

Mexican Coin Finding Way Into Germany

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 24.—"Recognize Mexico and President Alvaro Obregon and divert to America the stream of Mexican money which is flowing in millions of dollars into the pockets of German manufacturers."

That was the plea of J. C. Underwood, an American mining expert, upon his arrival in Kansas City from Nogales, Arizona.

According to Underwood, the American business man is losing thousands of dollars, which he otherwise could get, solely because of the government's refusal to recognize Obregon and his people.

Underwood says manufacturers and mine operators of Mexico are pleading for equipment to run their plants destroyed during the civil war there.

"The Mexican farmer is sorely in need of threshers and farming equipment. Hundreds of mills are closed because of lack of machinery, but American manufacturers are denied this market, because the United States adopts the attitude that the country below the Rio Grande is a void."

"English, French and German salesmen are seizing the opportunity and arriving in Mexico by the hundreds. They are writing orders which otherwise would be filled by American factories."

For several years Underwood has made his home in Nogales, Arizona, where the dividing line between the United States and Mexico passes directly through the middle of the little city's main street.

According to Underwood the time has arrived for America to grasp the fact that Mexico is tired of fighting and that the people stand solidly behind their president.

American Wins French Auto Race

Murphy drove an American Duesenberg, and his time for the 321 miles was 4 hours 7 minutes and 11 and 1-5 seconds. The best of the European and American drivers were entered in the race. The photo below shows Murphy rounding the famous hairpin bend at Fontaine, which the racers had to negotiate thirty times. The course was over a circuit of ten miles.

Rules For Long Life Given By 104 Year Old

New York, Aug. 24.—"Don't gamble, don't drink. Smoke if you like, but don't overdo it. Eat, sleep regularly, work hard, smile, don't worry and exercise."

This is the simple formula for longevity of Louis Horowitz, who celebrated his 104th year. The patriarch, hale and hearty and spry as many men fifty years his junior, tried to hide his true age, laughingly remarking:

"I stopped counting my years after I reached the century mark, as I don't want to believe I am crossed to a dangerous pitch, partly because of more paper currency and partly because the big industrial combines are enormously increasing their capital in order to extend operations. Millions on millions of marks' worth of new ordinary and debenture shares are issued every day, and industries which issue them represent certain 'gold' value independent of the paper mark. Any change in the value of the paper mark influences the value of the shares. The recent depreciation of the mark is therefore responsible to some extent for the widespread gambling on exchange."

Formerly the market for German shares was chiefly confined to German speculations, but for getting old." Horowitz has seven children, fourteen grandchildren and six great-grandchildren. He is the "life" of the Harlem Home for the Sons of Israel, where he went seven years ago, because he did not wish to be a burden to his children.

Horowitz admitted to having a hobby. A hobby is necessary, he declared, to attaining a mellow age. "My ambition is to learn to play golf," he declared, "but I'm afraid I'm yet too young."

sign capitalists are attempting again to control several important enterprises. This has led to fantastic movements in industrial shares. The reconstruction in northern France which the German government is forced to carry out is responsible for extraordinary activity in iron and steel machinery and building shares.

Gambling Egg Grips Berlin Stock Exchange

Berlin, Aug. 24.—The orgy of speculation representing Germany's ever-increasing prosperity has caused the Berlin stock exchange to be closed for two days in every week. Banks, brokers and jobbers are swamped with thousands of orders, and clients are stampeding to participate in the great boom in industrial shares. Hundreds of extra clerks are being engaged, working far into the night to cope with the overwhelming rush of buying and selling orders.

Although entry into the stock exchange costs several hundred pounds, membership has increased since the armistice by over 1500, more than 50 per cent of the pre-war total. Mushroom paper-mark millionaires are springing up overnight and the scenes inside the exchange are like the mad swirl on the Chicago wheat pit when "bulls" and "bears" are engaged in a grim financial battle. The public gallery has recently been closed for fear of the effect which the scenes will have on the public mind.

Wireless Telephone Newspaper Project Is Backed by Government — Trial Station to Be Opened at Omaha.

Omaha, Neb., Aug. 24.—The wireless telephone newspaper project is backed by the United States government through the postoffice department and the "trial" station will soon be opened in Omaha.

