

NAVY CUT PLAN NOT ACCEPTED

Japanese Stand For Higher Ratio Halts Progress and Dead-lock Indicated

Washington, Nov. 30.—(By Associated Press.)—Details of the American plan for limitation of naval armament were discussed today at a brief meeting of the sub-committee of naval experts of Great Britain, the United States and Japan.

There also was no indication that the full committee of naval experts, including the officers of the French and Italian navies, had been called. It is generally expected that when the experts of the three powers reach a point where they cannot proceed further until the conference has decided the fundamental question of fleet ratio as between the United States and Japan, that the full naval expert committee will be assembled and will then make its report to the naval committee of the conference.

Optimism was apparent among members of the British delegation, a spokesman for which prior to the adjournment of the sub-committee asserting that he believed some announcement, along the line of naval armament might be expected next week, probably before the conference in plenary session Wednesday or Thursday.

The session was adjourned shortly after 11 o'clock and it was then said there would be no other meeting of the sub-committee today and that it had not been determined whether discussion would be resumed tomorrow.

In some quarters prospects for an early agreement on the question were regarded as having been somewhat improved by the statement of Prince Tokugawa of the Japanese delegation that the announcement Monday of Vice Admiral Kato of the Japanese advisory staff that Japan wanted a 70 instead of a 60 per cent naval ratio, was merely an expression of "personal opinion," not sponsored by the delegation, of which he is not a member.

As Prince Tokugawa declined to reveal, however, the actual view of the Japanese delegates as to what percentage of fleet strength Japan would insist upon, no definite deduction was possible from his statement.

The reiterated firmness of the American delegates at the same time against acceptance of any increase in the naval ratio for Japan was understood to have had the effect of definitely ending consideration of the question in the naval sub-committee of the powers, and it was said authoritatively that the committee would not even touch upon it at its postponed meeting today.

It was expected that the ultimate agreement would be left to informal meetings between the various delegates.

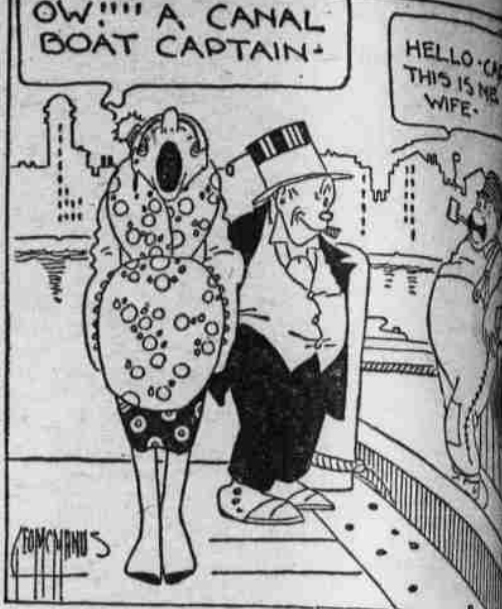

Brumfield Appeal Nearly Ready To File Say Attorneys

Roseburg, Or., Nov. 30.—The transcript in the case of Dr. R. M. Brumfield, who is under sentence of death at the state penitentiary, is almost ready and will be filed within a few days, according to Rice & Orcutt, attorneys for Brumfield. The appeal will be filed as soon as the transcript is ready and this will automatically work as a stay of execution for the condemned man, who is sentenced to be hanged January 13, 1922. The transcript, which is being prepared by the court reporter, will be four or five hundred pages in length, and will cover a great amount of the examination and testimony.

A CLEAR COMPLEXION Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes—Most Women Can Have

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Old Physician
Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color. These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system. If you have a pale face, yellowish eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headache, a listless, no-good feeling, all sorts of inactive bowels, you take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets right for a time and note the pleasing results. Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the safe, natural substitute for calomel—now and then, to keep them fit. 15c and 30c.

Espee Bounces 2110 Hoboes In State In Month

In the month of October 29,634 undesirable persons were put off the trains or premises of the Southern Pacific company, according to a report made public by J. H. Dyer, general manager of the company. The report was presented by Dan O'Connell, chief special agent, and showed that the total number of persons put off the company's property from January 1, 1921, to October 31, was 158,286. The October figures were divided by states as follows:

California 11,521
Arizona 4,856
Oregon 2,119
Nevada 1,172
New Mexico 751
Utah 124

That the hobo problem is a serious one for both the railroads and the public was pointed out by Dyer.

