

The Capital Journal

Salem, Oregon
An Independent Newspaper
Every evening except Sunday
Telephone 41; news 23

GEORGE PUTNAM
Editor and Publisher

SUBSCRIPTION RATES
By carrier 50 cents a month (within 50 miles of Salem) one month 50 cents, 6 months $2.50, one year $4. Elsewhere $5 a year.

Entered as second class mail matter at Salem, Oregon.

Member
ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for publication of all news dispatches credited to it or otherwise credited, in this paper and also local news published herein.

Polk County Court

Circuit Court
Leonard H. Emery vs Eva R. Emery. Plaintiff files affidavit of mailing to the defendant true and correct copies of complaint and summons, also proof of publication of summons. District Attorney J. N. Helgeson files state's answer wherein each and every allegation of the complaint is denied, prays the court for decree dismissing suit and costs and disbursements.

Edward T. Plaster vs Olive Plaster. Defendant files answer and cross complaint denying all allegations of complaint except that both plaintiff and defendant are residents of the state of Oregon and that they were lawfully married in Dallas. Cross complaint alleges that plaintiff willfully deserted and abandoned her with-out just or sufficient cause, asks that plaintiff take nothing and be barred from commencing any further suit in this matter; that the marriage be dissolved; that defendant's name be changed from Plaster to McCarter, her former name, and that defendant recover from plaintiff her costs and disbursements. Further moves court for order requiring plaintiff to pay into court $125 as necessary attorney's fees.

Ottillie Clarke vs Edwin Clarke. Plaintiff files affidavit for the publication of summons. Order entered by the court requiring that summons be published in the Polk County Observer for six successive weeks, requiring the defendant to appear and answer the complaint herein.

Otto W. Helder vs H. Agnes Bennett and Vernon C. Bennett, her husband. Plaintiff files affidavit showing that Vernon C. Bennett is not a resident of state of Oregon but resides in Omaha, Neb., and that service of summons should be had upon said defendant by publication. Order entered by court directing summons be served by publication in Polk County Itemizer six successive weeks, requiring the defendant, Vernon C. Bennett, to appear and answer said complaint. Court further ordered that a copy of said summons, together with a copy of complaint be mailed to defendant. Affidavit of mailing summons and complaint to defendant filed by plaintiff. Order entered by the court over ruling motion of defendant H. Agnes Bennett, and giving plaintiff judgment against said defendant in sum of $450 with costs and disbursements.

Merchants' Credit Bureau vs G. W. Lewis. Plaintiff filed complaint wherein it shows that defendant purchased from A. V. King certain goods, wares and merchandise amounting, after all payments have been deducted, to $114.02, which amount is still due and owing. Plaintiff asks judgment against defendant. Having filed with court their affidavit for attachment and their undertaking on attachment, the clerk of the court issued a writ of attachment.

Chicago Spectacle House Makes Startling Offer

Will Send Handsome Glasses on Trial to Anyone

Everyone who wears glasses or suffers from eye strain, will be interested in the remarkable offer of the Chicago Spectacle House, Dept. C587, 1462 W. Madison St., Chicago, Ill., to send a pair of their large size "True Vision Glasses" free on trial to any reader of this paper who writes them. These splendid glasses will enable anyone to read the smallest print, thread the finest needle, see far or near, and prevent eye strain and headaches. They are 10 Karat Gold Filled, very handsome in appearance and should last a life time. Don't send any money, simply your name, address and age, and state the length of time you have been wearing glasses. They will send you the glasses at once by prepaid parcel post, to use and wear for ten days free. If you are satisfied in every way and want to keep them, you are then to pay the small charge of $2.95, otherwise return the glasses and you are out nothing.

If you accept their offer at once, they will enclose the glasses in a beautiful, velveteen lined spring back pocketbook spectacle case which is to be yours free of all cost. (adv)

Back to Normalcy

The editor of the Medford Mail Tribune, who staunchly advocated the change in government policies, is touring the east and viewing the "return to normalcy" he assisted in bringing about. He declares in editorial correspondence that "evidence of hard times increases as one proceeds east. They say it is worst in New York" and depicts conditions in Chicago:

When I arrived Canal street looked like a parade. The employment offices along this dingy thoroughfare were packed with men and boys of all ages and in all degrees of undress, while long queues stretched along the sidewalks and overflowed into the street.