If the premier try-out proves a success similar station will be established over the entire continent at a distance of 400 miles apart.

R. B. Howell, republican national committeeman from Nebraska, is the man in whose mind this novel idea "budded." He is an engineer, a graduate of the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis and was a lieutenant during the World War. Howell is the head of the Omaha municipal water works, gas works and ice plant. Recently Howell broached his plans to Postmaster-General Hays.

Hays was well pleased with the idea and asked Howell to establish an experimental wireless newspaper in Omaha. Also he appointed Howell to go to Europe and make investigations of certain phases of wireless reports which are being made over there. Howell will sail September 1.

The wireless newspaper will not wait for Howell's return, however, but will be started immediately.

If present plans are carried out the wireless newspaper will furnish all sorts of news to farmers, ranchmen, small towns, city businessmen and to homes. It will be run from early morning until late at night. Certain classes of news will be carried over the "wires" at stipulated hours.

"We may find it necessary to change our plans and undoubtedly will make many changes," said Howell. "We will add some features and eliminate others as we progress."

The cost as outlined by Howell in his report to Postmaster-General Hays, is a minor item. The sending stations, equipped and ready for use, will cost approximately $25,000 each. The receiving stations, to be paid for by the persons receiving the service, will cost not to exceed $95. The news itself will be free.

"The objects of the service is to extend the government functions, to increase the joy of living and to put the day's news into the hands of all who wish it while it is still happening," said Howell. "It is not intended, however, to usurp the position of the newspapers."

Rain Maker Again On Job In Dry Kansas

Emporia, Kan., Aug. 24.—The "rainmaker" is on the job again. Or rather, he's after a job again. And if Kansas farmers will only say the word he will come to their broad acres and, with the proper "hocus pocus," bring down torrents of rain to succor the ripening crops.

The drought in this section of Kansas during the past month has brought scores of applications from "rainmakers." Individuals, corporations and communities received them by the dozen. It appears, in fact, that there are enough "rainmakers" scattered around the country to bring about a second deluge, if they all gathered in convention and started up their rainmaking machinery to lure the elusive raindrop out of a clear sky.

As a result of the rainmakers' offers to give Kansas a downright good soaking many inquiries have been received at the Kansas State Normal school here as to whether credence could be placed in such a proposition. Professors in the department of chemistry have replied that "rainmaking" is a scientific possibility.

Twenty-five years ago Professor T. H. Dismore, head of the department of chemistry at that time actually produced rain on the roof of the normal school.

"Professor Dismore arranged a balloon-like affair, which he sent into the air from the roof of the building," said a faculty member who witnessed the experiment.

"To this was attached a little rubber tube leading to an ammonia gas generator on the building. The gas, escaping into the air, tended to condense the moisture in the clouds until they became heavy enough to precipitate in the form of rain. Some rain actually was produced. The experiment, of course, was on a small scale."

No rainmaker, however, has been engaged as yet to mix Jupiter Pluvius cocktails for thirsty Kansas crops.

No Discord In Life of Beautiful Wife of Scientist

Mrs. Peter Cooper Hewitt, of New York, the most beautiful American matron, at fashionable Deauville, France, is now in Paris with her husband, the eminent American scientist. They will soon depart for Deauville. Some time ago it was reported that Mrs. Hewitt went abroad planning a permanent residence there. It is said that the recent rumors of a rift in their domestic affairs have never had any foundation, being merely based on gossip.

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 24.—Mrs. Julia Romano was shot and killed today in the doorway of her home, just after her husband had left for work. Police started search for Michael Mondays, from whom the woman secured a divorce, which was followed by her marriage to Romano when the divorce became absolute recently.

Unemployment in Lumber Industry Not Extraordinary

While employment in the lumber industry in Oregon slumped 57.03 per cent during the period from May 15 to August 15, 1921, as compared with the same period of 1920, the employment situation this year is practically holding its own with 1919. This fact is revealed in a survey covering 410 plants in the lumber industry, just completed by C. H. Gram, state labor commissioner.