"These figures," he said, "show that California is the mecca of these persons, and this means that the unemployment problem for this winter will be made worse by the presence in this state of such a large number of people who have no prospects for employment and many of whom have no intention of working."

Ruins of Wrecked Theater Searched For Other Victims

New York, Nov. 30.—Search of the ruins of a new theater in Brooklyn which collapsed yesterday during construction, killing six workmen, was continued today to determine if the bodies of four missing laborers were under the tons of brick and twisted girders. Eighteen other workmen are in hospitals, some in serious condition.

District Attorney Lewis, who yesterday ordered Sylvester Rosenthal and Samuel Moskowitz, owners and contractors of the building, held on charges of manslaughter, said he expected further arrests today.

Definite Decision On Strike To Be Made Thursday

Chicago, Nov. 30.—Final action on the question of a strike by employees of the packers in all the packing plants of the country is expected today or tomorrow, when the executive committee of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butchers Workmen of North America meets here.

Little notice would be required for issuance of a strike call authority for which was voted some time ago by the unions whenever their officers, in their judgment, deemed it expedient. The strike vote was a protest against wage cuts.

School Fund to Remain In Custody of County Treasurer

The $23,500 fund of the school districts No. 22 of Marion county and No. 303, Clackamas county, will remain in the hands of the county treasurer, according to a decision of Judge George G. Bingham of the circuit court.

The voters of the two districts voted to raise the amount through a bond issue for the erection of a school building. When it was raised it was found more advantageous to wait, and the funds were turned in to the county treasurer. Immediately afterwards the districts were offered 6 per cent for the funds by the Willamette Valley Mortgage company.

The decision of the court which states that the voters of a district may vote funds but can not vote the use of them.

War Movie Stirs 300 Prisoners

From 6:30 until 9 o'clock last night it was dark in the auditorium of the Oregon state penitentiary. Three hundred men and a score of women sat in the lightless hall. Up above the gallery, over the heads of the women prisoners, came the monotonous rumble of an antiquated motion picture machine.

It was quiet in the prison spectatorium. Occasionally some individual, garbed in gray, leaned forward in his seat or scraped a foot on the floor as he shifted his position. Nobody noticed. Not infrequently men cleared their throats with musty gusto. High up in the gallery a woman was laughing nervously. At the same moment a painted lady on her right held a handkerchief to her eyes.

The prison orchestra may not have been what it should be. Nobody noted whether its selections synchronized with the various effects attained by the actors in "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse." Nobody realized that the players were working methodically except during those brief intervals in which reels were changed.

For two hours and a half there was scarcely a sound in the auditorium. Eleven times the operator changed reels. Eleven times 300 men and a score of women waited impatiently for the "movie" to get underway.

Little may be said about the merits of "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse." A score of professional critics have elaborated on its remarkable action, its extraordinary settings, its simple, forcefully told story. "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse" must be seen if it is to be appreciated. The tale has to do with the world war. The four horsemen represent Conquest, War, Pestilence and Death.

Father And Son Week Planned By "Y" In 1922

A review of the report of the boys' work committee of the Y. M. C. A. of which T. E. McGroskey is chairman, shows that the feature of the year's program planned for 1922 will be the father and son week.

It has not been definitely planned as yet, but it is probable that the program will include father and son days in the different clubs of the city beginning with the Commercial club, Monday, and ending with a banquet in the churches of the city on Friday night.

It is also probable that the ministers of the city will be asked to preach a sermon on the Sunday preceding with regard to father and son and the home relations. The object of the committee is to conduct the activities of the week so as to reach the greatest number of boys in the city.

Open house for high school boys will be held some time in the near future and the committee is planning a friendliness campaign in which older boys will be coupled up with business men for personal interviews regarding their life vocation.

Canby Enjoying Ripe Strawberries

Canby, Or., Nov. 30.—With many parts of Oregon and Washington experiencing silver thaws and snow, Canby still is enjoying spring weather. Meadow larks and various other birds are heard singing from the tree tops. Ripe strawberries have been gathered and raspberries found ripening. Dandelions are in bloom.

L. C. Loveland, who has been employed on a ranch near Jefferson for several months, is under arrest on telegraphic instructions from Fort Benton, Mont., charged with grand larceny.
