Prisoner Serves Term For "Buddy" Who Saved His Life

Leavenworth, Kan., Oct. 4.—who is supposed to be committed to these barracks under the general court martial order. I am Harry W. Haley, who enlisted in 1913, at Fort Slocum, New York.

"My reasons for serving the sentence of Thomas G. Jones are that in the World War, in France, Jones saved my life on the battlefield. He faced heavy machine-gun fire, carrying me from the battle field wounded. I subsequently encountered Jones in Canada, where he told me he was a deserter from Fort Slocum, N. Y. He was ill and married. To pay my indebtedness to him for having saved my life, I told him I would return to the United States and pretend to be Thomas G. Jones, pleading guilty to a charge of absence without leave, all of which I did."

Prison officials have taken the case up with Washington officials. His fingerprints have been sent there to be compared with those of the deserter, Jones, also with Haley's, if a record of such a soldier serving at Fort Slocum exists.

Haley's statement follows: "I am not the Thomas G. Jones serving as superintendent of operations on both these roads after their completion."

Charles Lytle Dead Following Short Illness

A number of the employees of the department plan to attend the funeral services which will be held at Hillsboro, Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Girls Trying for Vacant Places on Varsity Glee Club

Tryouts are today being held at the Willamette university to determine who shall fill the vacancies in the Ladies' Glee club. Plans are being made to have a short tour, with a few concerts at towns near by Salem, and finishing after the manner of the men's glee club, with a Salem concert.

A new method of selecting singers for the club has been adopted by Professor Hobson, head of the department of music. This new

Field Trials Draw Few Dogs But Events Good

While fewer dogs were entered than for many years the Oregon field trials, held at Lebanon Saturday and Sunday, were quality performances according to J. M. Watson of Olympia, Wn., who was in Salem yesterday on his return from the trials with his dogs.

Only six dogs were entered in the derby, while the all age event drew only seven entries.

First place in the all age went to Lucky Kid, owned by Mrs. A. G. Wilkes, of San Francisco, and handled by Whitehead.

Second place—Rap, owned and handled by W. E. Martin of McMinnville, ran with Belle of Marshall, owned by L. DuCatto, San Francisco, handled by Whitehead.

Summary of Events.

Six braces and one bye-race were run on the first day and this morning, and a summary of the events follows:

First brace, all ages—Hy Everding, owned by H. R. Everding, Portland, and handled by Paul R. Whiteside, ran with Mor Memo Lou, owned by Mrs. W. Gibb, Ed-method will apply in the men's club as well as in that of the women. The method instituted is that all old members as well as new aspirants must undergo the same tryout. If new singers have arrived in school who excel those formerly members of either club, such old members must give way. It is expected that such a scheme will give clubs that are more truly representative of the university talent.

mond, Wash., and handled by J. M. Watson of Tacoma.

Second brace—Frank's Harvester, owned by Aaron M. Frank of Portland and handled by Whitehead, ran with Bright Eyes, owned by L. S. McIntyre of Seattle and handled by J. M. Watson.

Third brace—Lebanon Lady, owned by Hugh R. Kirkpatrick and handled by Whiteside, ran with Queen Lil, owned by Charles T. Haynes of Eugene, handled by Watson.

Fourth brace—Lucky Kid, owned by Mrs. A. G. Wilkes of San Francisco, ran a bye and was handled by Whiteside.

The final results of the race were as follows:

All ages—Lucky Kid, first; Bright Eyes, second; Queen Lil, third.

Derby—Fishel's Multnomah Rap, first; Rad, second; Pallacho Boy and Butler's Ben tied for third.

Prominent Man, Former Salemite Dies In Spokane

Word was received here today of the death in Spokane of Van B. De Lashmatt, a former resident of Salem who later became mayor of Portland and a prominent figure in northwest business and political circles. Mr. DeLashmatt was 79 years old at the time of his death. Burial will be made in Portland.

Mr. De Lashmatt was born in Burlington, Vt., July 27, 1842, and crossed the plains to Oregon in 1852. His family settled in Polk county. He began his career as a printer and was said to have received his start when he answered the advertisement of Asabel Bush, father of A. N. Bush of this city, who wanted "an apprentice to the printing business who would not expect to finish his trade or become foreman of the office in less than a year."

Mr. DeLashmatt was an ardent sportsman and was greatly interested in horse racing. He is survived by his widow and three children, George, Ivan and Inez De Lashmatt, all of Spokane.

Clyde G. Huntley, newly appointed collector of internal revenue for Oregon, has received more than 400 applications for jobs as deputies.