Lane County to Have Exhibit at State Fair Here

Boston, Aug. 24.—"Churches county will send an exhibit to the state fair at Salem, according to decision of the board of directors of the Lane County Fair association. George W. Taylor, president of the association, will have charge of the exhibit. The sum of $200 was appropriated by the directors of the Eugene chamber of commerce at a meeting previous to the session of the fair board to defray the expenses of transporting and maintaining the exhibit at the state fair."

Issues Warning Against Passage Of Blue Laws

Cincinnati, O., Aug. 24.—"Blue laws, as proposed by bills pending in congress, would throw America back one hundred years to days of fanatical persecutions," declared the Rev. Albert Zimmerman, Washington, D. C., director of the Speakers' Bureau of the Anti-Blue Law League of America.

"I want to warn Americans against reversion to a type of Colonial days which is now threatening," continued the Rev. Dr. Zimmerman, who came here to deliver a number of addresses, including one before the local outfit of the Anti-Blue Law League.

"As Americans we should stand by an American Sabbath, not a Continental nor a Puritanic Sabbath; not an open Sunday, but a day of rest, religion and recreation, reserving the American ideal of freedom for each individual, to observe the day as he deems best, according to the dictates of his own conscience."

"The stability of our American government is assured because it rests on a three-fold foundation made up of a free church, a free school and a free state. The rights of each are guaranteed by the Constitution," said the Rev. Dr. Zimmerman.

The efforts of so-called reformers to enact laws similar in spirit and intent to the blue laws of the Puritan days are fraught with danger to the republic, as such laws would undermine its very foundation. It is to combat this danger that the Anti-Blue Law League of America has been organized.

"We are arousing the people to this danger. I am organizing forces of four-minute speakers in all parts of the country. That this danger is real and not imaginary congress of two bills which provide for a Sunday without recreation—without concerts or entertainment, without newspapers, motion pictures, or other theatres, without stores of any kind open and with drastic regulation of travel on that day."

Publicity Need of Churches to Draw Crowds. Eugene, Or., Aug. 24.—Lane need more publicity. "People no longer attend churches from a sense of duty; they must be lured away from golf, and they must pay for sermons as other goods are paid for."

So says Rev. Dr. Albert D. Wittenbach, Unitarian minister of Boston, editor of the Christian Register, who has started a campaign for improving sermons and making churches more popular. He thinks a good hustling advertising agent in churches would make rich returns.

"Ministers should study advertising methods," he says. "With them it would be a matter of application, for they have trained and versatile minds."

Viewing Statue Immigrant Prays

New York, Aug. 24.—As the steamship Guglielmo Pierse passed the statue of liberty recently Adenaro Ratti, 17, an Italian student of sculpture, tell to his knees and prayed.

The burden of his prayer was that he might create a statue similar to the huge masterpiece of Bartholdi. Adenaro, who already has done several works of note in his native city, Carrara, Italy, yearns to produce "a grand monument of which the motif would be Liberty."

Tired and Nervous—from the Lack of Sleep? Do You Know the Reason Why?

Sleep time is the time when the reconstructive processes in your body are busiest—turning food into blood, and nerve tissue, and living cells.

That's the reason why lack of sleep makes you irritable, inefficient and nervous; and why you lack "punch" when you don't get a proper amount of the right kind of sleep.

It has been the experience of many that the cup of tea or coffee, taken at meal-time, robs them of sleep.

In Gould and Pyle's Encyclopedia of Medicine and Surgery you'll find that "caffeine is a rapidly acting stimulant to the brain and spinal cord, quickens the action of the heart, and raises blood pressure."

This makes it a very good medicine if prescribed by a doctor for cases of collapse, when a patient needs to have his system abnormally forced into activity. But caffeine is not good for people whose systems don't need to be drugged.

So if you don't get your proper sleep at night, it may be because you are being kept awake by tea or coffee.

Stop tea and coffee for awhile and drink Postum—the delicious cereal beverage.

Postum is a pure cereal product, and contains no harmful element whatsoever. Your first taste of Postum will surprise and please you. Many people prefer the flavor of Postum to that of coffee.

Order Postum from your grocer today. Drink this hot, refreshing beverage in place of tea or coffee for ten days, and see what a wonderful difference it will make in the way you feel.

Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (in tin) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes.
