

Peace Offers Union Miners Are Rejected

Washington, October 23.—Peace proposals of the union miners in West Virginia were cast aside today by counsel for the coal operators at the hearing before the senate investigating committee. Proposals of a settlement put forward by Frank P. Walsh, miners counsel, and Phillip Murray, vice-president of the United Mine Workers, was met with a declaration from the operators that "we'll have no dealings with the United Mine Workers."

Mr. Walsh called the committee's attention to the settlement plan submitted Monday by Mr. Murray, involving use of the committee's mediatory offices.

Hardly had Mr. Walsh finished when Z. T. Winson, the operators' chief counsel, was on his feet with a reply.

"The committee knows our attitude. We will not have anything whatever to do under any circumstances with the United Mine Workers of America or their representatives. We will not have conferences with a lot of outsiders under any circumstances, through this honorable committee, through the president of the United States or anybody else."

Jap's Voyage Over Pacific Stormy Trip

Aboard Steamship Kashima Maru, Victoria, B. C., Oct. 23.—The gorgeous autumnal day on which the Japanese delegation to the Washington conference sailed from Yokohama to the gay notes of music and the "huzzah" of thousands of friends was not symbolic, as it later appeared, of what was to be, for the voyage across the Pacific on the steamer Kashima Maru, which touched today at Victoria, was marked by a terrific encounter with a cyclone. On Monday, October 24, when the cyclone had spent itself, the ship was again struck by a strong westerly gale which sent her reeling to starboard, throwing passengers from their seats. Seas broke over the promenade deck and trickled into the smoking room. An investigation revealed the ship's rudder showed a slight deviation from the indicator on the pilot's room. The damage, important as it was, was a fruit of the early combat with the cyclone.

Forty years ago Admiral Jomoshuro Kato, the ranking member of the official delegation to the conference on armament limitations, coming on an officers' training ship, set foot for the first time on the shores of North America, visiting Victoria, as he did later San Francisco. Not during that long period from midshipman to architect of Japan's great navy did his sailings across the seven seas bring him such a storm as fell to our lot and that fact justifies more details of our experience than were permitted by radio from mid-Pacific. Our ship was badly shaken in the encounter with the storm—scarcely merged, as it were—but she merged from the struggle practically intact. There were undoubtedly moments of danger which the calm, impassive Oriental passengers felt. But everybody was careful not to betray emotion. Flashes of Japanese humor, stories and anecdotes, related at the height of the hurricane carried us through spendily even if they did not rest our weary bodies. Prince Tokugawa, cordial and popular with everybody, proved himself a true prince charming.

The Kashima was named after a famed shinto temple near Tokio, translated, it means "island of deer" and sleek and as a deer Kashima evaded the cyclone which sought to drive her mercilessly before its mighty wind and then beat her down and bury her. She did not run before the pursuing enemy, but turned and fought him and that was the secret of her victory.

Deserter Is Convicted By Court Martial

New York, Oct. 23.—Linn A. Gale, former Albany newspaperman and one time state employe, was convicted today by a court martial of desertion from the army as well as on two charges of sedition.

The general court, sitting at Governors Island, recommended a sentence of seven years at hard labor and the customary dishonorable discharge from the army and forfeiture of all pay and allowances.

Gale is confident.

San Francisco, Oct. 23.—The Oregon Agricultural college football team, confident of victory, passed through here today enroute to Stanford university where tomorrow the team meets the Stanford varsity in a Pacific coast conference game.

Gained Cotton Exceeds Supply of October 1920

Washington, Oct. 23.—A larger percentage of the country's cotton crop had been ginned to October 18 this year than had been ginned in any previous year to that date in the history of cotton growing, the census bureau's ginning report indicated.

A total of 5,477,497 bales had been turned out by ginneries, which total is 83.7 per cent of the entire crop as estimated by the department of agriculture in its forecast of October 3 this year. The previous heaviest ginning to October 18 was in 1916 when 64.3 per cent of the crop had been ginned.