I visited the Chicago News and was amazed to find the sidewalks on all sides of the big building jammed with men, young and old. I suspected a walkout or preliminaries for a riot, until the early edition fresh from the press came out and the crowd, with pennies in their hands, flew after the papers like a pack of hungry wolves. There was no perusing of the front page: like one man, this mob turned to the want-ad section and buried their noses in it.

They were after jobs and when I left the same jam was there, so I guess they didn't find them.

"So on down the line," he writes and the further east, the worse it gets. "Any union calling a strike in the east, should be examined by an alienist. Too many millions merely want bread and butter to make a walkout anything but involuntary charity," he continues.

Yes, the era of the silk shirt has gone, the day of short hours and the big pay and along with them have gone $3 wheat and the full dinner pail. We have done with the "wobble and wobble" of prosperity with its jobs for all and money to blow, and are back in those good old days of normalcy with its bread lines and soup houses and armies of idle. We have executed a right-about-face under command of the new general staff, General Distress, General Bankruptcy and General Unemployment.

"Good Faith"

The Portland Oregonian declares that because at the request of Julius Meyer and other incorporators of the Atlantic-Pacific Highways and Electrical Exposition, the legislature last February adopted a joint memorial to congress requesting that foreign nations be invited to cooperate, that the state of Oregon and its people thereby became pledged to the exposition and as a matter of good faith, must now vote extra taxes to finance the exposition. The resolution as adopted reads:

That the congress of the United States be and the same is hereby memorialized to invite foreign nations to participate in the Atlantic-Pacific Highways and Electrical Exposition to be held in the city of Portland, state of Oregon, in the year 1925.

"There at Salem spoke the state of Oregon. There spoke its legislature—the same legislature that is to meet on December 19 to carry out its pledge of February 11, 1921," says the Oregonian. Bunk. If the exposition promoters wanted to be financed by the state, why didn't they say so at the time, and save the expense of a special session and special election? The legislature made no pledge and never dreamed that the promoters would have the gall to come back a year later to ask the state to finance their show.

The Atlantic-Pacific Highways and Electrical Exposition was quite a different proposal from the "new Jerusalem" the people are asked to tax themselves for now. There was no suggestion and no thought of the exposition being financed by taxation—had there been the legislature would not have given its unanimous endorsement. It was not until last September that the promoters hit upon the clever idea of making the people pay while they pocketed the profits.

As a matter of fact, it is the exposition crowd that has broken faith with the legislature and the people. They secured the legislative endorsement under false pretenses—pretenses that the exposition was to be privately financed as all other expositions had been, and their coming back at this late date without having risked a penny, to demand that the taxpayers foot the bill, is an evidence of broken faith.

Tabloid Sermons

For Busy People by Parson Abiel Haile

"Hold fast the form of sound words."—2 Tim. 1-13.

What a sterling admonition Paul gave Timothy! A straight warning against rambling speech and roaming thought. Paul was not a word juggler. He knew the Word and the Spirit of the Word, and knew that no hyperbole was needed. Many a parish has languished because the preacher strayed far from the form of sound words. Many a teacher has fallen grievously because he talked over the heads of the pupils. And many an employer, or overseer has failed to develop human talent for the same reason. Any seeker for knowledge comes to a fount of wisdom as would a child. It may be the seeker for information from a automobile salesman or demonstrator. The alert and wise man will tell the seeker in the form of sound words just what he wants to know. The smart Alick will spoil the sale. And so in any calling or any human post wherein one is expected to impart information. Give it straight. The natural tendency in most folks is to "go around Robin Hood's barn" to tell a simple story. This inclination seems to be more noticeable with the rising generation than it was 30 years ago. Largely this has been due to the cramming process of today. Men are rushed into a trade with a brief apprenticeship, and are called journeymen. Formerly, when there was adherence to "the form of sound words" it took several years to make a master of craft. Education, too, was imparted properly. Now, the average college senior knows a little of many things. This condition has drawn laments from educators and is one reason for the move for a federal department of education. Now, too, many employers complain that the boys and girls are not up to the old average. Again, these youngsters reflect the absence of sound words in their teaching. And in our every day religion many incline to babblings and nonsense condemned by Paul.

M. C. A. here, stated that he was unable to say how much of this year's fund would be allotted to the local association, but promised that it would be large enough to pay half of the expenses of all ex-service men who wanted to attend the Y. M. C. A. school in Portland.

