Student Leaders Leave To Attend P. I. P. A. Meeting

Student body president, Ben Rickli, of Willamette university together with Sheldon Sackett, editor of the school paper, College, left last evening for Seattle to attend the regular session of the Pacific Intercollegiate Press association, a body formed of representatives of all coast college papers, which meeting is being held at the University of Washington, November 3 to 5.

The purpose will be in interchange ideas of methods of handling the various campus problems. "I wish to learn what the other colleges are doing in regard to student management of glee clubs, the much discussed point system and honor system; their Y. M. C. A., and also in regard to awarding students for athletic achievement. Then further, by mutual discussion upon these and other pertinent matters the northwest colleges can arrive at uniform methods of procedure," said Rickli.

Judge Enjoins Striking Milk Wagon Drivers

Cleveland, Ohio, Nov. 3.—Common pleas Judge Maurice Bernon granted this morning a temporary injunction restraining striking milk wagon drivers from interfering in any way with the delivery of milk here after several outbreaks of violence had marked the start of the second day of the strike of 800 milk wagon drivers.

New York, Nov. 3.—With all negotiations for a settlement of the milk strike at a standstill, following refusal of the employers organization to accept Mayor Hylan's proposal of arbitration, officials of the Milk Drivers union were perfecting plans today for a "finish fight," which they predicted might last three months. More than 100 men early today attacked three men loading trucks at a downtown distributing station and police reserves arrested nine of the crowd after a chase.

Buchtel Urges Protection of Rail Crossings

Co-operation of county courts and railroad officials is sought, in a letter forwarded by Fred G. Buchtel, public service commissioner, this week in minimizing accidents at grade crossings.

In his letter to the county courts Buchtel suggests that the road supervisor be requested to assure himself that advance warning signs are properly placed along the highways and that brush or other obstructions which might obscure the view of the traveler be removed.

Attention is also called to the practice of narrowing down county roads to a width of eight or ten feet at grade crossings which are frequently approached at a grade as great as 10 and even 20 per cent. In this connection Buchtel suggests that, particularly on county highways carrying heavy traffic, the improved portion of the highway at the crossing be widened to not less than 16 feet and the grade reduced to not to exceed 5 per cent.

Railroad officials are urged to take steps toward removing any obstructions on the right of way which might obscure the view of approaching trains. Attention is also called to the common practice of spotting cars for loading or unloading near a grade crossing, thereby limiting the view and creating a particularly unsafe condition. Trains waiting on passing tracks parallel to tracks over which train movements occur and freight trains cut to permit passage of vehicular traffic are also mentioned as among the extremely great hazards to traffic which the railroad is asked to minimize through the employment of flagmen from among members of the train crew.

"We realize that a separation of grades is the only known method of entirely eliminating accidents; nevertheless we believe that watchful care of the physical conditions surrounding a crossing will be very helpful," Buchtel's letter concludes.

Woman Complains of Destruction of Road Forests

An appeal for executive action to prevent further destruction of timbered areas along public highways in Oregon reached Governor Olcott, Wednesday from Mrs. A. H. Russell of Ashland, Mrs.
