Dr. W. B. Morse will have charge of the Rotary club program Wednesday noon at the luncheon in the Marion hotel. The Rotary clubs throughout the county are promoting a national health week, and the program here will be along that line.

Due to the thickness of the fog last night, which spread over the entire Willamette valley, belated visitors and week enders in Portland were forced to return by the early morning train because the automobile stage leaving there at 11 o'clock failed to run on schedule.

A hold up man wearing an overcoat and a cap—that was the only description furnished the police—accosted him at the corner of 13th and Wilbur streets Saturday night. Glen Adhart, who resides at the corner of 13th and Wilbur, complained to the police. The stick up man took $6.50 from Adhart's person, according to the report. An investigation made by officers revealed nothing.

There was but slight damage when an automobile driven by Miss M. R. Best of Kingwood park collided with a machine driven by William H. DeMasters, of Corvallis, Saturday, according to the report made to the police. Miss Best was driving south on Kingwood avenue and DeMasters was moving in the opposite direction when the crash came. No one was injured.

Cherrians To Elect Officers December 6

Election of Cherrian officers will be held tomorrow night at the regular monthly meeting of the organization in the Commercial club at 6:15.

All members of the council of Nobles, including Lord Governor Wood, which is vice-president, Chancellor of the Rolls, secretary, Keeper of the Orchard, treasurer, King's Jester, sergeant at arms and the King Bing, the head of the club will come in for a change, together with the King's Cabinet bearing such titles as Duke of Lambert, Queen Anne's Constor, Archbishop of Rickreall, Marquis of Maraschina and Earl of Waldo.

The purpose of the organization, formed ten years ago is to promote good fellowship, sociability and boost Oregon and Marion county. In this connection, during the ten years of its existence, the Cherrians as a marching organization, have made two trips to the Pendleton Roundup, eight to the Portland Rose Show, and a number of visits to towns and throughout the state, and with the band have succeeded in winning a large number of prizes.

As the publicity department of the Commercial club the Cherrians aided in making "Blossom Day", now an annual event, a success and have sent their members, during the summer, to visit auto tourists at the camp grounds with a view to showing them the advantages of Marion county.

All nominations will be made from the floor tomorrow night. Installation of the officers taking place at a banquet on January 3, place at a banquet for six keepers of the orchard for the last years, will be retired to the list of Lords of the Manor to which kings are retired automatically. Names of previous King Bings shows that the organization has been headed by leading men of the community. In their order they are: George F. Rogers, Milton Meyers, F. G. Beckebach, T. B. Kay, William Lorchin, Hal Patton, P. E. Fullerton, C. B. Ciancer, and C. E. Knowland.

"Four Horsemen" Supreme As Film

$1,000,000 Rex Ingram Production of Ibanes Story an Epic Achievement.

RUDOLPH VALENTINO as JULIO in THE FOUR HORSEMEN of the APOCALYPSE

An epic tale of surging passion sweeping from the wire plains of the Argentine through the fascinating frivolities of pre-war Paris into the blazing turmoil of the German invasion of northern France was unfolded last night at the Liberty Theatre. It was the first showing of "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse," the $1,000,000 Rex Ingram production made for Metro, which has been the screen sensation of New York, Chicago, Boston, Pittsburgh, Detroit and Los Angeles. The picture, adapted by June Mathis from the great novel of Vicente Blasco Ibanes, has intensified the dramatic force of the original story and last night it held the spectators breathlessly intent as with swift, sure strokes it hammered home the terror and grandeur of the war—and a great deal of the humor and light-hearted gaiety that kept bubbling up through the turbid stream of struggling humanity when the world was in arms.

The director, Rex Ingram, has succeeded in concentrating the great struggle in a series of unforgettable pictures that flash out the quintessence of life at white heat. He makes us see above the struggle the awesome figures of the four horsemen, Conquest, War, Famine and Death, prophesied by St. John in the Book of Apocalypse, charging into our very hearts. And through it all is the deeply human, deeply moving spectacle of intensely real people in their baffled attempts to readjust themselves to the demands of war days. In this picture the war is realized on a gigantic scale, with a greatness of imagination that dwarfs all other ambitious attempts that the screen has seen. "The Four Horsemen" is the fulfillment of the promise of a noble art in pictures.

Rex Ingram was assisted in making the picture by Walter Mayo, the photographer was John Seltz and the technical directors were Amos Myers and Joseph Calder. In the cast that included 50 principals and 2500 extras, the performances that stood out with most marked brilliancy were those of Rudolph Valentino, Alice Terry, Pomeroy Cannon, Joseph Swickard, Brinley Shaw, Alan Hale, Bridgetta Clark, Mabel Van Buren, John Sainpolis, Nigel de Bruiler, Virginia Warwick, Derek Ghent, Stuart Holmes and Edward Connolly.

Black Walnut Coming Tree Reed Insists

Because it grows so swiftly, the black walnut tree is to be used in the future very extensively for grafting purposes, according to C. A. Reed, chief of the nut inspection department of the United States department of horticulture, who today addressed Salem business men and farmers at their regular noon luncheon at the Salem Commercial club.

An exhaustive discourse on nuts of all kinds was given by Mr. Reed, who illustrated his lecture with colored slides.

The largest crowd ever gathered for the Monday noon luncheon was present today and it was necessary for extra plates to be laid. It was estimated that no less than 100 were in attendance.

What's New On The Market

By Rex Stewart

Eggs took a big slump Saturday, dropping to 42 cents wholesale and as low as 50 cents retail, with the announcement that the Portland market was going down. The local market usually drops faster than the larger markets for the reason that shippers must fix their prices below those of Portland to make a profit. The highest price offered to farmers this morning was 45 cents and the price to consumers ranged from 50 to 53 cents.

The first Japanese oranges of the season are on the market at 30 cents a dozen. The consumer must trust to luck, however, for their sweetness.

With the receipt of a large shipment, oranges and lemons were reduced in wholesale prices this morning, the prices being $6 a case on each. Little change will be experienced in the retail price it is thought.

Tigert Pleads for Square Deal for County Children

Washington, Dec. 5.—The greatest need in education in the United States today is "a square deal for the county child." John J. Tigert, commissioner of education, declared today in a statement issued in connection with the opening of "American education week." While no child is denied an education in America, he said "the opportunity is by no means equal."

Kurtz Resigns As Manager of Producers Plant

Fred A. Kurtz, general manager of the Producers Canning & Packing company, announced his resignation from the company, this morning.

The company was organized last April with 150 members and with a total of 1800 acres including 300 acres of loganberries, 100 acres of cherries, 200 acres of strawberries and 1200 acres of prunes, exclusive of about 50 acres of small fruits and a large amount in blackberries.

The pack of the company this year estimated in tons includes 800 tons of loganberries, 100 tons of cherries, 100 tons of pears, 900 tons of blackberries, 1,000 tons of apples, 150 of strawberries and 210 tons of prunes.

According to Mr. Kurtz the entire pack has been marketed at a price of over $400,000 and there is $100,000 for distribution among the members at present.

The pay roll of the cannery which finished its pack Saturday amounted to about $2,000 a week.
