellegen has asked me to make a statement to the newspapers."

"Mr. Tellegen in May signed the contract to appear as the star in 'Don Juan.' We believed that there was no other man on the stage able to play the part—that of making love to twelve women at once. It is silly to say that Miss Farrar objected to this—his making love to so many women on the stage."

"As a matter of fact, Miss Farrar read the play, and Mr. Tellegen told us that she wanted to buy a share in it. She even went so far in the matter as to tell Mr. Tellegen that she would arrange the incidental music for the production.

"Mr. Tellegen feels very hurt at the statement that he had not paid his share of home expenses or contributed anything toward the support of the house."

Snake Bite Victim Can't Get Remedy

New York, Aug. 20.—James McArdle, a keeper in the Bronx Zoo, was reported recovering today from the effects of a bite by a copper head snake.

McArdle asked for a drink of whiskey which he declared was the best remedy for snake bite, but the doctors at a hospital where he was taken told him there was no whiskey in the institution. They gave him a serum instead.

"Polka-Dot" Explained For Northcliff's Benefit

Chicago, Aug. 20.—Boy, page Lord Northcliff.

That titled wagger of word battles with kings wants to know what a "polka dot" is, and Chicago, always eager to please, can give him the "low down" on it.

The eminent British publisher, it will be recalled, was described by an eastern scribe recently as wearing a "red silk polka dot tie," which called forth this comment from his lordship:

"Polka-dot? What do you mean by polka-dot? Never heard of such a thing. The dot I understand—but why the polka?"

cause dotted materials of every kind were in vogue.
How's that, my lord?
