Miss Scott Is Honored At Supper

Miss Eva L. Scott was the honored guest last night at a Sunday night supper party at the Y. W. C. A. when present residents and those who have lived at the association since Miss Scott became girls' work secretary a year and a half ago, came in to surprise her. The party was in the nature of a farewell to the honor guest of a farewell association work, as her resignation will be effective December 1, and early in the new year she will become the bride of Leroy N. Myers.

Sunday night supper hour was chosen as the time for the affair, as this, among association residents, is the most anticipated hour in the schedule. The meal is always served in the kitchen and a Sunday night seldom passes but some of the old friends drop in to be with the "old crowd" again. So there were no decorations, and the places were laid at the long table in the kitchen.

Miss Scott was presented with a gift appropriate for use at Sunday night supper and the presentation speech was made by Miss Marguerite Gleason. A suppositional will and testament of the spirit of honor was read, as well as a prophesy, telling where all of the group would be a few years hence. Following supper, the evening was spent in the parlor around the fire place.

Although Miss Scott will leave the association December 1, her successor has not yet been announced. Miss Scott, during her time at the Y. W. C. A. has organized ten corps of Girl Reserves throughout the city with a membership of two hundred twenty five girls. She is loved by all with whom she has worked and has made remarkable progress with projects she has undertaken.

Those included in last night's party were Miss Eva L. Scott, Mrs. Elta Bradford, Mrs. Sadie Key, Miss Elsie Decker, Miss Marguerite Gleason, Miss Irene Doje, Miss Esther Natterlund, Miss Helen Berg, Miss Dorothy Setchell, Miss Eva L. Walker, Miss Missah Palmerton, Miss Dolly Burke, Miss Leona Hook, Miss Doris Welch, Miss Gladys Sargent, Miss Marian Zinser, Miss Hazel Williams, Miss Doris Slier, Miss Adelaide Lako.

What's New On The Market

By Rex Stewart
While there are good supplies of green vegetables on the market for Thanksgiving menus an eleventh hour rush may cause a scarcity and housewives are advised to do their buying early. Celery, lettuce, cranberries, sweet potatoes, red and green peppers, will all be in great demand this week. The celery and celery hearts, selling for 10 and 15 cents in fine condition and will be in no danger of spoiling, if purchased immediately. California and local lettuce is on the market at 10 and 15 cents a head. The California stuff is larger, but the quality of the different products are about on a par.

The first delivery of turkeys was made this morning the expected price of 45 cents a pound retail being quoted to the consumer. It is doubtful if there will be much more buying by retailers, deliveries being held up because of the rain storm.

The highest price on eggs was 55 cents this morning, in cash or trade. Competitive buying being the cause of the increase.

Red cabbage, used largely for salad making, has been offered at five cents a pound for the last few days with a good demand and fair supply.

Four Pupils Presented In Recital

The Presbyterian church was filled Friday night to hear the Petri artist pupils' recital, and the audience was enthusiastic. Mrs. Jeannette Boyer-Xanten proved to be a coloratura soprano with a polished technique and good interpretation. She gave brilliant numbers with Miss Laughton's flute obligato. Charles Thompson revealed remarkable skill and ease in his work and was versatile, showing pathos, humor and simplicity.

Franklin Launer of Salem interested the audience keenly. Much was expected of him as a favorite local pianist. In no way did he disappoint. He was technically and interpretatively equal to the Grieg concerto. This is a poetic and colorful work well suited to his imaginative temperament. William O'Neil played remarkably well the difficult Tschalkowsky concerto. Its breadth, depth of thought, harmonic intricacies and technical difficulties were all satisfactorily brought out in Mr. O'Neil's performance. Mrs. Petri played the orchestral scores at a second piano.

The new rural mail service between Astoria and Svenson will be inaugurated January 16. The route will be 29 miles long.

Your Daughter's Corset

"As the twig is bent so is the tree inclined."

This trite old saying might be aptly paraphrased—"As the girlish figure is corseted so will its fuller womanly beauty be revealed."

Your daughter in her "Teens" is beginning to develop. Her figure is about to take on the characteristics that will make or mar it later.

At no time in her whole development is reliable advice on the corseting of her whole figure more important than right at this moment.

Our expert fitters have made a special study of the corseting of young girls. You may procure expert advice from them in our Corset Section and see tried on your daughter the Modart models which have been especially designed for Misses.

The Modart is a corset for grown-ups, too, and your daughter will like it the more for that.

GRIFFITH PICTURE MAKES NEW ADMIRERS DAILY

Entering upon the second day of its run at the Liberty Theatre, D. W. Griffith's motion picture triumph, "Way Down East," has enlisted a host of additional admirers of this spoken drama classic which has held sway on the American stage for the past twenty-two years. The new Griffith artistic efforts in colors, lights and effects have made a distinct impression on local screen patrons and those who show preference for the spoken stage presentation have been profoundly impressed by the manner in which this genius of the film has made of this old play a new thing with a scope of greater appeal. Not the least interest centers in the remarkable cast of interpreting players which includes Lillian Gish, Richard Barthelmess, Lowell Sherman, Burr McIntosh, Mary Hay, Mrs. Morgan-Belmont and a host of others equally well known to both stage and screen.

A civil service examination will be held in Oregon City, December 3, for the purpose of filling the place of postmaster at Gladstone.

The Civic Arts section of the Salem Arts league will meet tonight with Mrs. F. L. Purvine, 682 State street.

Strikers Return Colorado Mines

Trinidad, Colo., Nov. 21.—Eighty per cent of a normal force of men was working in five Colorado Fuel and Iron company mines in the Las Animas county field today, opening the second week of the strike of miner employed by the company in protest against a thirty per cent cut in wages. Company officials declared the strike had been broken in this district. A total of 1919 workmen reported at the mines, as compared with 933 Saturday, according to company figures. A slight gain in men working in the Walsenburg district also was announced at company offices here. The Lester mine in that district resumed operation today with almost a normal force. This mine had been closed because of lack of business. Miners meeting last week decided to accept the cut in wages at this property if work was resumed.

One mine, the Nonac, in Fremont county, where a sympathetic strike of miners was in operation, was working this morning, with a small force, the company announced.