Missouri Town's Jail Most Unique

Manstield, Mo., Nov. 30.—America's most unique jail has been located here. The village "jug" is really a jug, the most curiously designed structure of modern eras.

The little building, which is used sometimes, is constructed of concrete, sixteen inches thick. It is the replica of the half of the old-time whiskey bottle the exterior being rounded, with a tapering of several feet at the entrance. The "jug" has iron bars. Officers admit, however, that without a cork and a handle it is not literally a jug.

Several deer killed by sportsmen in Grant county showed symptoms of "lung jaw" an ailment peculiar to cattle, according to Stanley G. Jewett of the United States biological survey, who states that the meat is unfit for food.

Delegate From Portugal at Arms Conference

Captain Ernesto Vasconcellos of Portugal, one of the delegates at the arms conference in Washington.

New Fountain of Youth

The secret of human vitality apparently has been discovered. Culminating five years of study, Phillip Rathjen, M. A., Ph. D., of Pasadena, Cal., recently revealed for the first time an amazing discovery which he made. From the glands of selected bulls and cows Dr. Rathjen has evolved a fluid which, he claims, will produce the following amazing results, when injected into the human body: Restoration of "pep" to worn-out human bodies, giving added weight, clearer eyes, brighter minds, quicker bodies and generally increased vitality. The new serum, which, according to all reports, has produced remarkable success in many cases, is injected by a special method prescribed by Dr. Rathjen. No longer need there be transplantation of animal glands via the surgeon's table.

"Everybody ready?" Interrupted Kitty as she replaced a lipstick in her vanity case after having made her mouth look as though someone had cut it.

Ria grasped my arm and pulled me back an instant, whispering: "Virgie, oh Virgie, I am so proud of you. The way you mimicked Herb Richardson was perfectly lovely. And oh, how mad he was. He hates to be laughed at worse than any man I know. Tony Melville thinks you are wonderful. He asked me if your pose of innocence was acting and, Virgie, I told him yes!"

"But you knew better, Ria."

"Of course I did. But no person would believe that in these days there could be a girl so fashionably gowned and unfashionably innocent as you are tonight."

"I don't understand. Doesn't anyone tell the truth in this business?"

"Most of us, Virgie, think that we must act off as well as on a set."

By this time we were alone in the dressing room and we hurried out to find Herb and Billy Johnson.

Rickey Notes

Rickey, Or., Nov. 30.—A baby son arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. Dalke about 6 o'clock Monday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. George Edwards spent Thanksgiving with their son Will Edwards of Polk county.

Mr. and Mrs. Orven Fryslie were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Drobough, Sunday.

The last meeting of the Thendara club was held at the home of Mrs. George Edwards.

Thanksgiving guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Harris were Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Binegar, Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Magee and daughters, Marguerite and Hazel, Miss Hazel Harris of Monmouth, and Mrs. A. L. Baker of Mill City.

Mr. Catlin of Salem has purchased the Shuts farm.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Dickman spent Thanksgiving in Portland.

Rosedale Notes

Rosedale, Or., Nov. 30.—Miss Lois Hampton spent her Thanksgiving vacation at home.

The Christian Endeavor held its monthly social and business meeting of the society Friday evening at the R. Cammack home. C. A. Cole and family spent Thanksgiving with relatives in Portland.

Miss Margery Alexander returned to her school work at Eugene on Saturday.

Miss Helen Cammack came home Wednesday evening, returning to Portland Monday morning.

The Hadley and Gardner families motored to Portland Thursday.

Starlight

BY THE NOTED AUTHOR
Idah McClintock Gibson
The Thrilling and Dramatic Story of Virginia Fairfax's Ambition!

Herb Richardson Exasperated
Our party seemed to create quite a sensation as we left the room. I heard one man say: "Who is the new girl Herb Richardson has in tow?"

And another man answered: "Don't know, but he is evidently trying to interest Tony Melville in her." And their voices died away as we passed. I would have given a lot to hear the rest of their conversation and being preoccupied I guess I was rather unresponsive as Mr. Melville walked beside me.

"Come over to my studio some day and ask for me," suggested Tony Melville as the men stopped at the check room and prepared to leave the party.

"Why, you are coming with us, Tony," Herb insisted.

"Can't do it. You know this is late for me. I am not a gay butterfly like you—sipping sweets where they please me. I'm trying to roll up a few dollars for my old age. So I'll just say away. You can take care of Dorothy for me. I'm sure she won't miss me anyway. I have been more stupid this evening, but that girl interests me less than any woman I have ever known. She has nothing but regular features and big eyes to recommend her."

