Last Whistling Swans Mating Denver Park

Denver, Aug. 24.—What are believed to be the only two North American whistling swans in existence are today cavorting about a small pond in Denver City park. The birds are valued at $2500 each. The male bird is owned by H. O. Jackson of this city, while the mate is the property of Judge R. M. Barnes, of Laton, Ill.

Bird 75 Years Old... The male bird is seventy five years old and his mate but fifteen. They have black bills and a touch of orange under their eyes; otherwise the pair is pure white.

"Seventy five years is far from being an advanced age for a swan," Jackson declared. "They live ordinarily to the age of one hundred and fifty years. "So far as I know these are the only two whistling swans in existence, the last of their line. That's why I am eager that they mate and raise their young. If they do not it means the extermination of this graceful type of swan."

Mate is Found... "I have owned the mate bird for some time. I searched the country before I found a mate. I am convinced that they are the only two whistling swans now alive. Judge Barnes of Laton, Ill., sent the female bird to me, and for a time I kept the pair on my private lake. But this lake proved too small for breeding purposes, and it is crowded, also, with swans of other species. So I turned the pair over to the keeping of city park officials until the young can be raised."

"A peculiarity of this type of swan is the whistling call they use. They do their whistling most-ly at mating time." Whistling swans formerly were common to the northern United States and Canada, but of recent years they have been practically unknown in these sections.

You'll Agree He's Mean as Can Be

Poplar Bluff, Mo., Aug. 24.—Somebody else has found the meanest man in the world. W. R. Brooks, agent of the Missouri Pacific railroad at Neelyville, who formerly was opposed to capital punishment, has changed his mind. This new meanest man in the world cut the screen out of the station window while Brooks was asleep and crept silently away with the station agent's trousers. The outlook, of course, was welcome to the watch and the small change contained in the pockets thereof.

Pilot Aertert and Observer Todd were severely shaken up, though not seriously injured when forest patrol plane No. 8, inbound from Roseburg, crashed yesterday from a height of about 150 feet while landing at Medford. America's Most Beautiful Girl Engaged to Wed

Miss Gertrude Fisher of Melrose Park, Philadelphia, proclaimed six years ago as the "most beautiful girl in America"

Miss Gertrude M. Fisher, of Melrose Park, Philadelphia, proclaimed six years ago as the "most beautiful girl in America" by a jury of photographers, has lost her heart to Carl F. Lauber, Jr., a soft drink manufacturer, of Philadelphia. The announcement came as a surprise to the many friends of Miss Fisher. After the verdict of the photographers Miss Fisher was deluged with offers of marriage. They came from far and near. Many offers also came from manufacturers of tooth paste, automobile and face powder. Miss Fisher protested that the photographers had made a grievous error. She said that she was not even the most beautiful girl in the city, let alone in America.

McCroskey, secretary of the Commercial club, from Will J. O'Brien, editor and manager of the Western Railway Journal.

Irish Reply to British Offer Nearly Ready

Dublin, Aug. 24.—The reply to Great Britain's terms for a settlement of the Irish question will be delivered at Premier Lloyd-George's official residence in Downing street Thursday night or Friday morning. It is expected here. The delivery, it is thought, will precede the proposed public meeting of the Dail Eireann.

In preparation of the reply on which Eamonn DeValera and the others were working today while the Dail Eireann was taking a recess, the cabinet has the benefit of advice from the members of the Sinn Fein executive committee which composed of somewhat older men than the average Dail membership. These men were participants in the conferences today over the terms of the reply now being framed.

Congress to Take Recess Tonight

Washington, Aug. 24.—Congress was expected, barring unforeseen developments, to recess tonight for thirty days. Both the senate and house, when they met today, were confronted with a number of miscellaneous matters which it was the aim of leaders to dispose of before declaring a recess but it was indicated that if the slate was not wiped clean, the long anticipated vacation would not be deferred.

Negotiations between the house and senate in an effort to reach an agreement on the bill which would make one billion dollars available for facilitating the exportation of agricultural products came to an abrupt halt Tuesday. The conference, deadlocked over two major provisions of the measure, adjourned without fixing a time for another conference session.