Dorothy evidently heard this for as we entered the ladies' dressing room she said: "Oh, how I hate Tony Melville! I can't understand why Herb paired him off with me."

"The reason you don't like Tony, Dot, is because he never has been able to see you on the screen. I know you have been angling to do 'lead' for him for months. Better forget it. You'll never make the grade," said Kitty Dalton.

"Oh, close your trap," said Dorothy furiously. "This is the stupidest party I ever came to. What do you think of Herb Richardson giving a party and no booze?" She looked directly at Ria as she spoke.

Ria accepted the challenge. "There will be no booze at Herb's parties if I am present."

"Oh! It has gone as far as that, has it? Congratulations," snapped Dorothy waspishly.

"You have nothing to congratulate me for. But if I am in the party, and Herb begins to distribute the booze I leave. I told him that tonight and he had the highball glasses taken off the table. He'll probably never invite me again."

"Everybody ready?" Interrupted Kitty as she replaced a lipstick in her vanity case after having made her mouth look as though someone had cut it.

Ria grasped my arm and pulled me back an instant, whispering: "Virgie, oh Virgie, I am so proud of you. The way you mimicked Herb Richardson was perfectly lovely. And oh, how mad he was. He hates to be laughed at worse than any man I know. Tony Melville thinks you are wonderful. He asked me if your pose of innocence was acting and, Virgie, I told him yes!"

"But you knew better, Ria."

"Of course I did. But no person would believe that in these days there could be a girl so fashionably gowned and unfashionably innocent as you are tonight."

"I don't understand. Doesn't anyone tell the truth in this business?"

"Most of us, Virgie, think that we must act off as well as on a set."

By this time we were alone in the dressing room and we hurried out to find Herb and Billy Johnson.

"Everybody ready?" Interrupted Kitty as she replaced a lipstick in her vanity case after having made her mouth look as though someone had cut it.

Ria grasped my arm and pulled me back an instant, whispering: "Virgie, oh Virgie, I am so proud of you. The way you mimicked Herb Richardson was perfectly lovely. And oh, how mad he was. He hates to be laughed at worse than any man I know. Tony Melville thinks you are wonderful. He asked me if your pose of innocence was acting and, Virgie, I told him yes!"

"But you knew better, Ria."

"Of course I did. But no person would believe that in these days there could be a girl so fashionably gowned and unfashionably innocent as you are tonight."

"I don't understand. Doesn't anyone tell the truth in this business?"

"Most of us, Virgie, think that we must act off as well as on a set."

By this time we were alone in the dressing room and we hurried out to find Herb and Billy Johnson.

SAP AND SALT

BY
Bert Moses
Copyright 1932 by Bert Moses, Sag and Salt, Inc., Seattle, Wash.

The longer the skirts, the shorter the rubbernecks.

A gentleman is a man who never claims to be one.

Dresses were invented to conceal the figure, but their purpose today is to reveal it.

Heroes do not wear plug hats.

The chief rule in taking a castor oil is to take enough.

HEZ HECK SAYS:
"Whiskers catch what spills from the spoon."

A vacuum tin is of little value in itself

It's the brand that counts

A vacuum tin will retain any coffee flavor—but it may not be the flavor you want.

That's reason enough why you should look for "Folger's Golden Gate" on every tin of coffee you buy. That name assures you of a better coffee flavor—a flavor developed by seventy-one years of experience.

"Folger's Golden Gate Coffee is different in taste from other coffee and better."

Tell your grocer you want it.

Prices on all U. S. Tires and Tubes Reduced November 10th

Ask your Dealer

The makers of United States Tires made available November 10th prices lower than any pre-war prices on their full line of tires and tubes, including Royal Cords and Fabric Tires for passenger cars and solid and pneumatic tires for trucks.

The new prices are ready for the public all over the country through the established dealers who handle United States Tires.

	USCO	CHAIN	HOBBY	ROYAL	CORD	GREY TUBE
30x3 1/2	$10.90	$14.90	$17.90	$18.30		$2.25
32x3 1/2	17.75	19.15	23.15	25.75		2.55
32x4	23.60	25.40	27.60	32.50		3.10
33x4	24.85	26.75	28.95	33.50		3.20

United States Tires
United States Rubber Company